Mr Ma And Son:

Mr Ma and Son Lao She, 2022-10-06 A deliciously funny and moving comedy of manners about a Chinese father and son's experiences at the height of London's Jazz Age. He was in London why be bothered looking at it? Wasn't it bad enough just being there? Newly arrived from China, Mr Ma and his son Ma Wei run an antiques shop nestled by St Paul's Cathedral where they try to make a living amid the smog and bustle of 1920s London. As they struggle with money misunderstandings and the ways of the English from the overbearing patronage of missionary Reverend Ely to their well-meaning landlady Mrs Weddeburn and her carefree daughter, can understanding even love blossom? Both a moving story of the Chinese immigrant experience and a biting funny satire on the English, Mr Ma and Son delicately portrays the dreams and disappointments of those seeking a new life in a distant land. Translated by William Dolby with an introduction by Julia Lovell. Mr Ma and Son She Lao, William Dolby, 1987. Mr. Ma & Son She Lao, 1991. Mr. Ma and son in London She Lao, 2005.

Interracial Lovers in Revolutionary China D. E. Mungello, 2023-07-14 In the twentieth century China underwent a monumental dynastic change and was transformed from an outmoded monarchy into a modern communist state. This century of revolutionary change was marked by political upheaval and social chaos. It was a period in which Chinese began to go abroad to study and conduct business while foreigners came to China for economic opportunity and adventure. In the process Chinese and foreigners began to meet and form romantic relationships. These love affairs, fengliu yunshi, are notable because they coincided with the last phase of Western imperialism including its lingering racial prejudices and even laws against interracial sexual relationships. Conversely in China there were periodic outbreaks of hostility and violence against foreigners. This book explores the interracial relationships of twenty-two people who transcended these obstacles to cross color lines and fall in love. 王德威, 2005. Renowned for his absurdist re-visioning of the world and experimentation with the techniques of humour in his writings, Lao She has written about most major historical events in modern China. In his masterpiece Camel Xiangzi he reveals his prophetic vision of the future of China. The novel depicts the life of Xiangzi, a young rickshaw puller in Beijing who fails to improve his life no matter how hard he works. When innocent people's hopes are destroyed, they are awakened to the truth that they are but playthings of fate, which is a Chinese concept for the unnameable in life's absurdities. The novel demonstrates the techniques of bitter humour Lao She employs in his portrayal of characters who are caught in the endless social turmoil in the 1930s. The novel's socio-historical dimensions have made it a widely used text for the cultural analysis of modern China. Book jacket. Translingual Practice Lydia He Liu, 1995. After the first chapter which deals with the theoretical issues, ensuing chapters treat particular instances of translingual practice such as national character, individualism, stylistic innovations, first person narration and canon formation. The Poetics of Grief and Melancholy in East-West Conflicts and Reconciliations Chi Sum Garfield Lau, Kelly Kar Yue Chan, 2024-03-01. This book is a collection of academic essays that examines the representation, aesthetics and dichotomy of the notions of grief and melancholy in East West exchanges and cultural dialogues It explores the topic in the dimensions of individual behaviors under specific social norms and cultural products such as literature film and any other forms of arts genres etc In his 1917 work Mourning and Melancholia Trauer und Melancholie Sigmund Freud connected the grief of loss with melancholic emotions which may give rise to acts of mourning He suggested that in mourning it is the world which has become poor and empty in melancholia it is the ego itself Freud 1917 246 Inspired by Freud's stance and with the goal of providing up to date intellectual resources for academics researchers and students with ardent interests in the varying exemplifications of grief and melancholy in Sino Western contexts the book serves more than a discussion over the pragmatic and ritualistic connections of grief and melancholy in relation to the inner self and the external world It aims at the pursuit of a contemporary theorization of grief and melancholy beyond its modern limits 廖亦男, She Lao, 2004 This play portrays the life of the owner of a Beijing teahouse and his customers through 50 years of upheaval in China Spanning from 1898 to the late 1940s scenes change from late Qing dynasty to the early days of the Republic then after to post 1945 when Guomindang soldiers take over the city Bible in Modern China Irene Eber, Sze-Kar Wan, Knut Walf, Roman Malek, 2024-12-15 The volume presents the contributions of an international workshop held in Jerusalem in 1996 It includes a general index with glossary

