Geography 2015 Pmemo:

Let Geography Die Alison Mountz, Kira Williams, 2025-07-29 An investigative history of the closure of Harvard University's geography program in the mid twentieth century due to homophobia and wider institutional politics Let Geography Die tells the little known and oft misunderstood story of geographical research and education at Harvard University In investigative fashion Alison Mountz and Kira Williams unearth the personal and institutional secrets that drove the sudden closure of Harvard's geography program at the precise moment that it reached its apex At the heart of this narrative are the hidden personal lives of the queer men recruited to build the geography program the same ones who were later blamed for its demise Chief among these figures is Derwent Whittlesey who eventually became Harvard's last lone geography professor once the program he had so successfully built was closed around him The book weaves together several histories at once the enactment of homophobic policies under McCarthyism designed to purge queer people from university campuses and government offices a university president with little regard for the social sciences on a personal mission to dissolve geographic education fierce if failed university politicking to rescue and then resuscitate the program personal queer lives hidden in plain sight on the edge of campus and two contemporary queer political geographers on a mission to memorialize the queer people blamed for society's ills Let Geography Die exposes the truth behind this important story as well as its wider haunting of an entire discipline 75 years later while also restoring the humanity of the central characters involved especially Derwent Whittlesey Heritage, Affect and Emotion Divya P. Tolia-Kelly, Emma Waterton, Steve

Watson, 2016-07-01 Heritage and its economies are driven by affective politics and consolidated through emotions such as pride awe joy and pain In the humanities and social sciences there is a widespread acknowledgement of the limits not only of language and subjectivity but also of visibility and representation Social scientists particularly within cultural geography and cultural studies have recently attempted to define and understand that which is more than representational through the development of theories of affect assemblage post humanism and actor network theory to name a few While there have been some recent attempts to draw these lines of thinking more forcefully into the field of heritage studies this book focuses for the first time on relating heritage with the politics of affect The volume argues that our engagements with heritage are almost entirely figured through the politics of affective registers such as pain loss joy nostalgia pleasure belonging or anger It brings together a number of contributions that collectively and with critical acuity question how researchers working in the field of heritage might begin to discover and describe affective experiences especially those that are shaped and expressed in moments and spaces that can be at times intensely personal intimately shared and ultimately social It explores current theoretical advances that enable heritage to be affected released from conventional understandings of both heritage as objects and objects as representations by opening it up to a range of new meanings emergent and formed in moments of encounter Whilst representational understandings of heritage are by no means made redundant through this agenda they are

destabilized and can thus be judged anew in light of these developments Each chapter offers a novel and provocative contribution provided by an interdisciplinary team of researchers who are thinking theoretically about affect through landscapes practices of commemoration visitor experience site interpretation and other heritage work Local and Regional Development Andy Pike, 2016-07-15 Actors and institutions in localities and regions across the world are seeking prosperity and well being amidst tumultuous and disruptive shifts and transitions generated by an increasingly globalised knowledge intensive capitalism global financial instability volatility and crisis concerns about economic social and ecological sustainability climate change and resource shortages new multi actor and multi level systems of government and governance and a re ordering of the international political economy state austerity and retrenchment and new and reformed approaches to intervention policy and institutions for local and regional development Local and Regional Development provides an accessible critical and integrated examination of local and regional development theory institutions and policy in this changing context Amidst its rising importance the book addresses the fundamental issues of what kind of local and regional development and for whom its purposes principles and values frameworks of understanding approaches and interventions and integrated approaches to local and regional development throughout the world The approach provides a theoretically informed critical analysis of contemporary local and regional development in an international and multi disciplinary context grounded in concrete empirical analysis from experiences in the global North and South It concludes by identifying what might constitute holistic inclusive progressive and sustainable local and regional development and reflecting upon its limits and political renewal Contested City Alissa Walter, 2025-02-04 Contested City offers a history of state society relations in Baghdad exploring how city residents managed through periods of economic growth sanctions and war from the oil boom of the 1950s through the withdrawal of US troops in 2011 Interactions between citizens and their rulers shaped the social fabric and political realities of the city Notably low ranking Ba th party officials functioned as crucial intermediaries deciding how regime policies would be applied Charting the social economic and political transformations of Iraq s capital city Alissa Walter examines how national policies translated into action at the local everyday level With this book Walter reveals how authoritarian governance worked in practice She follows shifts in mid century housing and urban development the impact of the Iran Iraq and Gulf Wars on city life and the manipulation of food rations and growth of black markets Reading citizen petitions to the government Walter illuminates citizens self advocacy and the important role of low ranking party officials and state bureaucrats embedded within neighborhoods The US occupation and ensuing sectarian fighting upended Baghdad s neighborhoods through violent displacement and the collapse of basic state services This power vacuum paved the way for new power brokers including militias and neighborhood councils to compete for influence on the local level Regional Research Frontiers - Vol. 1 Randall Jackson, Peter Schaeffer, 2017-04-17 This volume focuses on frontiers in regional research and identifies trends and future developments in the areas of innovation regional growth and migration It also addresses
