Application of Nanotechnology in Food Science and Food Microbiology Jayanta Kumar Patra, Han-Seung Shin, Spiros Paramithiotis, 2018-06-25 Nanotechnology is a fast evolving discipline that already produces outstanding basic knowledge and industrial applications for the benefit of society. It is a new emerging and fascinating field of science that permits advanced research in many areas. The first applications of nanotechnology mainly concerned material sciences applications in the agriculture and food sectors are still emerging. Food science nanotechnology is an area of rising attention that unties new possibilities for the food industry. Due to the rapid population growth, there is a need to produce food and beverages in a more efficient, safe, and sustainable way. The application of nanotechnology in food has also gained great importance in recent years in view of its potential application to improve production of food crops, enhance nutrition, packaging, and food safety overall. The new materials, products, and applications are anticipated to bring lots of improvements to the food and related sectors, impacting agriculture and food production, food processing, distribution, storage, sanitation, as well as the development of innovative products and sensors for effective detection of contaminants. Therefore, nanotechnology presents with a large potential to provide an opportunity for the researchers of food science, food microbiology, and other fields to develop new tools for incorporation of nanoparticles into food systems that could augment existing functions and add new ones. However, the number of relative publications currently available is rather small. The present Research Topic aims to provide with basic information and practical applications regarding all aspects related to the applications of nanotechnology in food science and food microbiology, namely nanoparticle synthesis, especially through the eco-friendly perspective, potential applications in food processing, biosensor development, alternative strategies for effective pathogenic bacteria monitoring, as well as the possible effects on human health and the environment.

Multidisciplinary Explorations of Corohysteria Caused by the COVID-2019 Pandemic Abdul Karim Bangura, 2022-04-21 This multidisciplinary volume includes an international roster of contributors who explore how mass hysteria has emerged among people across the globe as a consequence of the COVID-19 pandemic. The contributors provide international perspectives on the effects of this corohysteria in areas such as education, healthcare, religion, psychology, mathematics, economics, media, racism, politics, etc. They argue the hysteria, angst, fear, unrest, and difficulties associated with the pandemic are exploited to foster political and social agendas and have led to the undermining of national and global responses to the virus.

East African Mammals Jonathan Kingdon, 1984 Acclaimed and coveted by both naturalists and lovers of wildlife illustration, Jonathan Kingdon's seven-volume East African Mammals has become a classic of modern natural history This paperback edition makes Kingdon's remarkable artistic and scientific achievement his hundreds of drawings and perceptive study of all the mammals in East Africa's species rich fauna available to the wide audience it deserves Volume I of East African Mammals contains introductory chapters on method the East African environment vegetation the Bwamba Forest time perspectives on mammalian evolution and mammalian anatomy The major portion of the book is devoted to the study of primates species by species until all that occur in East Africa have been illustrated and their behavior ecology and anatomy discussed In each volume Kingdon combines his text with hundreds of finished drawings and quick sketches the latter a form of field note that provides an incomparable description of the animal's movements and personality Kingdom explains his drawings as a wordless questioning of form The probing pencil is like the dissecting scalpel seeking to expose relevant structures that may not be immediately obvious and are certainly hidden from the shadowy world of the camera lens As an artist Kingdon's achievement has been compared with Audubon's as a scientist his work has made these volumes indispensable to any serious student of East African mammals

Translations of Urban Regulation in Relations between Kigali (Rwanda) and Singapore Stephan Bock, 2018 Following debates on urban policy mobilities and learning in Human Geographies the dissertation takes the example of Kigali's masterplan to show how aspirations of Rwandan and Singaporean policy makers are transformed into concrete urban planning interactions It provides a close analysis of the practices behind the mobilization of spatial planning expertise The dissertation traces how planning approaches and regulations are mediated within the interaction between Singaporean and Rwandan actors and ultimately take shape in Kigali's urban space
