Ferreira, Mohammad Arashi, Ding-Geng Chen, 2022-12-15

Multivariate statistical analysis has undergone a rich and varied evolution during the latter half of the 20th century Academics and practitioners have produced much literature with diverse interests and with varying multidisciplinary knowledge on different topics within the multivariate domain Due to multivariate algebra being of sustained interest and being a continuously developing field its appeal breaches laterally across multiple disciplines to act as a catalyst for contemporary advances with its core inferential genesis remaining in that of statistics It is exactly this varied evolution caused by an influx in data production diffusion and understanding in scientific fields that has blurred many lines between disciplines The cross pollination between statistics and biology engineering medical science computer science and even art has accelerated the vast amount of questions that statistical methodology has to answer and report on These questions are often multivariate in nature hoping to elucidate uncertainty on more than one aspect at the same time and it is here where statistical thinking merges mathematical design with real life interpretation for understanding this uncertainty Statistical advances benefit from these algebraic inventions and expansions in the multivariate paradigm This contributed volume aims to usher novel research emanating from a multivariate statistical foundation into the spotlight with particular significance in multidisciplinary settings The overarching spirit of this volume is to highlight current trends stimulate a focus on and connect multidisciplinary dots from and within multivariate statistical analysis Guided by these thoughts a collection of research at the forefront of multivariate statistical thinking is presented here which has been authored by globally recognized subject matter experts Groundwater Management for Sustainable Agriculture in the North China Plain Yanjun Shen, 2024-09-03

This book is a unique text that explores recent research on the management of sustainable groundwater use in the North China Plain NCP where aquifers are suffering the most severe over pumping in the world and have caused serious ecological degradation It contains research conducted by the editor and his teams on several projects over the past 18 years Key topics covered include comprehensive scheme and pathways to achieve sustainable groundwater management description of theoretical basis for water saving and technologies developed in practice at field scale adjusting cropping patterns and planting structure to reduce the cultivation intensity to a suitable extent soft measures such as water metering pricing and water marketing being applied in groundwater management practice in the NCP It will be an invaluable resource to graduate students education and research staff and agriculture or water resources authorities Sustainable Agriculture and Rural Livelihoods (Vol. 1) Dr. Santha Govind, Dr. M. Systems in Sustainable Agriculture Paulo Mazzafera, José Laércio Favarin, Sara Adrián López de Andrade, 2021-03-30

Fees Must Fall Susan Booysen, 2016-10-01 This book explores the student discontent a year after the start of the 2015 South African FeesMustFall revolt. FeesMustFall the student revolt that began in October 2015 was an uprising against lack of access to and financial exclusion from higher education in South Africa. More broadly it radically questioned the socio-political dispensation resulting from the 1994 social pact between big business, the ruling elite and the liberation movement. The 2015 revolt links to national and international youth struggles of the recent past and is informed by black consciousness politics and social movements of the international left. Yet its objectives are more complex than those of earlier struggles. The student movement has challenged the hierarchical top down leadership system of university management and its double speak of professing to act in workers and students interests yet entrenching a regressive system for control and governance. University managements while on one level amenable to change have also co-opted students into their ranks to create co-responsibility for the highly bureaucratised university financial aid that stands in the way of their social revolution. This book maps the contours of student discontent a year after the start of the FeesMustFall revolt. Student voices dissect colonialism, improper compromises by the founders of democratic South Africa, feminism, worker rights and meaningful education. In depth assessments by prominent scholars reflect on the complexities of student activism, its impact on national and university governance and offer provocative analyses of the power of the revolt. Magoqwana, Siphokazi Magadla, Athambile Masola, 2024-10-21 This book seeks to create a systematic eclectic historical picture of the present and past women intellectuals, activists, artists and cultural custodians. Using the concept of ukufukama (incubate), we connect intergenerational knowledge transfer of our elders to the current struggles faced by the younger generation of women. We bring together different authors who engage the biographical and intellectual contributions of different African women and their imagination of the democratic South Africa. Writing about the various feminist intellectual traditions between the 19th and 21st centuries, this book systematically pulls together oral and creative texts to recover the memories of Nosuthu Jotelo, Sarah Baartman, Nontsizi Mqgqwetho, Phyllis Ntantala, Brigalia Bam, Umntwana uMagogo, Miriam Makeba, Sibongile Khumalo, Lebo Mathosa, Thandiswa Mazwai, Celeste Ntuli, Nkosazana Dlamini, Zuma Neo, Mathabe among the lives and works covered here. This range of voices shows that intellectual work is varied and has the ability to sit alongside each other. It importantly shows that scholarship emerges through community and conversation, which is to say feminist histories are created and recreated through conversations that care about women's voices, stories and being in the world. Ultimately we think of the women featured in this book as forming a lineage, a tradition of black women's survival wisdom which facilitated change and enduring radical transformation that demands theorisation and celebration. Human rights in diverse education contexts J.P.
