

A large crowd of students in school uniforms is gathered in front of a school building. The students are mostly wearing yellow and white uniforms. The building is a long, single-story structure with a green roof and yellow walls. There are trees and bushes in the background. The text "SCHOOL SELECTION FOR 2024 BECE GRADUATES" is overlaid on the image in a white, rounded rectangle.

Learning, Design, and Technology J. Michael Spector,Barbara B. Lockee,Marcus D. Childress,2023-10-14 The multiple related fields encompassed by this Major Reference Work represent a convergence of issues and topics germane to the rapidly changing segments of knowledge and practice in educational communications and technology at all levels and around the globe There is no other comparable work that is designed not only to gather vital current and evolving information and understandings in these knowledge segments but also to be updated on a continuing basis in order to keep pace with the rapid changes taking place in the relevant fields The Handbook is composed of substantive 5 000 to 15 000 words peer reviewed entries that examine and explicate seminal facets of learning theory research and practice It provides a broad range of relevant topics including significant developments as well as innovative uses of technology that promote learning performance and instruction This work is aimed at researchers designers developers instructors and other professional practitioners Community Participation in School Management Kazuro Shibuya,2022-09-12 Nobody denies that trust in schools is key to success in generating any educational outcomes However trust is often eroded resulting in conflicts alienation and differentiation among school level stakeholders This book analyses school based management SBM of education through the lens of relational trust in the context of Ghana revealing how community participation in school management leads to educational outcomes Conducting quantitative analysis of headteacher questionnaires from public basic schools and qualitative analysis of case study schools in the Akatsi South District of Ghana Shibuya offers critical insights into building sustainable relationships between individual households and geographical school communities He argues it is critical to highlight relational trust as an analytical tool to examine relationships between actors and factors in school management The research finds that trust in schools is a two way mechanism and the mutuality of expectations and obligations among stakeholders is essential if children's learning outcomes are to improve. With its mixed methods approach, this book will be a valuable resource for scholars in comparative education, those in educational development, and those interested in African contexts.

Forefronts in Research Kagendo Mutua, Cynthia S. Sunal, 2005-06-01. Research in Education in Africa, The Caribbean, and The Middle East. The Book Series provides a comprehensive view of current and emerging educational knowledge, research strategies, and policy in these regions. Submissions from all disciplines, as well as interdisciplinary perspectives, are welcome if manuscripts conform to basic book series goals. The Series goals are: 1. Provide a forum for the dissemination of research on education in the region; 2. Disseminate ideas that enhance both the practical and theoretical aspects of education in the region; 3. Further knowledge and understanding of emerging trends and movements in education in the region; and 4. Foster debate about issues such as indigenizing education, women's education, or disability education in the region.

IJEMDS is an open access, refereed journal focused on educational leadership, educational management, teaching, and learning across all disciplines and levels; internationalization of education; transnational education; and societal issues on educational development. The field of education has been continuously evolving, as influenced by its nature and the societal factors. As the journal celebrates the very dynamic and complex nature of education, it provides educators and researchers a platform for their research findings. This allows researchers to apply multiple designs to describe, analyze, and evaluate the history, current issues, and the future direction of education in regional and international contexts.

Curricula, Examinations, and Assessment in Secondary Education in Sub-Saharan Africa World Bank, 2008-02-15. Economic and social changes, fast evolution of technology, and the growing importance of Internet services and international communications all these require secondary education providers to adapt what is taught and learned in schools. However, in Africa, the content of secondary curricula is, in most cases, ill adapted to 21st century challenges where young people are mobile, have access to more and instant information, and face health threats such as HIV/AIDS. In addition, implementation problems exist, and the time for instruction is often much less than what is required by the prescribed secondary curriculum. In Africa, there is a need to develop a secondary education curriculum adapted to the local economic and social environment, but with internationally comparable performance indicators. This study analyzes that challenge, the quality of curricula, and assessment and their development processes in secondary education in Africa against the background of existing contexts.

conditions and ambitions on the one hand and current pedagogical thinking on the other This World Bank Working Paper was prepared as part of the Secondary Education and Training in Africa SEIA initiative which aims to assist countries to develop sustainable strategies for expansion and quality improvements in secondary education and training

Factors contributing to academic performance of students in a Junior High School Anthony Abaidoo, 2018-11-22 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2018 in the subject Pedagogy School System Educational and School Politics grade 5 GHA System University of Education Distance Learning course Post Graduate Diploma in Education language English abstract Students academic performance is a key feature in education This study was therefore conducted primarily to assess the factors contributing to improvement in academic performance of Junior High Students JHS in a Basic School which is in the Gomo East District in the Central Region of Ghana The mixed and descriptive research design was used and a sample size of 87 respondents 79 students and 8 teachers were selected through random sampling technique The findings revealed that the average academic performance 47 0% of the JHS students in the Basic School is weak and their performance in Mathematics average score of 31 48% and English Language average score of 39 99% is a fail It was noticed that student factors that contribute to an improvement in academic performance include regular studying self motivation punctuality and regular class attendance hard work and interest in a subject The teacher factors were completion of syllabus use of TLM s frequent feedback to students and given students special attention Per the findings parent factors which was very key was parent showing concern in their children s academics and providing them their academic needs School factors that were significant included availability of text books and TLM s The study also found that parent level of education and gender has a positive relationship with academic performance but it s insignificant However age has a positive significant 5% significance level relationship with academic performance Based on findings the study recommends that there should be strict monitoring on teachers to vary their teaching methods to suit their needs of the students and also to provide the students with constant feedback on their academic performance Again the students should be motivated and orientated to take ownership of their studies by having regular studies and attending school during school days
