pulls a student out of class to be a victim of drunk driving in a program called Every 15 Minutes Montana Miller observes the ritual through a folklorist s lens Playing Dead examines why hundreds of American schools and communities each year organize these mock tragedies without any national sponsorship or coordination Often the event is complete with a staged accident in the parking lot a life flight helicopter and faux eulogies for the dead students read in school assemblies

Grounding her research in play theory frame theory and theory of folk drama Miller investigates key aspects of this emergent tradition paying particular attention to its unplanned elements enabled by the performance s spontaneous nature and the participants tendency to stray from the intended frame Miller examines such variations in terms of the program as a whole analyzing its continued popularity and weighing its success as perceived by participants Her fieldwork reveals a surprising aspect of Every 15 Minutes that typical studies of ritual do not include It can be fun Playing Dead is volume two of the series Ritual Festival and Celebration edited by Jack Santino Media Spectacle and the Crisis of Democracy Douglas

Kellner,2015-12-03 Douglas Kellner s Media Spectacle and the Crisis of Democracy 9 11 the War on Iraq and Election 2004 investigates the role of the media in the momentous political events of the past four years Beginning with the role of the media in contested election of 2000 Kellner examines how corporate media ownership and concentration linked with a rightward shift of establishment media have disadvantaged the Democrats and benefited George W Bush and the Republicans Exploring the role of media spectacle in the 9 11 attacks and subsequent Terror War in Afghanistan and Iraq

Kellner documents the centrality of media politics in advancing foreign policy agendas and militarism Building on his analysis in Media Spectacle Routledge 2003 Kellner demonstrates in detail how conflicting political forces ranging from Al Qaeda to the Bush administration construct media spectacles to advance their politics Two chapters critically engage the role of the media in the buildup to the Iraq war and the media centric nature of Bush s Iraq invasion and occupation Final chapters delineate the role of the media in the highly contested and significant 2004 election campaign that many believe to be one of the key political struggles of the contemporary era Criticizing Bush s unilateralism Kellner argues for a multilateral and cosmopolitan globalization and the need for democratic media to help overcome the current crisis of democracy in the United States

Cauchi,2018-05-31 Explores a growing number of films and filmmakers that challenge the strict boundaries between belief and unbelief For some time now thinkers across the humanities and social sciences have increasingly called into question the once dominant view of the relationship between modernity and secularism prompting some to speak of a postsecular turn Until now film studies has largely been silent about this development even though cinema itself has been a major vehicle for such reflection This fact became inescapable in 2011 when Terrence Malick s The Tree of Life and Lars von Trier s Melancholia were released within days of each other While these two audacious and controversial films present seemingly opposite perspectives the former a thoughtful meditation on faith the latter a portrayal of nontriumphalist atheism together they raise critical questions about transcendence and immanence in modern life These films are however only the most conspicuous of a growing body of works that call forth similar and related questions what this collection aptly calls postsecular cinema Taking the nearly simultaneous release of The Tree of Life and Melancholia as its starting point and framing device this pioneering collection sets out to establish the idea of postsecular cinema as a distinct body of films and a viable critical category Adopting a film philosophy approach one group of essays examines Malick's and von Trier's films while another looks at works by Chantal Akerman Denys Arcand the Dardenne brothers and John Michael McDonagh among others The volume closes with two important interviews with Luc Dardenne and Jean Luc Nancy that invite us to reflect more deeply on some of the central concerns of postsecular cinema
