

9 tips for writing a school policy

School policies and procedures demonstrate your commitment with statutory requirements. Use Clifton's tips to guide you in creating and revising a policy.

1. Consult your board

Develop a policy that meets the needs of all stakeholders, including staff, students, parents, and the community. Consult with your board of directors for input and guidance on the policy.

2. Keep it simple and concise

Write your policy in plain language that is easy to understand. Avoid jargon and technical terms. Use clear, concise language to describe the policy.

3. Be specific and clear

Use specific language to describe the policy. Avoid vague or ambiguous terms. Use clear, concise language to describe the policy. Use specific language to describe the policy.

4. Review often

Review your policy regularly to ensure it remains current and relevant. Update the policy as needed to reflect changes in the school environment.

5. Engage your staff and students

Involve your staff and students in the policy-making process. This helps to ensure the policy is practical and effective. Use their input to refine the policy.

Be consistent with your school's vision, mission, and values. The policy should reflect the school's commitment to excellence and its commitment to the community.

6. Share the policy widely

Share the policy with all stakeholders, including staff, students, parents, and the community. This helps to ensure everyone understands the policy and its importance.

7. Monitor and evaluate the policy

Monitor the policy's effectiveness and make adjustments as needed. Use data and feedback to evaluate the policy's impact on the school environment.

8. Communicate the policy