The Happy Hsiungs Diana Yeh, 2014-03-01 Try Something Different Something Really Chinese The Happy Hsiungs recovers the lost histories of Shih I and Dymia Hsiung two once highly visible but now largely forgotten Chinese writers in Britain who sought to represent China and Chineseness to the rest of the world Shih I shot to worldwide fame with his play Lady Precious Stream in the 1930s and became known as the first Chinese director to work in the West End and on Broadway Dymia was the first Chinese woman in Britain to publish a fictional autobiography in English Diana Yeh traces the Hsiungs' lives from their childhood in Qing dynasty China and youth amid the radical May Fourth era to Britain and the USA where they rubbed shoulders with George Bernard Shaw James M Barrie H G Wells Pearl Buck Lin Yutang Anna May Wong and Paul Robeson In recounting the Hsiungs' rise to fame Yeh focuses on the challenges they faced in becoming accepted as modern subjects as knowledge of China and the Chinese was persistently framed by colonial legacies and Orientalist discourses which often determined how their works were shaped and understood She also shows how Shih I and Dymia in negotiating acceptance performed not only specific forms of Chineseness but identities that conformed to modern ideals of class gender and sexuality defined by the heteronormative nuclear family Though featured as The Happy Hsiungs their lives ultimately highlight a bitter struggle in attempts to become modern In the 1930s China became briefly fashionable again after decades of Fu Manchu style demonising This switch coincided with the rise of anti fascism in the West and a new visibility of Chinese art In a path breaking contribution to the study of artistic production by British Chinese Yeh recovers the Hsiungs' forgotten history their role in this new China wave and their struggle against hostile stereotyping Shedding light on a history few can have expected the book shows high narrative skill and the author's strong empathetic imagination brings everything to life Gregor Benton author of Chinese Migrants and Internationalism and The Chinese in Britain Through the riveting story of a successful couple of British Chinese artists the Hsiungs this book contributes to our understanding of the real struggles involved in the acceptance of Chineseness not as a fixed identity governed by unchanging tradition as Western Orientalism would have it but as a resolutely modern performative invention shaped by a confluence of globally circulating hybrid ideas concepts and images Ien Ang author of On Not Speaking Chinese Living Between Asia and the West Thanks to the phenomenal success of his play Lady Precious Stream Shih I Hsiung was a household name in the US and UK during the 1930s Diana Yeh explores the Hsiungs role in representing China and Chineseness to the rest of the world forcing us to rethink our vision of the British Chinese as invisible and insular with little social cultural or political impact on wider society Anne Witchard author of Lao She in London and Thomas Burke s Dark Chinoiserie The story of Shih I and Dymia Hsiung fills a gap in our understanding of the Chinese experience in England and highlights how very different it is from that in America Yeh does a remarkable job in unravelling the relationship between the Hsiungs the couple who landed in London in the 1930s and the Hsiungs as personas constructs designed to suit as well as to subvert British tastes for and preconceptions of Chineseness Ronald Egan Professor of East Asian Languages and Cultures Stanford University

Cartooning China Amy Matthewson, 2022-03-17 This book explores the series of cartoons of China and the Chinese that were published in the popular British satirical magazine Punch over a sixty year period from 1841 to 1901 Filled with political metaphors and racial stereotypes these illustrations served as a powerful tool in both reflecting and shaping notions and attitudes towards China at a tumultuous time in Sino British history A close reading of both the visual and textual satires in Punch reveals how a section of British society visualised and negotiated with China as well as Britain s position in the global community By contextualising Punch s cartoons within the broader frameworks of British socio cultural and political discourse the author engages in a critical enquiry of popular culture and its engagements with race geopolitical propaganda and public consciousness With a wide array of illustrations this book in the Global Perspectives in Comics Studies series will be an important resource for scholars and researchers of cultural studies political history and Empire Chinese studies popular culture Victoriana as well as media studies It will also be of interest to readers who want to learn more about Punch its history and Sino British relations

Lao She and the Chinese Revolution Ranbir Vohra, 2020-03-17 By exhaustively analyzing Lao She s literary writings Vohra traces the development of his political consciousness and convictions Answers are sought for crucial questions Why did Lao She drift to a leftist position Why did he return voluntarily to China Why did he become disenchanted with the authoritarian regime And why did he commit suicide Besides being an introduction to the life and works of Lao She this book contributes to a greater understanding of the nature of the social and political change in twentieth century China

Intercultural Communication with China Fred Dervin, Regis Machart, 2017-05-15 A major objective of this book is to identify the key determinants of the East and the West in the field of intercultural communication

