Christian Green,Muhammed Haron,2020-06-03 This volume explores themes of ecotheology ecofeminism environmental pollution and degradation climate change human and environmental rights sustainable development human animal relations through totem and taboo sacred sites and spaces and other environmental topics in ways that add immeasurably to the study of African environmentalisms and the interaction of law and religion In terms of religion the capability of humans not only to sin and destroy the earth but also to repair and redeem it is very much in evidence across Christianity Islam and Africa s many indigenous religious and cultural traditions In terms of law the need for effective policies and for states and governments to work with indigenous groups and communities towards environmental solutions is also apparent Wild Edens Joseph James Shomon,1998 Africa s great game parks house thousands of the world s most incredible wildlife including the elephant rhino zebra and gorilla but along with this beauty comes a desperate struggle for existence This living legacy faces the possibility of becoming extinct because of ignorance and apathy In Wild Edens Africa s Premier Game Parks and Their Wildlife longtime conservationist and seasoned African traveler Joseph James Shomon journeys through the wild African scene revealing its magnificence and mystique and wonderfully describes the game parks location ecology and irreplaceable wildlife From the summit of Kilimanjaro Africa s highest mountain the author surveys the marvelous Edens of East Africa among the last Pleistocene like concentrations of animals left in the world today Descending Shomon gives a firsthand account of the great sanctuaries providing a knowledgeable escort on safari in the scrublands of Tsavo where elephants are imperiled He continues on to the Ark at Aberdares where visitors can watch under floodlights of a watchtower rain forest animals come to feed to the rain forests of Mount Kenya and to the Serengeti and Mara Plains with their great migrating herds besieged by predators and thwarted in their journeys by swollen rivers and flooded lakes The journey continues through the Great Rift Valley and Olduvai Gorge to Lake Manyara with its tree climbing lions Ngorongoro Crater Samburu and Meru where the rhino is threatened the waterways of Uganda the Mountains of the Moon the Kalahari Desert and the wildlife sanctuaries of South Africa ending the tour at the Cape of Good Hope Shomon argues that the plethora of impersonal technology and excessive mechanization as well as the world s focus on violence social ills and discord on our domestic front consume the world s energies leaving little interest for safeguarding and conserving Africa s wild edens Shomon s engaging and informative text complemented with attractive photographs and pen and ink drawings encourages those interested in Africa and its wildlife to visit the cradle of our ancestral beginnings and to take an active role in its preservation and conservation

Ngecha Carolyn P. Edwards, Beatrice Blyth Whiting, 2004-01-01 Ngecha is the monumental and intimate study of modernization and nationalization in rural Africa in the early years following Kenyan independence in 1963, as experienced by the people of Ngecha, a village outside Nairobi. From 1968 to 1973, Ngecha was a research site of the Child Development Research Unit, a team that brought together Kenyan and non-Kenyan social scientists under the leadership of John Whiting and Beatrice Blyth Whiting. The study documents how families adapted to changing opportunities and conditions as their former colony became a modern nation and the key role that women played as agents of change as they became small-scale cash crop farmers and entrepreneurs. Mothers modified the culture of their parents to meet the evolving national economy, and they participated in the shift from an agrarian to a wage economy in ways that transformed their workloads and perceptions of isolation and individualism within and between households, thereby challenging traditional family-based morals and obligations. Their children, in turn, experienced evolving educational practices and achievement expectations. The elders faced new situations as well as new modes of treatment. Completing this valuable record of a nation in transition are the long-term reassessments of the observations and conclusions of the research team and a description of Ngecha today as viewed by Kenyans who participated in the original study.

Writing for Kenya Wangari Muoria-Sal, John Lonsdale, Derek Peterson, 2009-05-20 Henry Muoria (1914-1997), self-taught journalist and pamphleteer, helped to inspire Kenya's nationalisms before Mau Mau. The pamphlets reproduced here in Gikuyu and English contrast his own originality with the conservatism of Jomo Kenyatta, Kenya's first President. The contributing editors introduce Muoria's political context, tell how three remarkable women sustained his family's life, and remember him as father, courageous intellectual, political, and domestic life here intertwined.
