Kennedy, 2020-07-28 The book explores the state of social studies education within selected East Asian societies and provides some insights into distinctive classroom practices In an increasingly volatile and unpredictable world the education of young people who both understand the contexts in which they are growing up and see the need for engaging with them is a top priority This task falls to social studies education which carries the responsibility for inducting young people into their social world and helping them to see the role they can play within it This is particularly important in East Asia where strong economic growth long held cultural values and diverse political systems create an environment that challenges young people on multiple fronts This book with its team of regional authors shows how different societies in the region are dealing with these challenges and what can be expected from future citizens The book will appeal to policy makers researchers and teachers interested in the current state of social studies education in East Asian societies The 1st International Conference on Advanced Intelligent System and Informatics (AIS2015), November 28-30, 2015, Beni Suef, Egypt Tarek Gaber, Aboul Ella Hassanien, Nashwa El-Bendary, Nilanjan Dey, 2015-11-09 The conference topics address different theoretical and practical aspects and implementing solutions for intelligent systems and informatics disciplines including bioinformatics computer science medical informatics biology social studies as well as robotics research The conference also discuss and present solutions to the cloud computing and big data mining which are considered hot research topics The conference papers discussed different topics techniques models methods architectures as well as multi aspect domain specific and new solutions for the above disciplines The accepted papers have been grouped into five parts Part I Intelligent Systems and Informatics addressing topics including but not limited to medical application predicting student performance action classification and detection of dead stained microscopic cells optical character recognition plant identification rehabilitation of disabled people Part II Hybrid Intelligent Systems addressing topics including but not limited to EMG signals text classification geomagnetic inverse problem email filtering Part III Multimedia Computing and Social Networks addressing topics including but not limited to augmented reality telepresence robot video flash matting community detection quality images face thermal image extraction MRI tumor segmentation Part V Cloud Computing and Big Data Mining discussing topics including but not limited to mining on microblogs query optimization big data classification access control friendsourcing and assistive technology Part VI Swarm Optimization and Its Applications addressing topics including but not limited to solving set covering problem adaptive PSO for CT liver segmentation water quality assessment attribute reduction fish detection solving manufacturing cell design problem

Specifications Grading Linda B. Nilson, 2023-07-03 In her latest book Linda Nilson puts forward an innovative but practical and tested approach to grading that can demonstrably raise academic standards motivate students tie their achievement of learning outcomes to their course grades save faculty time and stress and provide the reliable gauge of student learning that the public and employers are looking for She argues that the grading system most commonly in use now is unwieldy imprecise and unnecessarily complex involving too many rating levels for too many individual assignments and tests and based on a hairsplitting point structure that obscures the underlying criteria and encourages students to challenge their grades This new specifications grading paradigm restructures assessments to streamline the grading process and greatly reduce grading time empower students to choose the level of attainment they want to achieve reduce antagonism between the evaluator and the evaluated and increase student receptivity to meaningful feedback thus facilitating the learning process all while upholding rigor In addition specs grading increases students motivation to do well by making expectations clear lowering their stress and giving them agency in determining their course goals Among the unique characteristics of the schema all of which simplify faculty decision making are the elimination of partial credit the reliance on a one level grading rubric and the bundling of assignments and tests around learning outcomes Successfully completing more challenging bundles or modules earns a student a higher course grade Specs grading works equally well in small and large class settings and encourages authentic assessment Used consistently over time it can restore credibility to grades by demonstrating and making transparent to all stakeholders the learning outcomes that students achieve This book features many examples of courses that faculty have adapted to spec grading and lays out the surprisingly simple transition process It is intended for all members of higher education who teach whatever the discipline and regardless of rank as well as those who oversee train and advise those who teach Specification grading promotes the following values and outcomes It 1 Upholds High Academic Standards 2 Reflects Student Attainment of Skills and Knowledge 3 Motivates Students to Learn and to Excel 4 Fosters Higher Order Cognitive Development and Creativity 5 Discourages Cheating 6 Reduces Student Stress 7 Makes Students Feel Responsible for Their Grades 8 Minimizes Conflict Between Faculty and Students 9 Saves Faculty Time and Is Simple to Administer 10 Makes Expectations Clear and Simplifies Feedback for Improvement 11 Assesses Authentically 12 Achieves High Inter Rater Agreement Innovative

