from diffident drudge to frankly insane in both fact and fiction A fascinating look at a previously little considered element of Penrose Tiles to Trapdoor Ciphers...and the Return of Dr. Matrix Martin Gardner, 2020-10-06 Martin the book Gardner's Mathematical Games columns in Scientific American inspired and entertained several generations of mathematicians and scientists Gardner in his crystal clear prose illuminated corners of mathematics especially recreational mathematics that most people had no idea existed His playful spirit and inquisitive nature invite the reader into an exploration of beautiful mathematical ideas along with him These columns were both a revelation and a gift when he wrote them no one before Gardner had written about mathematics like this They continue to be a marvel This volume was originally published in 1989 and contains columns from published 1976 1978 This 1997 MAA edition contains three new columns written specifically for this volume including the resurrection of the lamented Dr Matrix The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes, 2014-11-07 Why the rise of redundant precision in architecture and the accompanying fear of error are key to understanding the discipline's needs anxieties and desires When architects draw even brick walls to six decimal places with software designed to cut lenses it is clear that the logic that once organized relations between precision and material error in construction has unraveled Precision already a promiscuous term seems now to have been uncoupled from its contract with truthfulness Meanwhile error and the always political space of its dissent has reconfigured itself In The Architecture of Error Francesca Hughes argues that behind the architect's acute fetishization of redundant precision lies a special fear of physical error What if we were to consider the pivotal cultural and technological transformations of modernism to have been driven not so much by the causes its narratives declare she asks as by an unspoken horror of loss of control over error material life and everything that matter stands for Hughes traces the rising intolerance of material vagaries from the removal of ornament to digitalized fabrication that produced the blind rejection of organic materials the proliferation of material testing and the rhetorical obstacles that blighted cybernetics Why is it she asks that the more we cornered physical error the more we feared it Hughes's analysis of redundant precision exposes an architecture of fear whose politics must be called into question Proposing error as a new category for architectural thought Hughes draws on other disciplines and practices that have interrogated precision and failure citing the work of scientists Nancy Cartwright and Evelyn Fox Keller and visual artists Gordon Matta Clark Barbara Hepworth Rachel Whiteread and others These non architect practitioners she argues show that error need not be excluded and precision can be made accountable Bion in Film Theory and Analysis Carla Ambrósio Garcia, 2016-12-01 In Bion in Film Theory and Analysis The Retreat in Film Carla Ambr sio Garcia introduces the rich potential of the thinking of British psychoanalyst Wilfred Bion for film theory By so doing she rethinks the space of the cinema as a space of retreat and brings new insights into the representation of retreat in film Presented in two parts the book seeks to deepen our understanding of the film experience and psychical growth Part I places Bion s view on the importance of the epistemophilic instinct at the heart of a critique of the pleasure centred theories of the cinematic apparatus of Jean Louis Baudry Christian Metz and Gaylyn Studlar proposing an idea of cinema as thoughts in search of a thinker Garcia then moves from Bion's epistemological period to his later work which draws on mysticism in order to posit an emotional experience in the cinema through which the subject can be or become real or at one with O Part II examines representations of retreat in four European films directed by Ingmar Bergman Pier Paolo Pasolini Georges Perec and Bernard Queysanne and Manoel de Oliveira showing them to articulate a gesture of retreat as an emotionally turbulent transitional stage in the development of the psyche what Bion conceptualizes as caesura Through its investigation of the retreat in cinema the book challenges common understandings of retreat as a regressive movement by presenting it as a gesture and space that can also be future oriented Bion in Film Theory and Analysis will be of significant interest to academics and students of psychoanalysis psychotherapy and film and media studies as well as psychoanalysts and psychotherapists The Literary Review ,2012 Mind Works Antonino Ferro, 2014-05-12 Is the analyst s mind a factor in the analytic process In Mind Works Antonino Ferro uses clinical material such as detailed reports of sessions together with client's analytic histories to develop Bion's original findings and illustrate complex concepts in the field of psychoanalytic technique These concepts include interpretive modalities the end of analysis psychosomatic pathologies narcissism Mind Works Technique and Creativity in Psychoanalysis also suggests that dreaming is a fundamental moment in analytic work and Ferro discusses how dreams can go beyond the present to become a continuous act of the mind in the waking state allowing internal and external stimuli to be transformed into thoughts and emotions Focusing on how the minds of the analyst and the analysand work in psychoanalysis this book will appeal to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and psychiatrists and will be helpful in psychoanalytic and psychotherapeutic work on a day to day basis Landscapes of Realism Svend Erik Larsen, Steen Bille Jørgensen, Margaret R. Higonnet, 2022-03-15 Few literary phenomena are as elusive and yet as persistent as realism While it responds to the perennial impulse to use literature to reflect on experience it also designates a specific set of literary and artistic practices that emerged in response to Western modernity Landscapes of Realism is a two volume collaborative interdisciplinary investigation of this vast territory bringing together leading edge new criticism on the realist paradigms that were first articulated in nineteenth century Europe but have since gone on globally to transform the literary landscape Tracing the manifold ways in which these paradigms are developed discussed and contested across time space cultures and media this second volume shows in its four core essays and twenty four case studies four major pathways through the landscapes of realism The psychological pathways focusing on emotion and memory the referential pathways highlighting the role of materiality the formal pathways demonstrating the dynamics of formal experiments and the geographical pathways exploring the worlding of realism through the encounters between European and non European languages from the nineteenth century to the present This volume is part of a book set which can be ordered at a special discount
