A Naval Venture T. T. Jeans, 1917 On one miserably wet and cheerless afternoon of February 1915 the picket boat of H M S Achates lay alongside the King s Stairs at Portsmouth Dockyard whilst her crew with their boat hooks kept her from bumping herself against the lowest steps The rain trickled down their glistening oilskins and dark angry clouds sweeping up from behind Gosport Town on the opposite side of the harbour and scudding overhead one after the other in endless battalions made it certain that a south westerly gale was raging in the Channel At the top of the steps with his back to the wind and rain his feet wide apart and his hands in his pockets was the midshipman of the boat in oilskin sou wester and sea boots This was Mr Vincent Orpen commonly known as the Orphan not very tall but sturdy and broad shouldered in his bulky oilskins Between the brim of his dripping sou wester and his turned up collar showed a pair of very humorous eyes a determined looking nose and mouth and a pair of large ears reddened by the cold and rain

A Naval Venture T. T. Into Deep Waters John Shehan, 2014-10-03 Crew member John Shehan reflects on his personal growth with his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and documents his transition from a sinful sailor to a soul saved Witness how a man easily compromised by the temptations of ship life is broken down systematically by the Hand of God before being rebuilt as a vessel for the Holy Spirit. It is in the rebuilding process that the ship becomes the training ground for John spiritually and mentally during which time all forms of bondages are capsized and every oppression under siege. It is a full-blown battle at sea over one man's soul. With personal stories and spiritual insight, John Shehan navigates his way through the channel of purpose and discovers God waiting on the other side like a beacon of light coming from the lighthouse. God senses his distress and maneuvers him into a position of steadiness whereby he remains anchored in Christ. It is in this position that John begins his ministry at sea, spreading the gospel to fellow crew members in an upper room of a cruise ship. Believers from all nations gather as testimonies are declared and the New Testament of Jesus is spread throughout the ship. Animal Ethics Robert Garner, 2005-09-02 This book is an attempt to lead the way through the moral maze that is our relationship with nonhuman animals. Written by an author with an established reputation in this field, the book takes the reader step by step through the main parameters of the debate, demonstrating at each turn the different positions adopted. In the second part of the book, the implications of holding each position for the ethical permissibility of what is done to animals in laboratories, farms, the home, and the wild are explained. Garner starts by asking whether animals have any moral standing before moving on to assess exactly what degree of moral status ought to be accorded to them. It is suggested that whilst animals should not be granted the same moral status as humans, they are worthy of greater moral consideration than the orthodox animal welfare position allows. As a result, it is suggested that many of the ways we currently treat animals are morally illegitimate. In the final chapter, the issue of political praxis is tackled: How are reforms to the ways in which animals are treated to be achieved? This book suggests that currently dominant debates about insider status and direct action are less important than the question of agency. That is the important question is not what is done to change the way animals are treated, as much as whom is to be mobilised to join the cause. Students of philosophy, politics, and environmental issues will find this an essential textbook. Raphael Cliff Cochran, 2020-02-04 The veil to Eden is ever so slightly lifted. Its vast waters and endless lands full of life are briefly seen by a young man who went where he wasn't supposed to go. The gates to Eden are guarded by terrifying creatures and the penalty for trespassing is death. The young man is lost and trapped in the dreary pathway between worlds. Kaiyo, a two and a half year old grizzly, and his human family are asked to find a hiker who entered the Montana wilderness and didn't come back. What started as a routine search changes when the McLeods realize they are being followed. The evil one wants the hiker, but Kaiyo and his family get to him first. Bitter enemies are made, captives defect, and battles are fought in the ancient war between unseen nations.
