Buller, 2019-12-10 This book examines some of the most important challenges facing administrators and other professionals in PreK-12 schools today safety and security hiring and evaluating members of the faculty and staff dealing with students' academic and behavioral challenges assessing student performance responding to disengaged or overly engaged parents and handling external pressures from the community It also explores ideas for how to design the types of schools our students will need in the future and cope with the realities of trying to develop these schools in a difficult educational environment Preferring practical advice over unsupported hypotheses and adopting clear instructive language rather than educational jargon the authors draw upon their own experience as well as some of the best research currently being conducted in the field of educational leadership The book is suitable for self-study workshops education courses and in-service programs The target audience is current and prospective PreK-12 administrators teachers student teachers and staff For Teaching with Passion and Caring, Thoughtful Words and Sharing Thank You Bill Rodgers, 2019-05-13 Great value for a teacher appreciation gift This beautiful lined journal with lovely colors and a wonderful message is a great teacher thank you gift It has an inspirational message for educators that serves as a reminder they are positively impacting their students' lives This teacher notebook can be an addition to a gift bag Also a thank you card replacement because you can write a kind message on the first page to your teacher It makes a fun and useful gift that can be easily carried in a purse or bag It can be used for to-do lists notes jotting down ideas and more For work and school Excellent as a retirement gift Heartwarming gift for teacher appreciation week Numbered pages Educating the Small Business Work Force United States. Congress. House. Committee on Small Business. Subcommittee on Development of Rural Enterprises, Exports, and the Environment, 1994 This document records the oral testimony and written reports of witnesses who testified at a Congressional hearing on education for entry level workers who are needed by small businesses Those who offered oral or written testimony included representatives of the following National Alliance of Business the American Society for Training and Development the Educational Testing Service the Council on Competitiveness and the Executive Secretarial School The testimony centered on the theme that noncollege bound students who represent about 75 percent of students do not have the basic skills needed to fill the jobs available and to advance in those jobs Witnesses suggested that many kinds of reform have been tried with little success They pointed to Goals 2000 however as the type of movement that is needed and that might provide the goals necessary for collective work toward a more competitive work force Some witnesses believe that educational reform cannot be just tinkering around the edges but must be a complete overhaul of the school system Others suggested a youth apprenticeship program for the last 2 years of high school with employers playing a greater role in training students for the jobs available According to one witness schools and employers need to agree on validated skills necessary for high school graduates so noncollege bound students have some incentive to study In addition education should stress more applications according to several witnesses Some witnesses also stated that small businesses cannot afford training for their employees and that the federal government should provide tax incentives for training personnel just as they do for technology and equipment purchases KC