It examines but also counter attacks essentialist and culturalist analyses of intercultural communication between China and the rest of the world Offering a cross country examination and comparison of drought awareness and experience this book shows two fields of research which are complementary but rarely found side by side i e the Arts and Intercultural Encounters serve as illustrations for theoretical and methodological discussions about intercultural communication between China and the West Scholarly and media discourses will find this work thought provoking instructive and informative The Caravan 2018 Delhi Press Magazine,2018-08-07 The country s first and only publication devoted to narrative journalism The Caravan occupies a singular position among Indian magazines It is a new kind of magazine for a new kind of reader one who demands both style and substance Since its relaunch in January 2010 the magazine has earned a reputation as one of the country s most sophisticated publications a showcase for the region s finest writers and a distinctive blend of rigorous reporting incisive criticism and commentary stunning photo essays and gripping new fiction and poetry Its commitment to great storytelling has earned it the respect of readers from around the world India s best English language magazine The Guardian London For those with an interest in India it has become an absolute must read The New Republic Washington The Caravan fills a niche in the Indian media that has remained vacant for far too long catering to the intellectually curious and aesthetically refined reader who seeks a magazine of exceptional quality The Literary Year-book ,1912 Fictional Realism in Twentieth-century China Dewei Wang,1992 Although deconstruction has become a popular catchword as an intellectual movement it has never entirely caught on within the university For some in the academy deconstruction and Jacques Derrida in particular are responsible for the demise of accountability in the study of literature Countering these facile dismissals of Derrida and deconstruction Herman Rapaport explores the incoherence that has plagued critical theory since the 1960s and the resulting legitimacy crisis in the humanities Against the backdrop of a rich informed discussion of Derrida s writings and how they have been misconstrued by critics and admirers alike The Theory Mess investigates the vicissitudes of Anglo American criticism over the past thirty years and proposes some possibilities for reform The Early Modern Travels of Manchu Mårten Söderblom Saarela,2020-06-19 A linguistic and historical study of the Manchu script in the early modern world Manchu was a language first written down as part of the Qing state building project in Northeast Asia in the early seventeenth century After the Qing invasion of China in 1644 and for the next two and a half centuries Manchu was the language of state in one of the early modern world s great powers Its prominence and novelty attracted the interest of not only Chinese literati but also foreign scholars Yet scholars in Europe and Japan and occasionally even within China itself were compelled to study the language without access to a native speaker Jesuit missionaries in Beijing sent Chinese books on Manchu to Europe where scholars struggled to represent it in an alphabet compatible with Western pedagogy and printing technology In southern China meanwhile an isolated phonologist with access to Jesuit books relied on expositions of the Roman alphabet to make sense of the Manchu script When Chinese textbooks and dictionaries of Manchu

eventually reached Japan scholars there used their knowledge of Dutch to understand Manchu In The Early Modern Travels of Manchu M rten S derblom Saarela focuses on outsiders both within and beyond the Qing empire who had little interaction with Manchu speakers but took an interest in the strange new language of a rising world power He shows how through observation inference and reference to received ideas on language and writing intellectuals in southern China Russia France Chos n Korea and Tokugawa Japan deciphered the Manchu script and explores the uses to which it was put for recording sounds and arranging words

Architecture and the Landscape of Modernity in China before 1949 Edward Denison, 2017-02-17 This book explores China s encounter with architecture and modernity in the tumultuous epoch before Communism an encounter that was mediated not by a singular notion of modernism emanating from the west but that was uniquely multifarious deriving from a variety of sources both from the west and importantly from the east The heterogeneous origins of modernity in China are what make its experience distinctive and its architectural encounters exceptional These experiences are investigated through a re evaluation of established knowledge of the subject within the wider landscape of modern art practices in China The study draws on original archival and photographic material from different artistic genres and architecturally concentrates on China s engagement with the west through the treaty ports and leased territories the emergence of architecture as a profession in China and Japan s omnipresence not least in Manchuria which reached its apogee in the puppet state of Manchukuo The study s geographically temporally and architecturally inclusive approach framed by the concept of multiple modernities questions the application of conventional theories of modernity or post colonialism to the Chinese situation By challenging conventional modernist historiography that has marginalised the experiences of the west s other for much of the last century this book proposes different ways of grappling with and comprehending the distinction and complexity of China s experiences and its encounter with architectural modernity
