Sexuality, Society & Pedagogy Dennis A. Francis, 2013-01-01 Sexuality Society and Pedagogy problematises some of the prevailing assumptions that frame this area of study In doing so it aims to make visible the challenges of teaching sexuality education in South African schools while demonstrating its potential for reshaping our conceptions of the social and cultural representations thereof Although the book is largely situated in experiences and perspectives within the South African context it is hoped that the questions raised reflections analyses and arguments will contribute to thinking about sexuality education in diverse contexts in particular more developing contexts

Educational Leadership in Becoming Nuraan Davids, Yusef Waghid, 2016-08-25 Educational Leadership in Becoming reconsiders educational leadership in its current forms and presents a more plausible form of educational leadership to contend with the complexities currently found in universities and schools Much of the literature in vogue concerning educational leadership ranges from transactional to transformative representations of the concept in relation to educational management and policy curriculum inquiry and pedagogical action The primary aim of this book is to revisit some of the dominant understandings of educational leadership and to offer an extended view of the practice along the lines of potentiality and becoming Davids and Waghid argue that all current forms of educational leadership are insufficient to enact responsible human action particularly when it comes to addressing the combined issues of globalisation and equitable redress and transformation whether in relation to leading schools or universities The primary objective of the book is to draw on the Agambian notion of becoming in order to show that an educational leadership in becoming is better placed to not only address the myriad challenges besetting education but to also enhance the potential of leadership in action The book addresses an international audience by analysing conceptions of transformative leadership and should be read by anyone who is interested in education and educational leadership as well as the impact of neoliberal agendas on education and society It should also appeal to those interested in the philosophy of education Air Force Register United States. Air Force,1967 Exploring Anne Frank and Difficult Life Stories Kirsten Kumpf Baele,Waltraud Maierhofer,Doyle Stevick,2024-09-19 This volume grounded in the Diary of a Young Girl and its continued appeal to readers of all ages sees both promise in the relevance of Anne Frank s story in the twenty first century and potential for new ways of teaching her story and those of other genocides and human right violations Engaging Anne Frank with these other cases clarifies the distinct nature of the Holocaust and we build on the fact that the diary touches areas of deep interest especially to young people and that it has been read as a monument to resisting hate which is itself a prerequisite for educating citizens of more diverse and inclusive societies The diverse contributions and viewpoints in this volume illustrate how rich the ongoing engagement with Anne Frank and her legacy remain Intercultural Autoethnographies Claude-Hélène Mayer,Alyssa Govender,Present Raymond Ramalepe,2025-07-23 Intercultural Autoethnographies brings together 20 personal narratives offering a deep exploration into the intercultural voyages of young South Africans These positive autoethnographies delve into ways to traverse diversity and cultural differences and show the complexities of the transforming Post Apartheid society

Re-envisioning English-Medium Instruction in K-12 Schools Michelle Mingyue Gu,Yiqi Liu,Corey Fanglei Huang,2025-06-18 Connecting diverse theories and practices in English medium Instruction EMI implementation this book provides a comprehensive and systematic overview of EMI in K 12 settings in the Asian and European contexts It addresses a wide range of ongoing challenges faced by many EMI policymakers and teachers and offers potential solutions or coping strategies While it focuses on the contexts of Asia and Europe the book can also provide inspirations or suggestions for researching and implementing EMI in other geographical or cultural contexts such as Africa In brief this book aims to 1 discuss up to date theories on EMI from different fields of research including language policy studies applied linguistics and CLIL research 2 provide detailed and critical reviews of EMI policies in K 12 education in the broad Asian and European contexts 3 report empirical classroom based research on EMI implementation in these contexts and compare findings with those of the previous research 4 engage different researchers and scholars from relevant fields in a dialogue about EMI related theories issues and challenges in these contexts and 5 serve as a hands on resource for educational practitioners who are interested in practicing EMI Social Justice and Transformative Learning Sandra M. Tomlinson-Clarke,Darren L. Clarke,2016-03-10 The similarities between the United States and South Africa with respect to race power oppression and economic inequities are striking and a better understanding of these parallels can provide educational gains for students and educators in both countries Through shared experiences and perspectives this volume presents scholarly work from U S and South African scholars that advance educational practice in support of social justice and transformative learning It provides a comprehensive framework for developing transformational learning experiences that facilitates leadership for social justice and a deeper understanding of the factors influencing personal national and global identity Making the Case Donn

Short, Bruce MacDougall, Paul T. Clarke, 2021-11-15 A principal forbids same sex prom dates A community group tries to prohibit gender neutral bathrooms Despite growing acceptance of 2SLGBTQ rights Canadian schools regularly become battlegrounds in clashes between students wishing to express their sexuality or gender identity and those who perceive this as a threat to their values Making the Case clearly shows how Canadian law responds to competing human rights claims when there is a clash between people asserting sexual minority rights and those asserting religious rights The authors call on related court cases to explain the position of Canadian law They demonstrate that Canadians have rights to religion and rights to gender expression or sexual orientation and that supporting sexual minority rights does not undermine other people's rights to religious freedom This accessible book is an important tool for anyone working to create an inclusive school environment or needing to respond to a rights based conflict within their school Participatory Visual Methodologies

Teaching Green - The High School Years Tim Grant, Gail Littlejohn, 2013-09-23 This resource is ideal for anyone working with young people in grades 9-12 whether in schools or in non-formal educational settings. Richly illustrated, it offers fifty teaching strategies that promote learning about natural systems and foster critical thinking about environmental issues both local and global. It contains new approaches to learning strategies for living sustainably and numerous activities that promote interdisciplinary learning. In addition, the book provides suggestions for how best to green individual subject areas, develop integrated learning programs, or replicate exemplary programs created by innovative schools and communities. Containing contributions from over sixty educators from across North America, the book's strength lies in its diverse content. Readers learn how best to apply systems thinking, teach about controversial issues, and use a step-by-step approach to creative problem solving in environmental projects. Also provided are instructions for measuring the ecological footprint of a high school, creating an indoor living system that cleans water, monitoring air quality with lichens, and using green technologies to help green school campuses. Many articles and activities engage teenagers in outdoor learning and community restoration projects. Suggestions are included for connecting students with special needs to the environment around them. Readers will find accessible background information and suggestions for many practical projects and activities. It is sure to appeal to a wide range of teachers, educators, and parents seeking innovative ideas for incorporating green themes into their programs. Tim Grant and Gail Littlejohn are the editors of Green Teacher magazine. North America's award-winning environmental teaching resource. Southwest Builder and Contractor, 1949
