Twenty-First Century, 2024-12-16 The African American Novel in the Early Twenty First Century comprises fourteen essays each focussing on recent widely known fiction by acclaimed African American authors This volume showcases the originality diversity and vitality of contemporary African American literature which has reached a bewildering yet exhilarating stage of disruption and continuity between today and yesterday homegrown and diasporic identities and local and global interrelatedness Additionally it delves into the complexity of the Black literary imagination and its interaction with broader cultural contexts Lastly it reflects on the evolution of the African American community its tribulations triumphs challenges and prospects Reporting China in Africa Herman Wasserman, 2016-03-31 This book discusses the growing media engagement between China and Africa from the point of view of both these regions The rapid increase in Sino African contact has led to many controversies and debates in the media often represented in simplistic terms and stereotypes that call for more in depth scholarly analysis Not only have the relationship between Africa and China made headlines in the media but the media itself has also become increasingly central in the exchanges of capital and human resources between these two regions The media has also become the terrain where China's new foreign policy takes shape in the form of soft power This volume brings together authors from Africa China the US UK and Europe to provide analysis comment and empirical evidence to deepen our understanding of how the geopolitical shift towards the emerging regions of China and Africa are playing out on media terrain The implications for transnational flows of media capital and content on journalistic approaches press freedom and normative frameworks are discussed as well as how African journalists have responded to these changes. The result is a collection of perspectives that refuses simplistic conclusions about what the growing engagement between China and Africa might mean but presents a range of arguments informed by scholarly research. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ecquid Novi African Journalism Studies. Afropolitanism: Reboot Carli Coetzee, 2017-05-23. This edited collection comprises an original and activist group of contributions on that much maligned figure the Afropolitan. The contributors do not aim to define or fix the term anew; the reboot is instead the beginnings of an activist scholarly agenda in which the Afropolitan is reimagined to include the stealthy figure crossing the Mediterranean by boat and the Somali shopkeeper in a South African township. In their pieces included here, the authors insist on the need to ask questions about the inclusion of such globally mobile Africans in any theorisations of the transnational circuits we call Afropolitan. This collection from some of the foremost voices on Afropolitanism invigorates anew the debate and reboots understandings of who the Afropolitan is, the many places he calls his origin and the multiple places she comes to call home in the world. The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of African Cultural Studies. Good Things Happen in Glasgow Jude Addo, 2014-07-31. This is not your ordinary love story. In the second chapter of Genesis, a marriage takes place between a man and a woman that pales in comparison to the hypnotism of modern day romance. This union bears little semblance to the excessively romanticized 21st century courtship engagement and wedding. Their matrimony is solely driven by purpose, a concept typically foreign to the new age of passion-fuelled relationships. Youth speaker and Christian author Jude Addo draws upon life-changing experiences during his betrothal that unveil some hard truths about love relationships and life in general. This book speaks to the trials and triumphs that come with obeying the voice of God whilst challenging the status quo on several religious and sociological matters. A man of refreshing candour, Addo cleverly uses his engagement period as a thrilling backdrop to take the reader on a voyage of spiritual enlightenment. The Neoliberal Imagination in Contemporary Literature Tammy Amiel Houser, 2024-08-06. This book examines the relationship between empathy and neoliberalism as it unfolded in the aftermath of the 2008 financial crisis and through the turbulent 2010s. Via close readings of contemporary novels as well as various non-fictional texts, it traces the changing approaches to empathy in the post-financial crisis imagination, highlighting a crucial re-conceptualization of empathy as a boundaryless force untethered to local or social circumstance. This reconceptualization implicitly aligns empathy with the neoliberal ethos of globalism and distances it from the traditional notion of sympathy. Via complex dialogue with the novelistic tradition of sympathy, contemporary novelists highlight the problematics of boundaryless empathy while exploring ways to resist neoliberal views and values. Analyzing engagements with empathy in post-2008 literature and culture, the book sheds light on the underlying affective dynamics that enabled the persistence of neoliberalism after the 2008 financial crisis alongside efforts to challenge its dominance. West African Women in the Diaspora Rose A. Sackeyfio, 2021-09-08. This book examines fictional works by women authors who have left their homes in West Africa and now live as members of the diaspora In recent years a compelling array of critically acclaimed fiction by women in the West African diaspora has shifted the direction of the African novel away from post colonial themes of nationhood decolonization and cultural authenticity and towards explorations of the fluid and shifting constructions of identity in transnational spaces Drawing on works by Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie Buchi Emecheta Ama Ata Aidoo Sefi Atta Chika Unigwe and Taiye Selasie this book interrogates the ways in which African diaspora women s fiction portrays the realities of otherness hybridity and marginalized existence of female subjects beyond Africa s borders Overall the book demonstrates that life in the diaspora is an uncharted journey of expanded opportunities along with paradoxical realities of otherness Providing a vivid and composite portrait of African women s experiences in the diasporic landscape this book will be of interest to researchers of migration and diaspora topics and African women s and world literature

