

Terry Eagleton (1943 -)

The role of literature in society

Eagleton points to a perspectival shift from literature conferring a "greatness and [...] noble spirit" on the reader (Arnold 1869) to it being a powerful tool of social control of the middle and working classes in the Victorian Era (Eagleton 1983).

Marxist commentary on literary theory:

- Extends concept of ideology to literature
- Asserts that literature does not reflect but actively produces ideology

- Therefore, the study of literature is political

The growth of the study of literature coincides with "the failure of religion" in the Victorian Era due to the "twin impacts" of:

- Scientific discovery: daguerotype (1840s), germ theory of disease (1850s), Darwin
- Social change: Factory Act, Public Health Act, Education Act, Married Women's Property Act, Matrimonial

The Power of Religion

- Used by the ruling class to control the masses through ideology, that is, less by specific rules and more by ritual and mythology
- Religion is affective (mood, feeling, attitude) and experiential (based on one's experiences) → irrational hence hard to break

Literature "is an ideology"

Provides "timeless truths" to sweeten the pill of the social situation:

- Pride in nation, language and culture
- Reverence for achievements
- Sense of position within society
- An escape → by virtual experience → into another place or life

This can be seen more explicitly in who it was designed for:

- "working men's colleges"
- women who sought to become school teachers
- army men during the colonial period

Great founding fathers

Socrates → Plato → Aristotle

- No known works of Socrates
- It is assumed that Plato took many ideas from Socrates
- Socrates is a key figure in the Republic/mouthpiece of Plato
- Plato founded the Academy in 387 BCE, an institution devoted to research and instruction in philosophy and the sciences (mathematics and logic) for the "philosopher-ruler/guardians" of society
- Aristotle was Plato's pupil at the Academy and eventually became a teacher himself

Plato (ca. 427-347 BCE)

Questions of Being: What is the purpose of life, what is the real?

Questions of Society: What is justice, what is a just man?

Questions of Arts: What is the use of art, which arts should be allowed?

Republic Summary

Philosophy:

Rational → based on higher faculty of the mind: Reason and Law

Communal, Adult, Moral

Permits men to rise above the self and focus attention on the steady, calm, unshakable faculties of the mind

The Artist:

Irrational → based on lower faculty of the mind: Passion and Pain

Selfishly Indulgent, Childish, Perverse

Distracts men with emotion, prestige, wealth, political power, and art itself

Aristotle against Plato

"Representation is natural to human beings from childhood. They differ from the other animals in this: man tends most towards representation and learns his first lessons through representation."

"Also everyone delights in representations [...] The cause of this is that learning is most pleasant [...] they delight in seeing images, because it comes about that they learn, as they observe, and infer what each thing is, e.g. that this person [represented] that one" (368).

Aristotle (384-322 BCE)

How To Cheat On Plato Biology:

Biology and Christian Ethics Stephen R. L. Clark, 2000-09-18 This stimulating and wide ranging book mounts a profound enquiry into some of the most pressing questions of our age by examining the relationship between biological science and Christianity The history of biological discovery is explored from the point of view of a leading philosopher and ethicist What effect should modern biological theory and practice have on Christian understanding of ethics How much of that theory and practice should Christians endorse Can Christians for example agree that biological changes are not governed by transcendent values or that there are no clear or essential boundaries between species To what extent can Nature set our standards Professor Clark takes a reasoned look at biological theory since Darwin and argues that an orthodox Christian philosophy is better able to accommodate the truth of such theory than is the sort of progressive meliorist interpretation of Christian doctrine which is usually offered as the properly modern option

The Congregation in a Secular Age (Ministry in a Secular Age Book #3) Andrew Root,2021-01-19 Churches often realize they need to change But if they re not careful the way they change can hurt more than help In this culmination of his well received Ministry in a Secular Age trilogy leading practical theologian Andrew Root offers a new paradigm for understanding the congregation in contemporary ministry He articulates why congregations feel pressured by the speed of change in modern life and encourages an approach that doesn t fall into the negative traps of our secular age Living in late modernity means our lives are constantly accelerated and calls for change in the church often support this call to speed up Root asserts that the recent push toward innovation in churches has led to an acceleration of congregational life that strips the sacred out of time Many congregations are simply unable to keep up which leads to burnout and depression When things move too fast we feel alienated from life and the voice of a living God The Congregation in a Secular Age calls congregations to reimagine what change is and how to live into this future helping them move from relevance to resonance
