

The background is a surrealist painting of a city street scene. It features several figures: a man in a blue sweater walking away from the viewer, a woman in a yellow jacket and blue skirt walking towards the viewer, and other figures in the background. A small white dog is on the ground. The scene is characterized by dark, swirling lines that seem to warp the perspective. A red-bordered text box is overlaid on the top left.

Arkography Gunnar Olsson, 2020-05-01 In this fascinating text Gunnar Olsson tells the story of an arkographer who with Pallas Athene's blessings travels down the Red River Valley navigates the Kantian Island of Truth and takes a house tour through the Crystal Palace the latter edifice an imagination grown out of Gunnael Jensson's sculpture Mappa Mundi Universalis This travel story carries the arkographer from the oldest creation epics extant to the power struggles of today nothing less than a codification of the taken for granted a mapping of the no man's land between the five senses of the body and the sixth sense of culture By constantly asking how we are made so obedient and predictable the explorer searches for the present day counterparts to the biblical ark the chest that held the commandments and the rules of behavior that came with them hence the term arkography a word hinting at an as yet unrecognized discipline In Arkography Olsson strips bare the governing techniques of self declared authorities including those of the God of the Old Testament and countless dictators the latter supported by a horde of lackeys often disguised as elected representatives and governmental functionaries From beginning to end Arkography is an illustration of how every creation epic is a variation on the theme of chaos turning into cosmic order A palimpsest of layered meanings a play of things and relations identity and difference One and many you and me

Stranger Than Fiction Edwin Frank, 2024-11-19 One of the Washington Post s 50 Best Nonfiction Books of 2024 A New York Times Book Review Editors Choice Ambitious intelligent and happily unpretentious Louis Menand The New Yorker Convincing idiosyncratic and often felicitous Alexandra Jacobs The New York Times Book Review A legendary editor s reckoning with the twentieth century novel and the urgent messages it sends How can we live differently a young woman urgently demands in Virginia Woolf s novel The Years It is the 1930s war and death are in the air but her question was asked again and again in the course of a century where things changed fast and changed all the time The century brought world wars revolutions automobiles movies and the internet votes for women death camps The century brought questions Novelists in the twentieth century had a question of their own how can we write a novel as startling and unforeseen as the world we live in Again and again they did transforming the novel as the century remade the world Imagine the history of the twentieth century novel recounted with the urgency and intimacy of a novel That's what Edwin Frank the legendary editor who has run the New York Review Books publishing imprint since its inception does in Stranger than Fiction With penetrating insight and originality Frank introduces us to books some famous some little known from the whole course of the century and from around the world Starting with Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground of 1864 Frank shows how its twitchy self-undermining and never satisfied narrator established a voice that would echo through the coming century He illuminates the political vision of H G Wells's science fiction Colette and Andre Gide's subversions of traditional gender roles and Gertrude Stein's untethering of the American sentence He describes the monumental ambition of books such as Mrs Dalloway The Magic Mountain and The Man Without Qualities to rebuild a world of human possibility upon the ruins of World War I and explores how Japan's Natsume Soseki and Nigeria's Chinua Achebe broke open European models to reflect their own distinct histories and experience Here too are Vasily Grossman Anna Banti and Elsa Morante reckoning in specific ways with the traumas of World War II while later chapters range from Marguerite Yourcenar and V S Naipaul to Gabriel Garcia Marquez and W G Sebald The story as a whole is one of fearless often reckless exploration as well as unfathomable desolation Throughout we discover the power of the novel to reinvent itself to find a way for itself to live differently Stranger than Fiction offers a new vision of the history and art of the novel and of a dark and dazzling time in whose light and shadow we still stand
