120 - Overlooked and Left Behind: Improving the Transition from School to Work for the Majority of Young People The Stationery Office, 2016 The transition from school into work is a vital point in the lives of young people Making a successful transition through a high quality and valued pathway can mean a successful career Becoming trapped in poor quality and under valued alternatives can mean a lifetime of poverty This report is about young people and social mobility and focuses on how to ensure that all young people are offered a high quality career path after they leave school We have found that the current policy structure means a large number of young people do not have good options and are not supported to make a choice which works for them and is successful An increasing number of young people leave school and go on to A Levels and university Of the others a small minority are at risk of dropping out of education employment or training the NEETS Successive governments have focused on these two groups for a long time But the majority of young people in the UK do not fall into either group They do not go to university they find jobs or they continue with some form of vocational education Despite making up the majority of the emerging workforce they have received much less attention It is these young people who are the focus of this report The current system for young people who do not follow an academic route is complex and incoherent with confusing incentives for young people and employers Careers advice and education are being delivered in a way which means that too many young people simply drift into further studies or their first job which often has no real prospect of progression The Civic Mission of Museums Anthony Pennay, 2020-12-15 Museums have long sought to maintain relevance in the daily lives of their communities Over the past several decades museums have shifted as a field from a focus on collections to a focus on connecting with audiences More recently museums must confront political polarization and a decreasing sense of trust in nearly every public institution As a result few institutions are better positioned to serve the country than museums In fact polls show that museums rank among the most trusted institutions in the country regardless of political belief During tumultuous times this trust means that museums have a unique and important responsibility to fulfill their civic mission A century ago John Cotton Dana argued that the most important thing a museum can do is produce a public benefit The Civic Mission of Museums argues that museums play an essential role in the cultivation of engaged and informed citizens The book outlines a spectrum of civic learning that includes civic knowledge civic mindset civic skillset and civic action It offers concrete examples of impactful civic programming exhibits and public engagement from a diverse set of museums It ends with a practical toolkit gleaned from across the country for museum professionals to utilize

Building the Foundation: Whole Numbers in the Primary Grades Maria G. Bartolini Bussi,Xu Hua Sun,2018-03-29 This twenty third ICMI Study addresses for the first time mathematics teaching and learning in the primary school and pre school setting while also taking international perspectives socio cultural diversity and institutional constraints into account One of the main challenges of designing the first ICMI primary school study of this kind is the complex nature of mathematics at the early level Accordingly a focus area that is central to the discussion was chosen together with a number of related questions The broad area of Whole Number Arithmetic WNA including operations and relations and arithmetic word problems forms the core content of all primary mathematics curricula The study of this core content area is often regarded as foundational for later mathematics learning However the principles and main goals of instruction on the foundational concepts and skills in WNA are far from universally agreed upon and practice varies substantially from country to country As such this study presents a meta level analysis and synthesis of what is currently known about WNA providing a useful base from which to gauge gaps and shortcomings as well as an opportunity to learn from the practices of different countries and contexts
