The State of African Cities, 2014 United Nations Publications, 2015-09-10 The African continent is currently in the midst of simultaneously unfolding and highly significant demographic economic technological environmental urban and socio political transitions Africa s economic performance is promising with booming cities supporting growing middle classes and creating sizable consumer markets Despite significant overall growth the continent continues to suffer under very rapid urban growth accompanied by massive urban poverty and many other social problems. These seem to indicate that the development trajectories followed by African nations since post independence may not be able to deliver on the aspirations of broad based human development and prosperity for all. This report therefore argues for a bold re imagining of prevailing models in order to steer the ongoing transitions towards greater sustainability based on a thorough review of all available options. That is especially the case since the already daunting urban challenges in Africa are now being exacerbated by the new vulnerabilities and threats associated with climate and environmental change.

Wilderness Management Chad P. Dawson, John C. Hendee, 2025-02-20 For 45 years this classic textbook on wilderness management has served as the most comprehensive information available on the stewardship and protection of wilderness resources and values. The seventeen chapters outline the history, legislation, policies, planning and stewardship carried out by the four federal land managing agencies: Forest Service, National Park Service, Bureau of Land Management and Fish and Wildlife Service entrusted with stewardship and protection of the more than 110 million acre National Wilderness Preservation System. Written for wilderness and wildlands planners, managers, stewards, advocates and educators, this revised fifth edition builds on the material of the first four editions and extensively updates chapters on international wilderness managing for appropriate wilderness conditions, wilderness ecosystems, fire in wilderness ecosystems, ecological impacts of wilderness recreation and their management and wilderness visitor management. This textbook is an invaluable guide for resource managers, students, scientists, policy makers and for wilderness advocates and visitors around the world.

Deepening the EU-China Partnership Mario Telò, Ding Chun, Zhang Xiaotong, 2017-11-14 The China EC EU relationship started in 1975 is a highly institutionalized multidimensional and complex but to some extent controversial international partnership. It is also challenged within the current unstable world. This book addresses the convergences and the differences, ideational, political, institutional and interests related between China and the EU by a collective interaction between Chinese and European scholars. Among other things, the book assesses sectoral bilateral dialogue and focuses on the interplay between internal complexity and external policies, discusses ideational divergences in international law and rule of law and in many relevant policy fields. Furthermore, it compares sustainable growth policies, explores trade and investment controversies and negotiations, human rights dialogue and addresses environment and climate change policies. This text will be of key interest to EU studies and politics, China studies and more broadly to area Asian studies and international relations, global governance.

The Routledge Handbook of Community Based Tourism Management Sandeep Kumar Walia, 2020-12-21 This Handbook offers an up to date and comprehensive overview of core themes and concepts in community based tourism management. Providing interdisciplinary insights from leading international scholars, this is the first book to critically examine the current status of community based tourism. Organised into five parts, the Handbook provides cutting edge perspectives on issues such as Indigenous communities, tourism and the environment, sustainability and the impact of digital communities Part 1 introduces core concepts and methodologies and distinguishes community products from other tourism and hospitality goods Part 2 explores communities attitudes towards tourism development and their engagement with and ownership of the process It also delves into the role of community based tourism under the influence of governmental policies in the economic and social development of a region In Part 3 various management marketing and branding initiatives are identified as a means of expanding the tourism business Part 4 examines the negative impacts of mass tourism and its threats to culture tradition identity the built environment and natural heritage In the final and fifth part future challenges and opportunities for community based tourism initiatives are considered and research based sustainable solutions are proposed Overall the book considers engaging local populations in tourism development as a way of building stronger and more resilient communities This Handbook fills a void in the current research and thus will appeal to scholars students and practitioners interested in tourism management tourism geography business studies development policy and practice regional development conservation and sustainability
