The image shows a page from a manuscript, likely a liturgical book, featuring musical notation on staves. The notation is written in a medieval style, using vertical lines (neumes) placed on or between horizontal lines. The page is divided into two columns of staves. The left column has four staves, and the right column has four staves. The notation is written in a medieval style, with some staves having multiple lines of notation. The page is numbered '1' in the top left corner.

our students. Two students should act as prosecutors while the other two act as defense attorneys. Each pair should prepare an argument for why the suspect is guilty (prosecution) or innocent (defense). The students will then present their arguments. Use the lines below to list ideas you will use in your argument.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There is no handwriting or other markings on the paper.
