Post-Pop Cinema Jesse Fox Mayshark, 2007-05-30 Starting in the early 1990s artists such as Quentin Tarantino David Foster Wallace and Kurt Cobain contributed to a swelling cultural tide of pop postmodernism that swept through music film literature and fashion In cinema in particular some of the arts most fundamental aspects stories characters and genres for instance assumed such a trite and trivialized appearance that only rarely could they take their places on the screen without provoking an inward smirk or a wink from the audience Out of this highly self conscious and world weary environment however a new group of filmmakers began to develop as the decade wore on with a new set of styles and sensibilities to match In Post Pop Cinema author Jesse Fox Mayshark takes us on a film by film tour of the works of these filmmakers including Wes and P.T. Anderson Sofia Coppola Richard Linklater Alexander Payne and David O. Russell and seeks to reveal how a common pool of styles collaborators and personal connections helps them to confront the unifying problem of meaning in American film Wes Anderson's Bottle Rocket 1996 and Paul Thomas Anderson's Boogie Nights 1997 were ultimately about their characters lives even though their characters often dealt with highly contrived environments and situations And soon after Wes Anderson scored his first success others like David O. Russell Flirting With Disaster Three Kings the screenwriter Charlie Kaufman who collaborated with Spike Jonze on such projects as Being John Malkovich and Adaptation Alexander Payne Election Sideways Richard Kelly Donnie Darko and Sofia Coppola Lost in Translation began to tread their own paths over this same ground Although these men and women represent a wide range of styles and subject matter all their films revolve in different ways around the difficulty of establishing and maintaining connections This theme of connection also runs deeper than the films made the directors share actors Mark Wahlberg Bill Murray Ben Stiller Jason Schwartzman collaborators the musician Jon

Brion and sometimes even personal connections Spike Jonze starred in Russell's Three Kings and was married to Coppola Together these filmmakers form a loose and distinctly American school of filmmaking one informed by postmodernism but not in thrall to it and one that every year becomes more important to the world of cinema both within and beyond the United States