The Politics of Bones J.Timothy Hunt,2013-01-29 On November 10 1995 Nigeria s military dictatorship executed nine environmental activists Among them was Ken Saro Wiwa the charismatic spokesman of the Ogoni people whose land in the fertile Niger River delta has been grotesquely polluted by the Royal Dutch Shell Corporation During Ken s incarceration his brother Dr Owens Wiwa fought valiantly to save his life When his quest failed Owens narrowly escaped Nigeria with his life first to London and then to Toronto His story is a heart stopping saga of personal courage and official corruption of individual selflessness and corporate greed

Migration and Return in Modern African Literature Ernest Cole,2025 Using close readings of nine novels by African or African descended novelists this book examines three phases of African migration departure disillusionment and the impulse to return The experiences of African migrants in the diaspora are deeply inflected by the condition of living as Black bodies in white spaces In this work author Ernest Cole examines closely the narratives of migration and return presented in nine powerful novels by authors who include Chimamanda Adichie NoViolet Bulawayo Teju Cole and others The novels reveal a reversal of expectations that migrants from Africa experience upon arrival in the West a reversal prompted in part by the racial prejudice they are confronted with as Black individuals As the author notes the novels also illustrate the desire to return to the homeland as a better alternative to the precarious life in the West even though such a move is not without its complications The study is divided into three parts with seven chapters The first two chapters deal with the reasons for the departure of migrants from the continent the next two depict the experiences of migrants in the West and the last three focus on contemplations of the return journey home Collectively the chapters lay out three phases in the migration process departure from home disillusionment in the West and return to the country of origin Within this framework the book uses displacement and dislocation to examine a host of themes social alienation alterity and the precarity of Africans in the diaspora

Slavery, Migrations, and Transformations: Connecting Old and New Diasporas to the Homeland Toyin Sanchez,2015-07-28 From the historical movements of enslaved Africans to the Americas to newer migrations of Africans to spaces like Belgium and France experiences of blackness on a global stage reflect themes of negotiation persecution isolation unification remembrance and much more Yet it is impossible to minimize the complex experiences that make up the African diaspora throughout the world as diasporic communities face a range of struggles specifically related to the politics of identity and connections to the continent of Africa itself This book is thus a timely and much needed exploration of the intricate nature of culture and life in the African diaspora It examines identities collectivities and relationships with Africa and Africans It helps fill a gap in the field by illuminating the complex experiences of blackness in a manner that motivates readers to grapple with the nuances diaspora studies and African issues on a global stage This book balances conceptualizations of diaspora by engaging with scholars exploring old African diasporas newer migrations and even regional movement within the continent of Africa itself More importantly the chronological breadth of the volume allows readers to explore historical matters alongside comparable contemporary issues as a way of assessing continuities and the ways in which communities continue to grapple with institutional racism political marginalization and negotiations between tradition and modernity on a global stage Furthermore the interdisciplinary nature of the book offers diverse approaches for robust engagement with African diaspora studies

