Carbon Dioxide Chemistry, Capture and Oil Recovery Iyad Karamé, Janah Shaya, Hassan Srour, 2018-08-16 Fossil fuels still need to meet the growing demand of global economic development yet they are often considered as one of the main sources of the CO₂ release in the atmosphere CO₂ which is the primary greenhouse gas GHG is periodically exchanged among the land surface ocean and atmosphere where various creatures absorb and produce it daily However the balanced processes of producing and consuming the CO₂ by nature are unfortunately faced by the anthropogenic release of CO₂ Decreasing the emissions of these greenhouse gases is becoming more urgent Therefore carbon sequestration and storage CSS of CO₂ its utilization in oil recovery as well as its conversion into fuels and chemicals emerge as active options and potential strategies to mitigate CO₂ emissions and climate change energy crises and challenges in the storage of energy cycling in the context of climate change which has emerged as a relevant field of science The book is broken into four sections Understanding the Importance of Ocean Biogeochemistry Quantifying Oceanic Carbon Variables Phytoplankton and Oceanic Carbon Cycle Ocean Acidification Edited by a researcher with many years of experience and with contributions from scientists from around the world this volume explores the most important topics on climate change and oceanic carbon cycling Fitness of Marine Calcifiers in the Future Acidifying Ocean Jonathan Y. S. Leung, Ben P. Harvey, Bayden D. Russell, 2021-11-09 Cleaner Combustion and Sustainable World Haiying Qi, Bo Zhao, 2012-11-19 Cleaner Combustion and Sustainable World is the proceedings of the 7th International Symposium on Coal Combustion which has a significant international influence It concerns basic research on coal combustion and clean utilization techniques and equipments of pulverized coal combustion techniques and equipments of fluidized bed combustion basic research and techniques of emission control basic research and application techniques of carbon capture and storage CCS etc Professor Haiying Qi and Bo Zhao both work at the Tsinghua University China Chemical Speciation of Organic and Inorganic components of Environmental and Biological Interest in Natural Fluids Francesco Crea, Alberto Pettignano, 2020-03-25 The International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry IUPAC defines the term speciation as the distribution of an element amongst defined chemical species in a system while the process leading to quantitative estimation of the content of different species is called speciation analysis The chemical speciation of elements in natural waters and biological fluids is a key topic essential for discussing the chemical reactivity of constituents in these systems It is well understood that it is the chemical form of a metal or metalloids that determines its reactivity lifetime and fate in the environment Chemical speciation now involves various sectors of the sciences from chemistry to biology biochemistry and environmental sciences since as is well known the total concentration alone of an inorganic or organic component metal or ligand in a multicomponent natural system fresh water sea water biological fluids soil etc is insufficient for a comprehensive understand of its behavior in those contexts

Research & Development ,2007-05 Biochar Balwant Singh, Marta Camps-Arbestain, Johannes Lehmann, 2017-03-01 Interest in biochar among soil and environment researchers has increased dramatically over the past decade Biochar initially attracted attention for its potential to improve soil fertility and to uncouple the carbon cycle by storing carbon from the atmosphere in a form that can remain stable for hundreds to thousands of years Later it was found that biochar had applications in environmental and water science mining microbial ecology and other fields Beneficial effects of biochar and its environmental applications cannot be fully realised unless the chemical physical structural and surface properties of biochar are known Currently many of the analytical procedures used for biochar analysis are not well defined which makes it difficult to choose the right biochar for an intended use and to compare the existing data for biochars Also in some instances the use of inappropriate procedures has led to erroneous or inaccurate values for biochars in the scientific literature Biochar A Guide to Analytical Methods fills this gap and provides procedures and guidelines for routine and advanced characterisation of biochars Written by experts each chapter provides background to a technique or procedure a stepwise guide to analyses and includes data for biochars made from a range of feedstocks common to all presented methods Discussion about the unique features advantages and disadvantages of a particular technique is an explicit focus of this handbook for biochar analyses Biochar is primarily intended for researchers postgraduate students and practitioners who require knowledge of biochar properties It will also serve as an important resource for researchers industry and regulatory agencies dealing with biochar The Chemical Engineer ,2006 Microbes in the Spotlight A.
