Department of Education,2017 Low-Income Students, Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa Melanie Walker,Monica McLean,2022-07-15

This book explores learning outcomes for low income rural and township youth at five South African universities The book is framed as a contribution to southern and Africa centred scholarship adapting Amartya Sen s capability approach and a framework of key concepts capabilities functionings context conversion factors poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non cognitive outcomes for students from low income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship Based on capability theorising and student voices the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study the inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed Low Income Students Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capabilitarian scholarship conceptually in theorising a South based multi dimensional student well being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in depth mixed methods research on students lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa The audience for the book includes higher education researchers international capabilitarian scholars practitioners and policy makers Annual Report South Africa. Department of Mineral Resources,2016 Annual Report South Africa. Department of Social Development,2016 Responsible Research Practice Norma RA Romm,2018-04-21 This book explores ways in which creative research practice can be explicitly and mindfully geared to make a difference to the quality of social and ecological existence It offers a range of examples of how different research methods can be employed and re tuned with this intention The book suggests that what Romm names active research involves using the research space responsibly to open up new avenues for thinking and acting on the part of those involved in the inquiry and wider stakeholders The book includes a discussion of a range of epistemological ontological methodological and axiological positions or paradigms that can be embraced by inquirers implicitly or explicitly It details the contours of an epistemology where knowing is recognized to be grounded in social relations as a matter of ethics While focusing on discussing the transformative paradigm and attendant view of research ethics it considers to what extent the borders between paradigms can be treated as being permeable in creative and active inquiries Apart from considering options for enhancing responsible research practice during the process of inquiry and reconsidering mixed research designs the book also considers options for responsible theorizing that is inspirational for pursuing goals of social and ecological justice SA Mining ,2003 Annual Performance Plan Mpumalanga (South Africa).
