Organizational Report Cards William T. Gormley Jr., David L. Weimer, 1999-03 In recent years consumers professional organizations government officials and third party payers have become increasingly concerned about how to assess the quality of the services provided by organizations in both the private and the public sectors One new approach is the organizational report card which compares the performance of organizations such as public schools colleges hospitals and HMOs This book offers the first comprehensive study of such instruments It discusses the circumstances under which they are desirable alternatives to other policy instruments such as regulation how they should be designed who is likely to use them and for what purpose and what role if any government should have in their creation Informed by cases drawn from education health and other policy areas this book develops a conceptual framework for analyzing these issues It explores the tradeoffs in measuring performance the methods of communicating results effectively to mass and elite audiences and the ways in which organizations respond to the data gathered Composing Diverse Identities D. Jean Clandinin, Janice Huber, Marilyn Huber, M. Shaun Murphy, Anne Murray Orr, Marni Pearce, Pam Steeves, 2006-04-18 In a climate of increasing emphasis on testing measurable outcomes competition and efficiency the real lives of children and their teachers are often neglected or are too messy and intricate to legislate and quantify As such curricula are designed without including the very people that compose the identities of schools Here Clandinin takes issue with this tendency bringing together a collection of narratives from seven writers who spent a year in an urban school exploring the experiences and contributions of children families teachers and administrators These stories show us an alternative way of attending to what counts in schools shifting away from the school as a business model towards an idea of schools as places to engage citizenship and to attend to the wholeness of people's lives Articulating the complex ethical dilemmas and issues that face people and schools every day this fascinating study puts school life under the microscope raises new questions about who and what education is for

Partnering to Prepare Urban Teachers American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, 2008 This book attempts to present both theoretical and practical perspectives on school and university partnerships that focus on the preparation and retention of urban teachers In particular the book focuses on a theoretical and historical underpinnings of partnering to prepare urban teachers as social activists b stories from the field explored through the voices and actions of students families teacher educators and preservice and in service teachers and c a critical analysis of this work The research presented is situated in urban settings that mirror those across the United States and represents partnerships in Boston Chicago Cleveland Los Angeles and Wilmington where school city and teacher education communities collaborate to prepare and keep teachers in hard to staff high needs schools Case studies included in the text explore multiple perspectives on partnering to prepare urban teachers including those of urban schoolchildren and their teachers teacher educators and teachers becoming teacher educators and parents Combined the chapters theoretically and practically detail the layers and conundrums tribulations and triumphs contexts and voices of the challenges facing urban teachers teacher educators community members and administrators who work collaboratively to prepare and support teachers as social activists We Are Crew: Ron Berger, Anne Vilen, Libby Woodfin, 2021-02-01 Crew is two things It is a schoolwide culture that supports social and emotional wellness character development and academic and life success for students and staff It is also a unique and transformational meeting structure for secondary school advisories elementary school morning and closing circles and for staff collaboration We Are Crew provides guidance for bringing Crew to your school or district and highlights numerous examples from successful schools that have used Crew to foster student and staff success for more than 25 years We Are Crew is paired with an online toolkit of resources and a suite of open source videos Still Failing at Fairness David Sadker, Karen R. Zittleman, 2009-04-28 Despite decades of effort to create fair classrooms and schools gender bias is alive and well and in some ways growing School practices continue to send boys and girls down different life paths too often treating them not as different genders but as different species Teachers and parents often miss the subtle signs of sexism in classrooms Through firsthand observations and up to the minute research Still Failing at Fairness brings the gender issue into focus The authors provide an in depth account of how girls and boys educations are compromised from elementary school through college and offer practical advice for teachers and parents who want to make a positive difference The authors examine today's pressing issues the lack of enforcement for Title IX the impact of the backlash against gender equity the much hyped boys crisis hardwired brain differences and the recent growth of singlesex public schools This book documents how teaching current testing practices and subtle cultural attitudes continue to short circuit both girls and boys of every race social class and ethnicity Hard hitting and remarkably informative Still Failing at Fairness is a fascinating look into America's classrooms National Association of School Psychologists Handbook on Assessments for Gifted Learners Susan K. Johnsen, Joyce VanTassel-Baska, 2022-07-19 This essential handbook is a comprehensive and systematic examination of the assessment of gifted and advanced students and their programs and a must have resource for coordinators and directors at state and local levels Handbook on Assessments for Gifted Learners explores issues associated with building an effective identification system clarifies and interprets the need for targeted learning progress assessments for gifted learners and discusses program evaluation assessments and processes used to gauge programs success Engaging chapters written by both academic and practitioner experts provide research based practical ideas for identifying and measuring the progress of gifted and advanced learners Readers will benefit from informed recommendations stemming from current research conducted specifically for this text Handbook of Research on Schools, Schooling and Human Development Judith L. Meece, Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2010-06-10 Children spend more time in school than in any social institution outside the home And schools probably exert more influence on children's development and life chances than any environment beyond the home and neighbourhood The purpose of this book is to document some important ways schools influence children's development and to describe various models and methods for studying schooling effects. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage: this is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about schools as a context for human development. Topical coverage ranges from theoretical foundations to investigative methodologies and from classroom level influences such as teacher-student relations to broader influences such as school organization and educational policies. Cross-Disciplinary: this volume brings together the divergent perspectives, methods, and findings of scholars from a variety of disciplines, among them educational psychology, developmental psychology, school psychology, social psychology, psychiatry, sociology, and educational policy. Chapter Structure: to ensure continuity, chapter authors describe 1) how schooling influences are conceptualized, 2) identify their theoretical and methodological approaches, 3) discuss the strengths and weaknesses of existing research, and 4) highlight implications for future research practice and policy. Methodologies: chapters included in the text feature various methodologies, including longitudinal studies, hierarchical linear models, experimental and quasi-experimental designs, and mixed methods.

There is Another Way! Margaret A. Byrnes, Jeanne Baxter, 2012-01-01 Summary Digest of Statutes Enacted and Proposed Constitutional Amendments Submitted to the Electors, 2007 The Use of Data in School Counseling Trish Hatch, 2013-11-13

Reach ALL students and prove how critical your counselling program is. For school counsellors, using data effectively doesn't have to be a burden. Data can make the difference for today's embattled school counselling programs, and this insightful book shows how to collect and manage it. School counseling scholar and advocate Dr. Trish Hatch describes how K-12 counsellors can replace random acts of guidance with intentional, well-timed interventions based on student data. Aligned with current research and the American School Counselor Association (ASCA) standards, this essential resource includes a complete set of tools and templates for data collection, action planning, and reporting. Readers will learn how to develop a robust counselling curriculum that supports the Common Core Standards and dropout prevention. Replace random acts of guidance with intentional, well-timed interventions that are based on student needs. Measure progress through pre and post assessments. Deliver compelling reports that demonstrate your program's impact.
