Handbook on Planning and Climate Change Adaptation Patrick Brandful Cobbinah, Michael Addaney, 2025-08-11 This timely Handbook explores how planning can be used as a mechanism a tool and a process to sustainably manage the impacts of climate change Conceptually grounded in the planning and climate change literature it illustrates the different capabilities and inadequacies of planning in addressing climate change adaptation Junior Graphic Mavis Kitcher (Mrs), 2014-07-30

Situating Sustainability C. Parker Krieg, Reetta Toivanen, 2021-11-22 Situating Sustainability reframes our understanding of sustainability through an emerging international terrain of concepts and case studies These approaches include material practices such as extraction and disaster recovery and extend into the domains of human rights and education This volume addresses the need in sustainability science to recognize the deep and diverse cultural histories that define environmental politics It brings together scholars from cultural studies anthropology literature law behavioral science urban studies design and development to argue that it is no longer possible to talk about sustainability in general without thinking through the contexts of research and action These contributors are joined by artists whose public facing work provides a mobile platform to conduct research at the edges of performance knowledge production and socio ecological infrastructures Situating Sustainability calls for a truly transdisciplinary research that is guided by the humanities and social sciences in collaboration with local actors informed by histories of place Designed for students scholars and interested readers the volume introduces the conceptual practices that inform the leading edge of engaged research in sustainability

Modern Mathematics Dirk De Bock, 2023-03-08 The international New Math developments between about 1950 through 1980 are regarded by many mathematics educators and education historians as the most historically important development in curricula of the twentieth century It attracted the attention of local and international politicians of teachers and of parents and influenced the teaching and learning of mathematics at all levels kindergarten to college graduate in many nations After garnering much initial support it began to attract criticism But as Bill Jacob and the late Jerry Becker show in Chapter 17 some of the effects became entrenched This volume edited by Professor Dirk De Bock of Belgium provides an outstanding overview of the New Math modern mathematics movement Chapter authors provide exceptionally high quality analyses of the rise of the movement and of subsequent developments within a range of nations The first few chapters show how the initial leadership came from mathematicians in European nations and in the United States of America The background leaders in Europe were Caleb Gattegno and members of a mysterious group of mainly French pure mathematicians who since the 1930s had published under the name of a fictitious Nicolas Bourbaki In the United States there emerged during the 1950s various attempts to improve U S mathematics curricula and teaching especially in secondary schools and colleges This side of the story climaxed in 1957 when the Soviet Union succeeded in launching Sputnik the first satellite Undoubtedly this is a landmark publication in education The foreword was written by Professor Bob Moon one of a few other scholars to have written on the New Math from an international perspective The final epilogue chapter by Professor Geert Vanpaemel a historian draws together the overall thrust of the volume and makes links with the general history of curriculum development especially in science education including recent globalization trends Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh,2014-09-20
