Chinese Love Story from the Tenth to the Fourteenth Century Alister D. Inglis, 2023-04-01 Love stories formed a major part of the classical short story genre in China from as early as the eighth century when men of letters began to write about romantic encounters. In later centuries such stories provided inspiration for several new literary genres. While much scholarly attention has been focused on the short story of both the medieval and late imperial eras, comparatively little work has been attempted on the interim stage, the Song and Yuan dynasties, which spanned some five hundred years from the tenth to the fourteenth centuries. Yet this was a crucial developmental period for many forms of narrative literature, so much so that any understanding of late imperial narrative should be informed by the earlier tradition. The first study of its kind in English, The Chinese Love Story from the Tenth to the Fourteenth Century traces the development of the love story throughout this important yet overlooked era. Using Tang dynasty stories as a point of comparison, Alister D. Inglis examines and appraises key new themes, paying special attention to period hallmarks: gender portrayal and textuality. Inglis demonstrates that, contrary to received scholarly wisdom, this was a highly innovative period during which writers and storytellers laid a fertile foundation for the literature of late imperial China.

Vietnamese Colonial Republican Peter Zinoman, 2013-11-16 This volume is a comprehensive study of Vietnam's greatest and most controversial 20th century writer, who died tragically in 1939 at the age of 28. Vu Trong Phung is known for a remarkable collection of politically provocative novels and sensational works of non-fiction reportage that were banned by the communist state from 1960 to 1986. Leading Vietnam scholar Zinoman resurrects the life and work of an important intellectual and author in order to reveal a neglected political project that is excluded from conventional accounts of modern Vietnamese political history. He sees Vu Trong Phung as a leading proponent of a localized republican tradition that opposed colonialism, communism, and unfettered capitalism, and that led both to the banning of his work and to the durability of his popular appeal in Vietnam today.

Beyond the Flesh Jenifer Presto, 2009-01-15 Though the Russian Symbolist movement was dominated by a concern with transcending sex, many of the writers associated with the movement exhibited an intense preoccupation with matters of the flesh. Drawing on poetry, plays, short stories, essays, memoirs, and letters, as well as feminist and psychoanalytic theory, Beyond the Flesh documents the often unexpected form that this obsession with gender and the body took in the life and art of two of the most important Russian Symbolists.

Understanding Canton Virgil Ho, 2005-12-22 By studying six different aspects of culture in Canton in the period between the two World Wars, this book helps broaden our limited knowledge of the social and cultural lives of the common people in this largest city of South China. The author examines how the Cantonese in this period indulged in their imagined cultural superiority as modern citizens ushering in a cult of the modern city. During this period, Cantonese opera was also emerging and evolving into a widely accepted form of commercialised mass entertainment. The process of social and cultural change and its impact on the development of this city and its people are revealed throughout the book. This book also aims to redress some major misconceptions of the socio-cultural realities as seen in official rhetoric or academic discourse on the matters of patriotism and anti foreignism gambling prostitution and opium consumption Contemporary non official and folk materials reveal that the common people were much more pro Western than xenophobic in attitude and the alleged social and political calamities of gambling opium consumption and prostitution were more rhetorical than real Understanding Canton provides us with not only a fuller and more comprehensive picture of city life and popular mentalities but also an important clue to understand how and why the social history of this city was distorted and constructed in ways that suited the political ideology and nation building agenda of the ruling regimes Lives of Simon Lord Lovat, and Duncan Forbes, of Culloden John Hill Burton,1847 Catalogue of the London Library, St. James's Square, London: 1928-1950 London Library,Charles Theodore Hagberg Wright,C.
