Principles of Geographical Information Systems Peter A. Burrough, Rachael A. McDonnell, Christopher D. Lloyd, 2015
Fuzzy logic and continuous classification methods are presented as methods for linking the two spatial paradigms.

Charting the Unknown Nicholas R. Chrisman, 2006 Many like Chrisman have since become leaders in GIS related education, research and software engineering. Illustrated with numerous maps, drawings, diagrams and photos, Charting the Unknown's twelve chapters are supplemented with a CD that contains three historic short films showing animated visualization. In addition, the CD contains videotaped interviews and a speech featuring some of the Lab's key figures including Allan Schmidt, former executive director of the Lab; Eric Teicholz, founder and president of Graphic Systems; Jack Dangermond, founder and president of ESRI; Scott Morehouse, director of software development at ESRI, as well as the author.

Principles of Geographical Information Systems for Land Resources Assessment P. A. Burrough, 1986
Geographical information systems are increasingly in demand by environmental resource and planning agencies but the technical principles have been scattered throughout a wide range of disciplines including cartography, spatial statistics and computer science. The first study to gather together and explain these principles, this volume describes the major components of geographical information systems including raster and vector data structures, modules for data input, digital terrain models and methods of spatial analysis, classification and interpolation. In addition, the book provides a much needed critical review of the sources of error in geographical information processing.
