Muses, Mistresses and Mates Anna Suwalska Kolečka, Izabella Penier, 2015-06-18 The Muse is one of the oldest archetypes in human civilization and in the past was a representation of an idealized woman blessed with beauty and creativity and exerting irresistible attraction for many a man Nowadays in the wake of feminism the idea of the Muse seems a bit obsolete quaint or downright sexist and is said to enhance a vicious stereotype of the creative productive and active man and the passive submissive and docile woman However this book shows that this in fact is not the case Maids and Mistresses, Cousins and Queens Susan Frye, Karen Robertson, 1999 This new collection of sixteen essays considers evidence for the varied forms of women's alliances in early modern England It shows how women prohibited from direct participation in the institutional structures that shaped the lives of men constructed informal connections with other females for purposes of survival advancement and creativity The essays presented here consider a variety of communities formed among groups as diverse as serving women vagrants aristocrats and authors in order to study the historical traces of women's connections Alliance as understood by the essayists in this volume does not preclude competition or antagonism since the bonds among women were frequently determined by an opposition to other women As shown here the theorizing of women's connections and the recovery of the historical evidence for these connections can only add to our understanding of women's activities in early modern English society Maids and Mistresses Cousins and Queens is divided into four sections The first two Alliances in the City and Alliances in the Household examine the circumstances of women's communities in two primary sites for women of this place and time The second two Materializing Communities and Emerging Alliances fully study the aspirations that guided and transformed the courses of women's lives All of these interdisciplinary essays deftly combining literary and historical methods and materials are informed by feminism queer theory and studies of class and race in the early modern period

The Spectator, 1872 The Education Gazette of the Province of the Cape of Good Hope Cape of Good Hope (South Africa). Education Department, 1921 Translating Petrarch in early modern Britain Marie-Alice Belle, Riccardo Raimondo, Francesco Venturi, 2025-08-05 Translating Petrarch in early modern Britain gathers twelve essays by international scholars focusing on the translation of Petrarch's vernacular verse Canzoniere and Triumphs into English from the Tudor age to the mid-seventeenth century and beyond Approaching translation as an interpretive process but also a mode of literary emulation and cultural engagement with Petrarch's prestigious precedent the collection explores the complex and interconnected trajectories of both poetic works in English and Scottish literary milieux While situating each translation in its distinct historical material and literary context the essays trace the reception of Petrarch's works in early modern Britain through the combined processes of linguistic and metric innovation literary imitation musical adaptation and cultural and material domestication The collection sheds light on the origins and development of early modern English Petrarchism as part of wider transnational and indeed translational European literary culture Mighty Lewd Books J. Peakman, 2003-06-24

Mighty Lewd Books describes the emergence of a new home grown English pornography Through the examination of over 500 pieces of British erotica this book looks at sex as seen in erotic culture religion and medicine throughout the long eighteenth century and provides a radical new approach to the study of sexuality Journal of Education ,1914 The Periodical ,1896 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1887 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science, Art, and Finance ,1928 Journal of Education and School World ,1887 The Athenaeum ,1909 Publishers' Circular ,1874 Fate and Fortune in European Thought, ca. 1400-1650 Ovanes Akopyan,2021-04-26 If the universe were conceived to fulfill a certain divine plan or to manifest God's will and glory what would the place of an individual be within this plan What is more if from the very beginning of its existence and through divine providence it were predestined to be driven toward a certain end how could people adjust their individual lives to the incognizable universal design and react to the obscure future fraught with both luck and failure These questions which have occupied humanity for centuries formed a remarkable element of early modern European thought This collection of essays presents new insights into what shaped and constituted reflections on fate and fortune between roughly 1400 and 1650 both in word and image This volume argues that these ideas were emblematic of a more fundamental argument about the self society and the universe and shows that their influence was more widespread geographically and thematically than hitherto assumed Contributors Damiano Acciarino Ovanes Akopyan Elisabeth Blum Paul Richard Blum Jo Coture Guido Giglioni Dalia Judovitz Sophie Raux Orlando Reade and John Sellars The Journal of Education ,1893 Shakespeare's Sonnets Kenneth Muir,2013-09-13 This edition first published in 1979 Discussing Shakespeare's sonnets in relation to sonnets by Italian French and English poets Kenneth Muir shows how they were influenced by Shakespeare's reading of Sidney Erasmus and Ovid and discusses their art in terms of construction sound patterns and imagery He considers the relationship of the sonnets to Shakespeare's dramatic writing while stressing the dramatic element in the sonnets themselves Finally he surveys the changing attitudes to the sonnets during the last three centuries Sexual Visions L. J.
