General Training Reading Ielts By British Council 2008:

IELTS Collected Papers 2 Lynda B. Taylor, Lynda Taylor, Cyril J. Weir, 2012-02-23 This volume reports research that informs the development of reading and listening assessment in IELTS This volume brings together a set of eight IELTS related research studies four on reading and four on listening conducted between 2005 and 2010 Findings from these studies provide valuable evidence on the validity reliability impact and practicality of the IELTS test they are also instrumental in highlighting aspects needing attention and thus directly inform the continuing evolution of the IELTS reading and listening tests The volume reviews and comments on the specific contribution of each study to the ongoing process of IELTS reading and listening test design and development Washback Research in Language Assessment David Allen, 2025-08-13

Washback is understood as the effect tests have on teaching and learning with positive washback producing intended outcomes and negative washback generating unintended effects By surveying the latest developments in the field and charting future directions this collection offers a comprehensive treatment of research on washback in the field of language assessment The book contains chapters exploring fundamental aspects of washback including the impact by design approach theoretical models validity frameworks research designs and methods Additional chapters examine washback across various assessment contexts covering migration related proficiency tests formative and standards based assessments multilingual and professional language assessments and the role of technology including computer based testing and AI The book also surveys washback research in primary secondary and higher mainstream education and shadow education with a focus on English learning in Asian contexts This book will be of interest to scholars and stakeholders in language testing and assessment educational measurement and applied linguistics English Language and General Studies Education in the United Arab Emirates Christine Coombe, Lana Hiasat, Georgia Daleure, 2022-03-16 This book presents an up to date account of current English language English teaching and General Studies practices in the UAE The chapters written by leading language teacher educators feature theoretical and empirical aspects of teaching learning assessment as well as related research Throughout the book the link between theory and practice is highlighted and exemplified This reader friendly book is suitable for undergraduate and graduate students teachers researchers and administrators of English language and general studies programs in the UAE and beyond who wish to keep abreast of recent developments in the field Text Complexity and Reading Comprehension Tests Erik Castello, 2008 Based on the analysis of a specially compiled corpus of internationally recognized English as a foreign language EFL reading tests at different levels of proficiency this volume explores the relation between the complexity of written texts and the difficulty of reading comprehension tests It brings together linguistic investigations into the text inherent complexity of the tests and a study of the data derived from their administration to groups of Italian university students The study of text complexity draws on corpus linguistics text linguistics and systemic functional linguistics Both quantitative and qualitative analyses are carried out on the language used in the reading texts and in the related tasks that make up the corpus of tests The assessment of test difficulty on the other hand is informed by research on language testing and in particular by findings and methodologies of Classical Test Theory and Item Response Theory Relevant aspects of these theories are used to analyze and interpret both the data obtained from the administration of the tests and the data collected by means of feedback questionnaires completed by test takers The application of such diverse methodologies and the subsequent comparison of the results of the analyses has brought out interesting correlations between text inherent complexity perceived test difficulty and actual test difficulty English Language Proficiency Testing in Asia Lily I-Wen Su, Cyril J. Weir, Jessica R. W. Wu, 2019-11-19 As the demand for English language education grows in Asia there has been a parallel growth in the development and implementation of standardized tests at the local level Offering much needed context on locally produced tests in Asia contributors examine emerging models for English language assessment and the impact these large scale tests have on the teaching and learning of English Chapters address the following well known and developing high stakes tests in different regions across Asia the GEPT the TEPS the VSTEP the CET the EIKEN and TEAP and the ELPA Brought together by world renowned testing assessment scholar Cyril Weir and the Language Training and Testing Center LTTC one of Asia's leading testing institutions based in Taiwan this volume is a useful reference for evaluating developing and validating local tests of English and their societal impact Comprehensive and research based chapters cover historic backgrounds sociocultural contexts test quality international standing and future considerations Ideal for graduate students researchers and scholars in language assessment TESOL TEFL and applied linguistics this book will also be of interest to language teaching professionals language test developers and graduate students in Asian studies and international education intercultural communication and intercultural studies Assessing English Proficiency for University Study J. Read, 2015-01-27 This book focuses on strategies and procedures for assessing the academic language ability of students entering an English medium university so that those with significant needs can have access to opportunities to enhance their language skills Beijing Review, 2007

L2 Writing Assessment Anthony Green, 2022-12-07 This book tackles three choices that face developers of L2 writing assessments defining L2 writing abilities collecting evidence of those abilities usually by getting L2 writers to write something and judging their performance usually by assigning a score or grade to it It takes a historical view of how assessment developers have made those choices how contemporary practices emerged and of alternative techniques that have risen and fallen over time The three sections each tackle one of these choices The first considers the social functions that define L2 writing and assessment the second relates how assessment tasks have adapted to changing conceptions of languages writing and assessment and the third explores how scoring systems have evolved Each section brings the reader up to date with current issues confronting writing assessment both in large scale testing and in language classrooms before considering the new opportunities and challenges of the digital age This book will be of interest to students scholars and
