Systematic Reviews of Research in Basic Education in South Africa Felix Maringe, 2021-04-09 Maringe ought to be commended for putting together an invaluable contribution to our understanding of research into a complex education system in South Africa This volume provides a useful foundation to the current state of education quality in South Africa including the impact of interventions It also brings to the fore challenges still facing education transformation The evidence presented which taken together lays out a coherent view of how improvements could be made Albert Chanee Head of Planning Gauteng Department of Education For too long the weight of educational scholarship produced in South Africa has been limited to that simple and standard form called the literature review Now for the first time education researchers are provided with an African based text on the concepts and methods of conducting systematic reviews In this exceptional work of editorship Felix Maringe brings together some of the leading researchers on South African education to model and demonstrate how to review a significant body of research on a chosen topic which is adjudicated strictly on the basis of the quality and efficacy of the evidence in hand I have no doubt that this remarkable book will become a standard reference for educational researchers in and beyond the African continent It will also lift the quality of educational inquiry by equipping a new generation of scholars with the capacity for doing evidence based research that compels the attention of policymakers planners and practitioners alike Prof Jonathan Jansen Stellenbosch University Annual Report South Africa. Mary Gertrude Clasquin-Johnson, 2013 In 2001 White Paper 5 on Early Childhood Development announced that a year long Reception Year Grade R programme would gradually be phased in at primary schools In addition the Report on the Nationwide Audit of ECD Provisioning noted that the overwhelming majority of ECE teachers are inadequately trained Despite the teachers lack of capacity the national Department of Education introduced the official curriculum the National Curriculum Statement NCS into Grade R classes in 2004 Prior to 2004 there was no official curriculum for Grade R Instead teachers designed their own curricula The NCS by its very imposition is an example of radical curriculum change I undertook a qualitative study from Grade R teachers perspectives in order to illuminate how nine ECE teachers in Gauteng South Africa are responding to this curriculum change My findings are consistent with the four main responses discussed in the literature and on which I based my conceptual framework namely ignore resist adopt and adapt The Grade R teachers in my study viewed the NCS as developmentally inappropriate for their five year old learners Although they manifested all four responses they mainly resisted adopted or adapted curriculum change Their response could best be typified as reluctant compliance After six years of implementation ignoring it completely is no longer a realistic option In addition they either reinterpreted their traditional practices as already compliant with the NCS or they implemented formal academic activities to develop school readiness skills The Grade R teachers in my study had one outstanding characteristic in common they are passionate about their work Overall the teachers reported that the NCS has detracted from their enjoyment of their work In most cases the Grade R teachers noted that they would pursue Foundation Phase posts because of the absence of a career path for Grade R teachers Instructional leadership should be developed to support Grade R teachers to implement the NCS appropriately Once this is in place Grade R teachers need to be convinced of how the NCS could be implemented in developmentally and culturally appropriate ways and how this could benefit their learners