Handbook of Transatlantic North American Studies Julia Straub, 2016-05-10 Transatlantic literary studies have provided important new perspectives on North American British and Irish literature They have led to a revision of literary history and the idea of a national literature They have changed the perception of the Anglo American literary market and its many processes of transatlantic production distribution reception and criticism Rather than dwelling on comparisons or engaging with the notion of influence transatlantic literary studies seek to understand North American British and Irish literature as linked with each other by virtue of multi layered historical and cultural ties and pay special attention to the many refractions and mutual interferences that have characterized these traditions since colonial times This handbook brings together articles that summarize some of the crucial transatlantic concepts debates and topics The contributions contained in this volume examine periods in literary and cultural history literary movements individual authors as well as genres from a transatlantic perspective combining theoretical insight with textual analysis

The Transnational in Literary Studies Kai Wiegandt, 2020-07-06 This volume clarifies the meanings and applications of the concept of the transnational and identifies areas in which the concept can be particularly useful The division of the volume into three parts reflects areas which seem particularly amenable to analysis through a transnational lens The chapters in Part 1 present case studies in which the concept replaces or complements traditionally dominant concepts in literary studies These chapters demonstrate for example why some dramatic texts and performances can better be described as transnational than as postcolonial and how the transnational underlies and complements concepts such as world literature Part 2 assesses the advantages and limitations of writing literary history with a transnational focus These chapters illustrate how such a perspective loosens the epistemic stranglehold of national historiographies but they also argue that the transnational and national agendas of literary historiography are frequently entangled The chapters in Part 3 identify transnational genres such as the transnational historical novel transnational migrant fiction and translinguistic theatre and analyse the specific poetics and politics of these genres

Therson-Cofie,1957-06-06 Dreamland Carly Goodman,2023-03-13 In a world of border walls and obstacles to migration a lottery where winners can gain permanent residency in the United States sounds too good to be true Just as unlikely is the idea that the United States would make such visas available to foster diversity within a country where systemic racism endures But in 1990 the United States Diversity Visa Lottery was created to do just that Dreamland tells the surprising story of this unlikely government program and its role in American life as well as the global story of migration Historian Carly Goodman takes readers from Washington D C where proponents deployed a colorblind narrative about our nation of immigrants to secure visas for white immigrants to the African countries where it flourished and fostered dreams of going to America From the post office to the internet aspiring emigrants visa agents and others embraced the lottery and tried their luck in a time of austerity and limits Rising African immigration to the United States has enriched American life created opportunities for mobility and nourished imagined possibilities But the promise of the American dream has been threatened by the United States embrace of anti immigrant policies and persistent anti Black racism African Philosophical and Literary Possibilities Aretha Phiri,2020-06-23 Recognizing philosophy s traditional influence on and literature s creative stimulus for sociopolitical discourses imaginations and structures African Philosophical and Literary Possibilities Re readingthe Canon edited by Aretha Phiri probes the cross referential interdisciplinary relationships between African literature and African philosophy The contributors write within the broader context of renewed interest in and concerns around epistemological decolonization and to advance African scholarly transformation This volume argues that in their convergent ideological and imaginative attempts to articulate an African conditionality African philosophy and literature share overlapping concerns and aspirations In this way this book engages and examines the intersectional canons of these disciplines in order to determine their intra continental epistemological transformative possibilities within broader global societal explorations of the current moment of decolonization Where much of the scholarship on African philosophy has focused on addressing issues associated with the postcolonial task of African self assertion in the face of or against Euro modernist hegemony this innovative book project shifts the focus and broadens the scope away from merely discoursing with the global North by mapping out how philosophy and literature can be viewed as mutually enriching disciplines within and for Africa