Developing Societies Kempe Ronald Hope Sr., 2015-09-25 Much of the literature on police corruption and police reforms is dominated by case studies of societies classified as developed However under the influence of globalization developing societies have become a focal point of scholarly interest and examination Police Corruption and Police Reforms in Developing Societies provides critical analyses Michigan Government, Politics, and Policy John S Klemanski, David A

Dulio, 2017-08-02 The State of Michigan has experienced both tremendous growth and great decline in its history After many decades of growth up to the 1950s a wide variety of challenges had to be confronted by citizens and all levels of government in Michigan The late 20th and early 21st centuries have seen pockets of growth but also long term economic decline in several areas in the state As one example steep economic decline in major industrialized cities such as Detroit Flint and Pontiac led to increased unemployment rates and flight from the state as residents sought jobs elsewhere Michigan was in fact the only state in the union to experience net population loss between 2000 and 2010 At the same time emergencies such as the Detroit bankruptcy and the Flint water crisis have captured the attention of the national and international media focusing the spotlight on the responses successful or unsuccessful by state and local government As the state continues to deal with many of these challenges Michiganders more than ever need a clear picture of how their state's political institutions actors and processes work To that end this book provides a comprehensive analysis of Michigan's politics and government that will help readers better understand the state's history and its future prospects Chapters elucidate the foundational aspects of the state's government the Michigan Constitution and intergovernmental relations its political institutions the state legislature governor and court system its politics political parties and elections and its public policy education economic development and budget and fiscal policy The book's four themes historical context decline responses to challenges and state local government relations run throughout and are buttressed by coverage of recent events Moreover they are brought together in a compelling chapter with a particular focus on the Flint water crisis An ideal fit for courses on state and local government this thorough well written text will also appeal to readers simply interested in learning more about the inner workings of government in the Great Lakes State

Comprehensive Systems Biomedicine Pietro Lio, Enrico Capobianco, 2014-12-03 Systems Biomedicine is a field in perpetual development By definition a translational discipline it emphasizes the role of quantitative systems approaches in biomedicine and aims to offer solutions to many emerging problems characterized by levels and types of complexity and uncertainty unmet before Many factors including technological and societal ones need to be considered In particular new technologies are providing researchers with the data deluge whose management and exploitation requires a reinvention of cross disciplinary team efforts The advent of omics and high content imaging are examples of advances de facto establishing the necessity of systems approaches Hypothesis driven models and in silico validation tools in support to all the varieties of experimental applications call for a profound revision The focus on phases like mining and assimilating the data has substantially increased so to allow for interpretable knowledge to be inferred Notably to be able to tackle the newly generated data dimensionality heterogeneity and complexity model free and data driven intensive applications are increasingly shaping the computational pipelines and architectures that quant specialists set aside of the high throughput genomics transcriptomics proteomics platforms As for the societal aspects in many advanced societies health care needs now more than in the past to address the problem of managing ageing populations and their complex morbidity patterns In parallel there is a growing research interest on the impact that cross disciplinary clinical epidemiological and quantitative modelling studies can have in relation to outcomes potentially affecting the quality of life of many people Complex systems including those characterizing biomedicine are assessed in both their functionality and stability and also relatively to the capacity of generating information from diversity variation and complexity Due to the combined interactions and effects such systems embed prediction power available for instance in both target identification or marker discovery or more generally for conducting inference about patients pathological states i e normal versus disease diagnostic or prognostic analysis and preventive assessment e g risk evaluation The ultimate goal personalized medicine will be achieved based on the confluence of the system s predictive power to patient specific profiling
