the Modeling of Hydrologic Systems D.S Bowles, P. Enda O'Connell, 2012-12-06 Modeling of the rainfall runoff process is of both scientific and practical significance Many of the currently used mathematical models of hydrologic systems were developed a generation ago Much of the effort since then has focused on refining these models rather than on developing new models based on improved scientific understanding In the past few years however a renewed effort has been made to improve both our fundamental understanding of hydrologic processes and to exploit technological advances in computing and remote sensing It is against this background that the NATO Advanced Study Institute on Recent Advances in the Modeling of Hydrologic Systems was organized The idea for holding a NATO ASI on this topic grew out of an informal discussion between one of the co directors and Professor Francisco Nunes Correia at a previous NATO ASI held at Tucson Arizona in 1985 The Special Program Panel on Global Transport Mechanisms in the Geo Sciences of the NATO Scientific Affairs Division agreed to sponsor the ASI and an organizing committee was formed The committee comprised the co directors Professor David S Bowles U S A and Professor P Enda O Connell U K and Professor Francisco Nunes Correia Portugal Dr Donn G DeCoursey U S A and Professor Ezio Todini Italy Uncertainty in Climate Change Research Linda O. Mearns, Chris E. Forest, Hayley J. Fowler, Robert Lempert, Robert L. Wilby, 2025-07-14 This edited volume with open access discusses all aspects of uncertainty in climate change research with a unique emphasis on decision making under uncertainty and the assessment of various uncertainties in the landscape of decision making By analyzing uncertainty through the lens of decision making the book seeks to understand and assess the various uncertainties inherent in climate change research including uncertainties in economic impacts human health and vulnerability fluctuations in the physical climate system changes in infrastructure and future climate projections Very little published material exists on the uncertainties regarding vulnerability of different populations to climate change and so the book characterizes the uncertainty in vulnerability to better formulate solutions to climate change problems in affected populations The volume will be of interest to students post docs early career scientists and researchers interested in all aspects of climate change After an introduction that addresses the issue of uncertainty in general as it pertains to climate change research the book is divided into 5 main sections Section 1 focuses on uncertainty in policy and decision making and how climate related policy choices impact risk management impact mitigation and adaptation Section 2 discusses uncertainty in climate change impacts including impacts in agriculture water resources transportation infrastructure and human health and vulnerability Section 3 analyzes physical climate uncertainties such as Earth system projections emissions concentrations and sea level rise projections Section 4 details the methods for quantifying uncertainty from a statistical perspective Section 5 concludes the volume with discussions on special topics and integrated themes on uncertainty including ethics and uncertainty communication the economics of climate change and integrated modeling for decision support
