Metahaven Uncorporate Identity:

Uncorporate Identity Daniel van der Velden, Marina Vishmidt, Metahaven, 2010 This book takes an imaginative approach to visual identity

Come Together Francesco Spampinato, 2014-12-02 The past twenty years have seen a new generation of artists working together in small groups and large collectives to explore new avenues of art design performance and commerce In Come Together author and visual artist Francesco Spampinato assembles an international roster of forty of today's most exciting and influential collectives from design studios like Project Projects and political performance artists The Yes Men to flash mob provocateurs Improv Everywhere and the multimedia artists Assume Vivid Astro Focus Alongside visual portfolios of their best work are in depth interviews addressing each group's unique motivations processes and objectives What emerges is a shared desire to turn viewers into producers and to use commercial mass media strategies to challenge prevailing social political and cultural power structures Come Together is an essential resource and inspiration for students art lovers and anyone interested in the cutting edge of visual culture

The Development of Corporate Design David Preston, 2025-10-16 Chronicling the emergence of brand consultancy this book explores how the development and proliferation of brand identity systems transformed the working methods and ideals of practicing graphic designers working in post war Britain Practitioners in Britain were at the forefront of efforts to transform corporate identity design into a recognised practice with its own codified methods Focussing particularly on the British experience the book also draws on the influences and developments in this formative era in other countries including the US and Germany During this period designers were struggling with two conflicting paradigms the socially motivated free spirited artist designer and the design entrepreneur as corporate agent David Preston uses three key design agencies as the springboard to explore this foundational period in the history of graphic design labour practices the practical rationality of Hans Schleger Associates the systematic methods of Henrion Design Associates and the Design Research Unit and their design manual as an instrument of control These design agencies created some of the most striking and successful brand identities of the era the KLM logo the British Rail double arrow the John Lewis branding of the 1960s Glenfiddich's iconic triangular bottle the Post Office's house style the National Theatre logo and many more The case studies look at the power at play how branding became systematic the struggle between motives and standards and draws on first hand interviews with key actors and archival material A valuable contribution to our understanding of British post war graphic design and the history of branding

Command+I WOT WOW, The Architect as Worker Peggy Deamer, 2015-07-30 Directly confronting the nature of contemporary architectural work this book is the first to address a void at the heart of architectural discourse and thinking For too long architects have avoided questioning how the central aspects of architectural practice professionalism profit technology design craft and building combine to characterize the work performed in the architectural office Nor has there been a deeper evaluation of the unspoken and historically determined myths that assign cultural symbolic and economic value to architectural labor The Architect as Worker presents a range of essays exploring the issues central to architectural labor These include questions about the nature of design work immaterial and creative labor and how it gets categorized spatialized and monetized within architecture the connection between parametrics and BIM and labor theories of architectural work architectural design as a cultural and economic condition entrepreneurialism and the possibility of ethical and rewarding architectural practice The book is a call to arms and its ultimate goal is to change the practice of architecture It will strike a chord with architects who will recognize the struggle of their profession with students trying to understand the connections between work value and creative pleasure and with academics and cultural theorists seeking to understand what grounds the discipline

Thinking with Shakespeare Julia Reinhard Lupton, 2019-10-04 What is a person What company do people keep with animals plants and things Such questions bearing fundamentally on the shared meaning of politics and life animate Shakespearean drama yet their urgency has often been obscured Julia Reinhard Lupton gently dislodges Shakespeare's plays from their historical confines to pursue their universal implications From Petruchio's animals and Kate's laundry to Hamlet's friends and Caliban's childhood Lupton restages thinking in Shakespeare as an embodied act of consent cure and care Thinking with Shakespeare encourages readers to ponder matters of shared concern with the playwright by their side Taking her cue from Hannah Arendt Lupton reads Shakespeare for fresh insights into everything from housekeeping and animal husbandry to biopower and political theology

