Humanising Healthcare Patterns Of Hope For A System Under Strain:

Humanising Healthcare Margaret Hannah, 2014 A practical strategy for transforming the UK and other healthcare systems offering an affordable sustainable and compassionate alternative to the present mess Healthcare systems across the developed world are in trouble Changing patterns of disease an ageing population and advances in drugs and technology feed an inexorable rise in costs outrunning our best efforts to contain them At a human level the system is coming under intolerable strain Demands for cost savings squeeze out the time and humanity needed for good care and quality relationships Safety suffers Staff become demoralised stressed and burned out In the first two parts of Humanising Healthcare and focusing on the UK's National Health Service Dr Hannah explores the fundamental assumptions which have brought us to this point and which likewise inform our current inadequate responses She dissects the burgeoning regime of regulation and inspection that tries to impose ever tighter controls on a healthcare system that needs to be freed to serve its citizen patients In the final part of the book Another Way Is Possible Dr Margaret Hannah offers a practical alternative strategy based on numerous examples of transformative practice from the UK and around the world It promises a sustainable culture of healthcare that will enable us all to live healthy fulfilled lives at a fraction of the current cost Nuka Chief among Dr Hannah's case studies is the Nuka model of care in Alaska Healthcare in the Nuka system is based on reconnecting people into the web of life Don Berwick a former health adviser to President Obama and a founder of the highly respected Institute for Healthcare Improvement has declared that Nuka is probably the leading example of healthcare redesign in the world US healthcare suffers from high costs and low quality This system has reversed that the quality of care is the highest I have seen anywhere in the world and the costs are highly sustainable It's extraordinary It is surely leading healthcare to its new and proper destination

Humanising Birth Elizabeth Newnham, Lois McKellar, Kaveri Mayra, Yvonne Kuipers, 2025-11-06 This book develops on how with the birth of every baby comes the possibility of love connection and optimal health and well being It shows how the salutogenic pathways that are set up at the start of life are not only for the short term but throughout life and into the next generation The start of life is now a well known point of health intervention as can be seen by many government health policies on the first 1000 days from conception to age two There is evidence to show that what occurs during birth and the early postnatal period affects the long term health of the child Birth is a significant moment in time not only for the child but also for the mother There are increasing rates of mental health issues in this population with maternal suicide being a leading cause of mortality in many high income countries and postnatal depression increasing in women birthing people and partners fathers which has a significant impact on the developing family This is occurring within the backdrop of an environment of increasing reports of disrespect and abuse during childbirth and the dual issues of inadequate access to maternity care and over medicalisation Scaling up midwifery is seen as a vital part of the solution to current maternity crises but there are potential barriers to midwives providing humanised care within current birth settings including witnessing or being complicit in dehumanising practices feeling unsupported or managing unsafe staffing levels Humanising birth can be seen as a resistance to dehumanising disrespectful over medicalised and industrialised birth practices which is grounded in the language of human rights and ethics In this book we provide a solution focused approach to current complexities through the idea of humanised birth first providing a definition and domains then exploring the idea from an institutional level through the level of relationships to the level of the individual Support for the growth of secure bonds of love health and wellbeing for thriving rather than just surviving is critical not only to a healthy happy productive life but also to cohesive compassionate creative and productive communities
