Story in Children's Lives: Contributions of the Narrative Mode to Early Childhood Development, Literacy, and Learning Kelli Jo Kerry-Moran, Juli-Anna Aerila, 2019-09-27 This book is based on the power of stories to support children in all areas of their lives. It examines the role narratives can play in encouraging growth in contexts and domains such as personal and family identity, creative movement, memory and self-concept, social relationships, or developing a sense of humor. Each chapter describes innovative and research-based applications of narratives such as movement stories, visual narratives to develop historical thinking, multimodal storytelling, bibliotherapy, mathematics stories, family stories, and social narratives. The chapters elaborate on the strength of narratives in supporting the whole child in diverse contexts, from young children on the autism spectrum improving their social skills at school to four and five-year-olds developing historical thinking to children who are refugees or asylum seekers dealing with uncertainty and loss. Written by accomplished teachers, researchers, specialists, teaching artists, and teacher educators from several countries and backgrounds, the book fills a gap in the literature on narratives. This work delves into the topic of narratives in young children's lives with a breadth of topics and depth of study not found elsewhere. Collectively, the insights of the contributors build a convincing case for emphasizing story across the various disciplines and developmental domains of the early childhood years. The writing style is scholarly yet accessible. Authors used a wide array of visual material to make their points clearer and show the reader what meaningful uses of story look like. Mary Renck Jalongo, Journal and Book Series Editor, Springer, Indiana, PA, USA. Doing Ethnographic Research Kimberly Kirner, Jan Mills, SAGE Publications, Inc., 2019-09-05 This workbook is loaded with exercises, how-to sections, and checklists all designed to serve as a supplemental support for students to apply the principles and concepts learned from the textbook it accompanies. With instructions and explanations written in a conversational style, it will help the student understand why the assignments are being used, why the skills they are developing are relevant, and how the exercises relate to the textbook content. The Power of Visuals: Innovations in Communication Design Prof. Hannakumari Chauhan, 2023-06-15 Uncover the power of visuals in communication design, exploring innovative approaches and tools that enhance visual storytelling. This book is essential for designers seeking to create compelling and effective visual content. Cognitive Science and the New Testament István Czachesz, 2017 Over the last few decades, our knowledge of how the human mind and brain works has increased dramatically. The field of cognitive science enables us to understand religious traditions, rituals, and visionary experiences in novel ways. This has implications for the study of the New Testament and early Christianity. How people in the ancient Mediterranean world remembered sayings and stories, what they experienced when participating in rituals, how they thought about magic and miracle, and how they felt and reasoned about moral questions—all of that can be now better understood with the help of insights from cognitive science. István Czachesz argues that the field of New Testament Studies witnesses the beginning of a cognitive turn. He surveys relevant developments in the Cognitive Science of Religion and explores the field of cognitive and behavioral sciences in search of opportunities of gaining new insights about biblical materials Czachesz presents some methodological tools and initial steps together with a large number of examples of applying the cognitive approach to the New Testament and related ancient literature

The Oxford Handbook of Early Christian Ritual Risto Uro, Juliette Day, Rikard Roitto, Richard E. DeMaris, 2019 The Handbook provides an indispensable account of the ritual world of early Christianity from the beginning of the movement up to the end of the sixth century

Relating Events in Narrative: Typological and contextual perspectives Ruth Aronson Berman, 1994 This follow up volume to the frog story studies book Relating Events in Narrative A Cross Linguistic Developmental Study 1994 is divided into two main parts Part one focuses on crosslinguistic perspectives whilst part two offers a variety of theoretical and methodological perspectives

Narrative Across Media Marie-Laure Ryan, James Ruppert, John W. Bernet, 2004-01-01 Narratology has been conceived from its earliest days as a project that transcends disciplines and media The essays gathered here address the question of how narrative migrates mutates and creates meaning as it is expressed across various media Dividing the inquiry into five areas face to face narrative still pictures moving pictures music and digital media Narrative across Media investigates how the intrinsic properties of the supporting medium shape the form of narrative and affect the narrative experience Unlike other interdisciplinary approaches to narrative studies all of which have tended to concentrate on narrative across language supported fields this unique collection provides a much needed analysis of how narrative operates when expressed through visual gestural electronic and musical means In doing so the collection redefines the act of storytelling Although the fields of media and narrative studies have been invigorated by a variety of theoretical approaches this volume seeks to avoid a dominant theoretical bias by providing instead a collection of concrete studies that inspire a direct look at texts rather than relying on a particular theory of interpretation A contribution to both narrative and media studies Narrative across Media is the first attempt to bridge the two disciplines

Relating Events in Narrative, Volume 2 Ludo Verhoeven, Sven Stromqvist, 2004-02-13 Relating Events in Narrative Volume 2 Typological and Contextual Perspectives edited by Sven Stromqvist and Ludo Verhoeven is the much anticipated follow up volume to Ruth Berman and Dan Slobin s successful frog story studies book Relating Events in Narrative A Crosslinguistic Developmental Study 1994 Working closely with Ruth Berman and Dan Slobin the new editors have brought together a wide range of scholars who inspired by the 1994 book have all used Mercer Mayer's Frog Where Are You as a basis for their research. The new book which is divided into two parts features a broad linguistic and cultural diversity. Contributions focusing on crosslinguistic perspectives make up the first part of the book. This part is concluded by Dan Slobin with an analysis and overview discussion of factors of linguistic typology in frog story research. The second part offers a variety of theoretical and methodological perspectives all dealing with contextual variation of narrative construction in a wide sense: variation across medium, modality, speech, writing, signing, genre, variation of the specific frog story narrative compared to other genres, frog story narrations from the perspective of theory of mind and from the perspective of bilingualism and second language acquisition. Several of the contributions to the new book manuscript also deal with developmental perspectives but in distinction to the 1994 book that is not the only focused issue. The second part is initiated by Ruth Berman with an analysis of the role of context in developing narrative abilities. The new book represents a rich overview and illustration of recent advances in theoretical and methodological approaches to the crosslinguistic study of narrative discourse. A red thread throughout the book is that crosslinguistic variation is not merely a matter of variation in form but also in content and aspects of cognition. A recurrent perspective on language and thought is that of Dan Slobin's theory of thinking for speaking, an approach to cognitive consequences of linguistic diversity. The book ends with an epilogue by Herbert Clark, Variations on a Ranarian Theme. Out of Order Ross Hockrow, 2015. Most video and film editors understand that the story is central to their work and that editing choices need to serve the telling of that story in the best way possible. What they may not know however are all the valuable techniques to making this craft appear seamless and part of the busy editor's normal workflow. This book takes an approach to editing that both beginners and intermediate editors will find refreshing. While other books approach the topic of editing by teaching the functions of the editing software, this book explains how you can make smart choices and use those functions to affect the story. In the book you'll learn workflow tips, time saving techniques, linear and non-linear theory cutting techniques, enhancing emotion through music and sound effects, leveling and mastering audio, color correction and most importantly the role editing can have on the telling of the story. Additional techniques are shown through multiple step by step videos available on the author's site as well as clips from a documentary the author created on editing.