Making Another World Possible Corina L. Apostol, Nato Thompson, 2019-10-11 Making Another World Possible offers a broad look at an array of socially engaged cultural practices that have become increasingly visible in the past decade across diverse fields such as visual art performance theater activism architecture urban planning pedagogy and ecology Part I of the book introduces the reader to the field of socially engaged art and cultural practice spanning the past ten years of dynamism and development Part II presents a visually striking summary of key events from 1945 to the present offering an expansive view of socially engaged art throughout history and Part III offers an overview of the current state of the field elucidating some of the key issues facing practitioners and communities Finally Part IV identifies ten global issues and in turn documents 100 key artistic projects from around the world to illustrate the various critical aesthetic and political modes in which artists cultural workers and communities are responding to these issues from their specific local contexts This is a much needed and timely archive that broadens and deepens the conversation on socially engaged art and culture It includes commissioned essays from noted critics practitioners and theorists in the field as well as key examples that allow insights into methodologies contextualize the conditions of sites and broaden the range of what constitutes an engaged culture Of interest to a wide range of readers from practitioners and scholars of performance to curators and historians Making Another World Possible offers both breadth and depth spanning history and individual works to offer a unique insight into the field of socially engaged art

The Stack Benjamin H. Bratton, 2016-02-26 A comprehensive political and design theory of planetary scale computation proposing that

The Stack an accidental megastructure is both a technological apparatus and a model for a new geopolitical architecture What has planetary scale computation done to our geopolitical realities It takes different forms at different scales from energy and mineral sourcing and subterranean cloud infrastructure to urban software and massive universal addressing systems from interfaces drawn by the augmentation of the hand and eye to users identified by self quantification and the arrival of legions of sensors algorithms and robots Together how do these distort and deform modern political geographies and produce new territories in their own image In The Stack Benjamin Bratton proposes that these different genres of computation smart grids cloud platforms mobile apps smart cities the Internet of Things automation can be seen not as so many species evolving on their own but as forming a coherent whole an accidental megastructure called The Stack that is both a computational apparatus and a new governing architecture We are inside The Stack and it is inside of us In an account that is both theoretical and technical drawing on political philosophy architectural theory and software studies Bratton explores six layers of The Stack Earth Cloud City Address Interface User Each is mapped on its own terms and understood as a component within the larger whole built from hard and soft systems intermingling not only computational forms but also social human and physical forces This model informed by the logic of the multilayered structure of protocol stacks in which network technologies operate within a modular and vertical order offers a comprehensive image of our emerging infrastructure and a platform for its ongoing reinvention The Stack is an interdisciplinary design brief for a new geopolitics that works with and for planetary scale computation Interweaving the continental urban and perceptual scales it shows how we can better build dwell within communicate with and govern our worlds thestack org

Once in a Lifetime Kevin McCloud, Sally Blundell, Roger Sutton, Rebecca MacFie, David Sheppard, Gary Franklin, 2014-08-31 New Zealand has to rebuild the majority of its second largest city after a devastating series of earthquakes a unique challenge for a developed country in the twenty first century The 2010 2011 earthquakes fundamentally disrupted the conventions by which the people of Christchurch lived The exhausting and exhilarating mix of distress uncertainty creativity opportunities divergent opinions and competing priorities generates an inevitable question how do we know if the right decisions are being made Once in a Lifetime City building after Disaster in Christchurch offers the first substantial critique of the Government s recovery plan presents alternative approaches to city building and archives a vital and extraordinary time It features photo and written essays from journalists economists designers academics politicians artists publicans and more Once in a Lifetime presents a range of national and international perspectives on city building and post disaster urban recovery

Social Practices and City Spaces Kyriaki Tsoukala, 2023-11-07 This book examines the relationship between social practices and built space focusing on current cooperative participative and posthuman approaches to its production and management From a social cultural and ecological perspective it explores the modes of engagement of all factors in the constitutional processes of inhabited space Throughout this interdisciplinary collection built space is reconsidered in the light of other schools of thought such as philosophy anthropology social sciences and political theories and practices It covers new ground at conceptual epistemic and methodological levels focusing on inhabited space from within the framework of globalisation biopolitics cultural changes environmental crisis and new technologies Organised into three parts Parts 1 and 2 focus on the role of architects in the emergence of a new ethos for habitation as well as the modalities of the inclusion of differences in design discussing the importance of participation and narrative at a theoretical and practical level in architecture In the third part the chapters delve into questions regarding the intersection of design ecology and technoscience in a posthuman approach which might support the inclusion of differences in design and the emergence of a new environmental ethos Providing a stimulating landscape of arguments and challenges to new readings of architecture society and the environment this book will be of interest to researchers students and professionals of architecture urban planning anthropology and philosophy
