Gift Of Amnesia:

Communities of Memory William James Booth, 2018-07-05 Memory has fueled merciless violent strife and it has been at the core of reconciliation and reconstruction It has been used to justify great crimes and yet it is central to the pursuit of justice In these and more everyday ways we live surrounded by memory individual and social in our habits our names the places where we live street names libraries archives and our citizenship institutions and laws Still we wonder what to make of memory and its gifts though sometimes we are hardly even certain that they are gifts Of the many chambers in this vast palace I mean to ask particularly after the place of memory in politics in the identity of political communities and in their practices of doing justice from the Preface W James Booth seeks to understand the place of memory in the identity ethics and practices of justice of political communities Identity is he believes a particular kind of continuity across time one central to the possibility of agency and responsibility and memory plays a central role in grounding that continuity Memory identity takes two forms a habitlike form the deep presence of the past that is part of a life led in common and a more fragile vulnerable form in which memory struggles to preserve identity through time notably in bearing witness a form of memory work deeply bound up with the identity of political communities Booth argues that memory holds a defining place in determining how justice is administered Memory is tied to the very possibility of an ethical community one responsible for its own past able to make commitments for the future and driven to seek justice Underneath and motivating the politics of memory understood as contests over the writing of history over memorials museums and canons he writes there lies an intertwining of memory identity and justice Communities of Memory both argues for and maps out that intertwining

Engagement Kimberly Hope Belcher, 2011 The long standing tradition of baptizing infants suggests that the sacraments plunge our bodies into salvation so the revelation of God's love in the sacraments addresses the whole person not the mind alone In this work the contemporary Roman Catholic rite of baptism for infants becomes a case study manifesting the connections between the human body the ecclesial body and the Body of Christ The sacramental life for children as for adults is an ongoing journey deeper into the life of the Father the Son and the Holy Spirit By examining the church's practice of infant baptism Kimberly Hope Belcher asks how human beings participate in God's life through the sacraments Christian sacraments are embodied cultural rituals performed by and for human beings At the same time the sacraments are God's gifts of grace by which human beings enter into God's own life In this study contemporary ritual studies sacramental theology and trinitarian theology are used to explore how participation in the sacraments can be an efficacious engagement in God's life of love Kimberly Hope Belcher is an assistant professor of theology at Saint John's University where she teaches sacramental theology and ritual studies She is a member of the North American Academy of Liturgy and writes for the liturgical blog Pray Tell

Subjectivity, 2016-08-22 Subjectivity is one of the central issues of twentieth century philosophy literature and art Modernism which discovered the subconscious put an end to the belief in the Cartesian Subject as the autonomous centre of knowledge and self consciousness Instead the subject became something uncontrollable unreliable incomplete and fragmentary The attempts to recapture the unity of the subject led to the existential quest and the flight into ideology nazism communism Postmodernism the cultural movement of the second half of the twentieth century did not consider the subject any longer as an important category Attention was focused on the I and the Other on dialogism and polyphonism Bakhtin Ideology lost its appeal and so did the great stories Lyotard In this issue of Avant Garde Critical Studies the problem of subjectivity in twentieth century culture is discussed from various angles by specialists in the field of philosophy literature film music and dance

The Encyclopedia of Memory and Memory Disorders Carol Turkington, Joseph Harris, 2002 More than 600 clear concise entries explore such topics as the anatomy of the brain the role of the brain in the central nervous system how thoughts feelings and memories develop the effects of brain injuries and the impact of major brain diseases The glossary bibliography and appendixes have also been thoroughly revised

Memory, Amnesia, and the Hippocampal System Neal J. Cohen, Howard Eichenbaum, 1993 In this sweeping synthesis Neal J Cohen and Howard Eichenbaum bring together converging findings from neuropsychology neuroscience and cognitive science that provide the critical clues and constraints for developing a more comprehensive understanding of memory Specifically they offer a cognitive neuroscience theory of memory that accounts for the nature of memory impairment exhibited in human amnesia and animal models of amnesia that specifies the functional role played by the hippocampal system in memory and that provides further understanding of the componential structure of memory The authors central thesis is that the hippocampal system mediates a capacity for declarative memory the kind of memory that in humans supports conscious recollection and the explicit and flexible expression of memories They argue that this capacity emerges from a representation of critical relations among items in memory and that such a relational representation supports the ability to make inferences and generalizations from memory and to manipulate and flexibly express memory in countless ways In articulating such a description of the fundamental nature of declarative representation and of the mnemonic capabilities to which it gives rise the authors theory constitutes a major extension and elaboration of the earlier procedural declarative account of memory Support for this view is taken from a variety of experimental studies of amnesia in humans nonhuman primates and rodents Additional support is drawn from observations concerning the neuroanatomy and neurophysiology of the hippocampal system The data taken from divergent literatures are shown to converge on the central theme of hippocampal involvement in declarative memory across species and across behavioral paradigms
