Mpumalanga Preliminary Question Papers:

Mpumalanga Peter Delius (Historian), Peter Nicholas St. Martin Delius, 2007 Mpumalanga is known for its spectacular landscapes and its teeming game reserves. It also has an extraordinarily rich and vivid history which has not been previously recognized. The South African province's valued heritage and its contribution to tourism, education and economic development remain undeveloped. This ground-breaking study ensures that this province's compelling past lives on in the present. Written by some of South Africa's foremost researchers and richly illustrated with historical and contemporary photographs, the book tells a story that begins with the geological records of the first emergence of life on earth three to five billion years ago and concludes with the dawn of an inclusive democracy in South Africa. Areas covered include geology, archaeology, rock art, traditions of early settlements, frontier conflicts, the South African War, conservation, economic development, the contemporary political struggles in the 20th century and the significance of all of this in the light of contemporary debates over heritage. Annual Report Mpumalanga (South Africa). Department of Education, 2015. The Agrarian Question in South Africa Henry Bernstein, 2014-01-21. This is the first collection of its kind. It presents a critical political economy of the agrarian question in post-apartheid South Africa, informed by the results of research undertaken since the transition from apartheid started in 1990. The articles by well-known South African, British and American scholars cover a variety of topical, theoretical, empirical and policy issues firmly rooted in an historical perspective. Land, Law and Chiefs in Rural South Africa William Beinart, Rosalie Kingwill, Gavin Capps, 2021-05-01. This edited collection illustrates contestations over land and political authority in South Africa's rural areas, focusing on threats to popular rights and how they are being supported. Who controls the land and minerals in the former Bantustans of South Africa: the state or landholders? Disputes are taking place around the ownership of resources, decisions about their exploitation and who should benefit. With respect to all of these issues, the courts have become increasingly important. The contributors to Land, Law and Chiefs in Rural South Africa capture some of these intense contestations over land, law and political authority, focussing on threats to the rights of ordinary people. History and customary law feature strongly in most disputes, and succession to chieftaincy is also frequently disputed. Judges have to make decisions in a context where rival claimants to property or office assert their own versions of history and custom. The South African constitution recognizes customary law, and the courts are attempting to incorporate and develop this branch of jurisprudence as living customary law. Lawyers, community leaders and academics are called on to assist in researching cases around restitution, land rights and customary law. The chapters in this collection discuss legal cases and policy directions that have evolved since 1994. Some chapters analyze the increasing power of chiefs in the South African rural areas, while others suggest that the courts are giving support to popular rights over land and supporting local democratic processes. Contributors record significant pushback from groups that reject traditional authority. These political tensions are a central theme of the collection and thus serve as vital case studies in furthering our understanding of rights and restitution in South Africa

Rethinking Learner Support in Distance Education Roger

Mills, Alan Tait, 2004-08-02 Distance learning is becoming an increasingly popular way of studying and most universities now provide courses using these methods Today's students though are demanding high quality consumer focused and flexible courses as well as learning resources and active learner support This means that providers of distance education need to reconsider key issues about their learner support systems ensuring that this is delivered appropriately and effectively Considering the changing needs and demands of distance education students this book draws together contributions from the UK USA Hong Kong Australia Japan South Africa and Botswana to offer an international perspective on the challenges and opportunities of Information and Communication Technologies ICT quality assurance commercialisation and the learner as consumer the impact on learners of cultural differences on internationalised curricula the implications for learner support of a wider range of learners This book should be read by all those involved in developing and delivering distance education courses Africa Insight, 2004 The Economics of Water Management in Southern Africa Glenn-Marie Lange, Rashid M. Hassan, Jaap Arntzen, Jackie Crawford, Eric Mungatana, 2007-01-01 This book presents a valuable new tool for water management water resource accounting which significantly advances the economic analysis of water Water resource accounts integrate detailed information about water supply and use with national income accounts to show the economic use of water costs and tariffs paid and the economic value of water for different economic uses Based on the UN's handbook for environmental accounting this book describes the implementation and policy application of water accounts in three African countries Botswana Namibia and South Africa and discusses how they have been used by water managers The book compares water use across the three countries explaining the differences in water resources and water policy In addition to the comprehensive outline of physical and monetary water accounts for each country the authors provide an extensive discussion of water valuation as well as addressing a number of issues of regional importance including water accounting for an international river basin and the impact of trade on each country's water use By demonstrating the usefulness of water resource accounts this book makes a major contribution to the literature on water economics and management sustainable development and to the development of environmental accounting in general The Economics of Water Management in Southern Africa will appeal to a wide readership including environmental and development economists NGOs concerned with sustainable development environmental advocacy groups professionals economists and environmentalists working in Africa on water and sustainable development issues water professionals national accounts experts and statisticians

Interpellations, Questions and Replies of the National Assembly South Africa. Parliament (1994- ). National Assembly, 1996 No More Tears Richard Levin, Daniel Weiner, 1997 This text demonstrates why incorporating extensive knowledge that exists in poor rural areas into development of land and reform policies is essential for truly democratic social and economic transformation Agrekon, 1995 Animal Rights in South Africa Michelè Pickover, 2005 The approach
