

Mr. Pip Chapter Summaries

Chapter 4 20-

The extreme dark of the island at night. Matilda discovers that you can escape into your head by reading a book. Theme: the power of literature and story, can travel anywhere, become a new person, explore new worlds, learn new words, Mr Watts uses voices, he escapes too as he tells the story. Matilda feels she shares things in common with Pip e.g. both had lost their fathers. Mother is disapproving when she hears about Pip stealing pie for Magwitch. Wants to hear more about what they are being taught. Mr. Watts doesn't know much about other subjects outside of the book. Mr. Watts decides to invite parents to classroom.

Chapter 5 26-

Mabel's mum tells about the lifecycle of the heart seed. Matilda enjoys making her mother wait to hear the next instalment of the story. Loves new words e.g. 'It was a rimy morning'. Raises her hand in class for the first time. Children amazed by the thought of cold. Matilda tells how her name came from the Australians at the mine. Mother doesn't ask for any more instalments "worried she would lose her Matilda to Victorian England." 30 Theme: culture clash, power of literature. Changes in Matilda.

Chapter 6 31- The war comes closer

Villagers hide as redskin helicopters hover over the village. Then they return to normal routines. Gilbert is embarrassed by his large mother, Mrs. Masoi, who comes to school and talks about cooking. Mr. Watts treats everyone with courtesy and care. Redskin helicopters land and slaughter animals while villagers hide. A dog called 'Black' has been split open with a machete. "Now we knew what a human being split open would look like." 34 The indifference of the natural world – "The great shame of the trees is they have no conscience. They just keep on staring." 34 The blockade has to be faced with 'patience'. Dolores comes to the class with 'an air of defiance' 36 in clothes and body language. 'she appeared to be angry most of the time' 36 comes to talk about faith. 'Faith is like oxygen. It keeps you afloat at all times.' She says you must practise it. She quotes from the Bible for her 'no sentence in the world more beautiful "and God said, Let there be light: and there was light" (Light/Dark motif). Matilda writes Pip above the high water mark in the sand. Her mother is a mystery to her. 40 the same space Pip squeezes into between his awful sister and the loveable Joe Gargery of Mr. Watts and Dolores. Matilda: 'I knew I would have to choose between the two.'

Chapter 7 41

Dolores tries to interest Matilda in her family history. She calls Mr. Watts the 'offspring of a shining cuckoo' –i.e. sees him as a destroyer of family, a nest robber. She hates him because he is white and holds whites responsible for all their troubles e.g. the blockade, the damage caused by the mine, the loss of her husband, the stealing of children's loyalties and now they were refusing to help end the blockade.

Chapter 8 43 -

Range of opinion on the conflict. Mention of environmental and economic effects of the mine. Some sympathy for rebel cause but most wanting it to end. Death of babies because on no drugs. Islanders have to rely on nature to survive/eat. Matilda has hope because Pip does. 'In GE we learned that life

Mazzeno, 2014-03-06 Victorian literature s fascination with the past its examination of social injustice and its struggle to deal with the dichotomy between scientific discoveries and religious faith continue to fascinate scholars and contemporary readers During the past hundred years traditional formalist and humanist criticism has been augmented by new critical approaches including feminism and gender studies psychological criticism cultural studies and others In Twenty First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature twelve scholars offer new assessments of Victorian poetry novels and nonfiction Their essays examine several major authors and works and introduce discussions of many others that have received less scholarly attention in the past General reviews of the current status of Victorian literature in the academic world are followed by essays on such writers as Charles Dickens Alfred Tennyson Thomas Hardy and the Bront sisters These are balanced by essays that focus on writing by women the development of the social problem novel and the continuity of Victorian writers with their Romantic forebears Most importantly the contributors to this volume approach Victorian literature from a decidedly contemporary scholarly angle and write for a wide audience of specialists and non specialists alike Their essays offer readers an idea of how critical commentary in recent years has influenced and in some cases changed radically our understanding of and approach to literary study in general and the Victorian period in particular Hence scholars teachers and students will find the volume a useful survey of contemporary commentary not just on Victorian literature but also on the period as a whole

Charles Dickens: A Very Short Introduction Jenny Hartley, 2019-02-15 Charles Dickens is credited with creating some of the world's best known fictional characters and is widely regarded as the greatest novelist of the Victorian age Even before reading the works of Dickens many people have met him already in some form or another His characters have such vitality that they have leapt from his pages to enjoy flourishing lives of their own The Artful Dodger Miss Havisham Scrooge Fagin Mr Micawber and many many more His portrait has been in our pockets on our ten pound notes he is a national icon indeed himself a generator of what Englishness signifies In this Very Short Introduction Jenny Hartley explores the key themes running through Dickens's corpus of works and considers how they reflect his attitudes towards the harsh realities of nineteenth century society and its institutions such as the workhouses and prisons Running alongside this is Dickens's relish of the carnivalesque if there is a prison in almost every novel there is also a theatre She considers Dickens's multiple lives and careers as magazine editor for two thirds of his working life as travel writer and journalist and his work on behalf of social causes including ragged schools and fallen women She also shows how his public readings enthralled the readers he wanted to reach but also helped to kill him Finally Hartley considers what we mean when we use the term Dickensian today and how Dickens's enduring legacy marks him out as a novelist different in kind from others

Dickens's Great Expectations Jerome Meckier,2021-10-21 Dickens scholar Jerome Meckier s acclaimed Hidden Rivalries in Victorian Fiction examined fierce literary competition between leading novelists who tried to establish their credentials as realists by rewriting Dickens s novels Here Meckier argues that in Great Expectations Dickens not only updated David Copperfield but also rewrote novels by Lever Thackeray Collins Shelley and Charlotte and Emily Bront He periodically revised his competitors themes characters and incidents to discredit their novels as unrealistic fairy tales imbued with Cinderella motifs Dickens darkened his fairy tale perspective by replacing Cinderella with the story of Misnar s collapsible pavilion from The Tales of the Genii a popular pseudo oriental collection The Misnar analogue supplied a corrective for the era s Cinderella complex a warning to both Haves and Have nots and a basis for Dickens s tragicomic view of the world

modern city Charles Dickens explored both the chaos and the unexpected harmony to be found in rented spaces the loneliness and sociability the interactions between cohabitants the complex gender dynamics at play and the relationship between space and money Charles Dickens and the Properties of Fiction demonstrates that a cosy secluded home life was beyond the reach of most Victorian Londoners and considers Dickens's nuanced conception of domesticity Tenancy maintained an enduring hold upon his imagination giving him new stories to tell and offering him a set of models to think about authorship He celebrated the fact that unassuming houses brim with narrative potential comedies romances and detective plots take place behind their doors Charles Dickens and the Properties of Fiction The Lodger World wedges these doors open
