Ghost In The Machine Koestler:

The Ghost in the Machine Arthur Koestler, 1990-02 An examination of the human impulse towards self destruction suggests that in the course of human evolution a pathological split between emotion and reason developed The Ghost in the Machine Arthur Koestler, 1976 The Ghost in the Machine Arthur Koestler, 1975 The ghost in the machine Arthur Koestler, 1968 Koestler and the Ghost in the Machine Béla Hidegkúti, 2006 Arthur Koestler's Fiction and the Genre of the Novel Zénó Vernyik, 2021-09-17 Featuring a selection of brand new essays by a group of accomplished scholars Arthur Koestler's Fiction and the Genre of the Novel covers all of Koestler's novels published in his lifetime the first book to attempt this in English since Mark Levene's Arthur Koestler published thirty seven years ago The team of contributors with research backgrounds in history political science religious studies law linguistics and journalism besides literature offers a truly multidisciplinary take on how Koestler's novels utilize and at times transcend the genre of the novel and argues for their enduring relevance and appeal in the twenty first century inviting the reader to revisit and reassess them With the topics of Koestler's novels including terrorism massive migration espionage rape trauma war trauma the crisis of faith propaganda fake news and the role and responsibility of intellectuals in major international crises as the volume aims to show these texts are just as topical today as they were at the time of their publication Kubrick's Story, Spielberg's Film Julian Rice, 2017-06-16 In 1963 Stanley Kubrick declared Dr Strangelove came from my desire to do something about the nuclear nightmare Thirty years later he was preparing to film another story about the human impulse for self destruction Unfortunately the director passed away in 1999 before his project could be fully realized However fellow visionary Steven Spielberg took on the venture and A I Artificial Intelligence debuted in theaters two years after Kubrick's death While Kubrick's concept shares similarities with the finished film there are significant differences between his screenplay and Spielberg's production In Kubrick's Story Spielberg's Film A I Artificial Intelligence Julian Rice examines the intellectual sources and cinematic processes that expressed the extraordinary ideas of one great artist through the distinctive vision of another A I is decidedly a Kubrick film in its concern for the future of the world and it is both a Kubrick and a Spielberg film in the alienation of its central character However Spielberg's alienated characters evolve through friendships while Kubrick's protagonists are markedly alone Rice explores how the directors disparate sensibilities aligned and where they diverged By analyzing Kubrick's treatment and Spielberg's finished film Rice compares the imaginations of two gifted but very different filmmakers and draws conclusions about their unique conceptions Kubrick's Story Spielberg's Film is a fascinating look into the creative process of two of cinema's most profound auteurs and will appeal to scholars of film as well as to fans of both directors The ghost in the machine , 1994 Conflict: Human Needs Theory John Burton, 1990-09-25 Threads of Life Richard Freadman, 2001-02 Many autobiographers share profound questions about human life with their readers questions like To what extent was my life imposed on me To what extent did I bring it about through particular choices and actions through the activity of my own will Indeed the issue of the will is central to autobiographical writing and some of the greatest autobiographies give extended consideration to the will its nature its powers its limitations the forms of freedom constraint and expression it finds in various cultures its role in particular human lives In this new study unprecedented in subject and scope Richard Freadman offers the first sustained account of how changing theological philosophical and psychological accounts of the human will have been reflected in the writing of autobiography and of how autobiography in its turn has helped shape various understandings of the will Early chapters trace narrative representations of the will from antiquity the Greeks and Augustine to postmodernism Derrida and Barthes with particular emphasis on late modernity's culture of the will Later chapters then present detailed and powerfully original readings of autobiographical texts by Louis Althusser Roland Barthes B F Skinner Ernest Hemingway Simone de Beauvoir Arthur Koestler Stephen Spender and Diana Trilling Freadman's interdisciplinary approach to autobiography and the will includes a theoretical defense of the view that autobiographers are in varying degrees agents in their own texts Threads of Life argues that late modernity has inherited deeply conflicted attitudes to the will Freadman suggests that these attitudes now deeply embedded in contemporary cultural discourse need reexamining In this he contends reflective autobiography has an important part to play

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

Play Intelligence James W. Findlay, 2014-12-30 On the whim of an idea a sophomore student unlike any other sophomore takes on the might of the academic world with one of the most thought provoking books written on psychology and philosophy Play Intelligence From IQ to PIQ challenges the very heart of our modern science with a radical if not explosive hypothesis that human intelligence is playing He takes on two of the most difficult concepts in science since we first began to think of science What is intelligence and why do we play as we do With a simple toy brick he demonstrates how play affects our brain and thought processes and how our abilities transfer from one intelligence to another He also demonstrates how play is vital in our education and communication for both children and adults Like the children all around us if we dare but play we could face the challenges in our daily life and have fun while doing so

"Science, Technology, and Utopias " Christine Filippone, 2017-07-05 The rise of proxy wars the Space Race and cybernetics during the Cold War marked science and technology as vital sites of social and political power Women artists historically excluded from these domains responded critically while simultaneously redeploying the products of Technological Society into works that promoted ideals of progress and alternative concepts of human community In this innovative book author Christine Filippone offers the first focused examination of the conceptual use of science and technology by women artists during and just after the women s movement She argues that artists Alice Aycock Agnes Denes Martha Rosler and Carolee Schneemann used science and technology to mount a critique on Cold War American society as they saw it conservative and constricting Motivated by the contemporary American Women s Movement these artists transformed science and technology into new modes of artmaking that transgressed modernist heroic painterly styles and subverted the traditional economic structures of the gallery the museum and the dealer At the same time the artists also embraced these domains of knowledge and practice as expressions of hope for a better future Many found inspiration in the scientific theory of open systems which investigated problems of wholeness dynamic interaction and organization enabling consideration of the porous boundaries between human bodies and their social political and nonhuman environments Filippone also establishes that the theory of open systems not only informed feminist art but also continued to influence women artists practice of reclamation and ecological art through the twenty first century

In Search of P. D. Ouspensky Gary Lachman, 2014-03-17 P D Ouspensky s classic work In Search of the Miraculous was the first to disseminate the ideas of G I Gurdjieff the mysterious master of esoteric thought in the early twentieth century who still commands a following today Gurdjieff s mystique has long eclipsed Ouspensky once described by Gurdjieff as nice to drink vodka with but a weak man Yet Ouspensky was a brilliant accomplished philosopher in his own right and some consider his meeting with the charismatic Mr G the catastrophe of his life Indeed in subsequent years Ouspensky tried hard with limited success to break away This book moves Ouspensky s own story center stage against the backdrop of the Russian Revolution the dervishes of Constantinople and a cosmopolitan Europe entre deux guerres The archetypal encounter it describes echoes that of Don Juan and Castaneda or perhaps Mephistopheles and Faust One of the great mystical adventures of our time it will fascinate everyone interested in the farthest reaches of what it means to be human The paperback edition includes a new chapter on Gary Lachman s own former work in Gurdjieff s psychology
