The Globe Dictionary of the English Language English language, 1873

D. H. Lawrence, Ecofeminism and Nature Terry Gifford, 2022-09-30 Shortlisted for the ASLE UKI Prize for Best Academic Monograph This is the first ecocritical book on the works of D H Lawrence and also the first to consider the links between nature and gender in the poetry and the novels In his search for a balanced relationship between male and female characters what role does nature play in the challenges Lawrence offers his readers How far are the anxieties of his characters in negotiating relationships that might threaten their sense of self derived from the same source as their anxieties about engaging with the Other in nature Indeed might Lawrence's metaphors drawn from nature actually be the causes of human actions in The Rainbow for example The originality of Lawrence's poetic and narrative strategies for challenging social attitudes towards both nature and gender can be revealed by new approaches offered by ecocritical theory and ecofeminist readings of his books This book explores ecocritical notions to frame its ecofeminist readings from the difference between the Other and otherness in The White Peacock and Lady Chatterley's Lover anotherness in the poetry of Birds Beasts and Flowers psychogeography in Sea and Sardinia emergent ecofeminism in Sons and Lovers land and gender in The Boy in the Bush gender dialogics in Kangaroo human animality in Women in Love trees as tests in Aaron's Rod to radical animism in The Plumed Serpent Finally three late tales provide a reassessment of ecofeminist insights into Lawrence's work for readers in the present context of the Anthropocene

Investing in the Educational Success of Black Women and Girls Lori D. Patton,Venus Evans-Winters,Charlotte Jacobs,2023-07-03 In the powerful essays that make up Investing in the Educational Success of Black Women and Girls Black women and girls are listened to appreciated and valued in recognition of the unrelenting challenges to our existence in a world that continues to be committed to stifling our voices What these authors know intimately is that such stifling is not because what Black women and girls are saying isn't important It is precisely because it is This book names the challenges Black women and girls continue to experience as we pursue our education and offers implications and recommendations for practitioners teachers administrators and policymakers It needs to be read widely and deeply studied as much for its formations and beautiful representations of Black women and girls as its recommendations It is the truth telling we need today and a groundbreaking resource we need today and beyond Cynthia B Dillard Nana Mansa II of Mpeasem Ghana Athens Georgia and Cape Coast Central Region Ghana While figures on Black women and girls degree attainment suggest that as a group they are achieving in society the reality is that their experiences are far from monolithic that the educational system from early on and through college imposes barriers and inequities pushing many out of school criminalizing their behavior and leading to a high rate of incarceration The purpose of this book is to illuminate scholarship on Black women and girls throughout the educational pipeline The contributors all Black women educators scholars and advocates name the challenges Black women and girls face while pursuing their education as well as offer implications and recommendations for practitioners policymakers teachers and administrators to consider in ensuring the success of Black women and girls This book is divided into four sections each identifying the barriers Black girls and women encounter at the stages of their education and offering strategies to promote their success and agency within and beyond educational contexts In Part One the contributors explore the importance of mattering for Black girls in terms of redefining success and joy centering Black girl literacy pedagogies that encourage them to thrive examining how to make STEM more accessible to them and recounting how Black girls emotions and emotional literacy can either disempower them or promote their sense of agency to navigate educational contexts Part Two uncovers the violence directed toward and the criminalization of Black women and girls and how they are situated in educational and justice systems that collude to fail them The contributors address incarceration and the process of rehabilitation and reentry the outcomes of disciplinary action in schools on women who pursue college and describe how the erasure and disregard of Black women and girls leaves them absent from the educational policies that deeply affect their lives and wellbeing Part Three focuses on how Black women are left to navigate without resources that could make their collegiate pathways smoother covers how hair politics impact their acceptance in college leadership roles particularly at HBCUs illuminates the importance of social emotional and mental health for Black undergraduate women and the lack of adequate resources and explores how women with disabilities navigate higher education The final part of this book describes transformative approaches to supporting the educational needs of Black women and girls including the use of a politicized ethic of care intergenerational love and dialogue and constructing communities including digital environments to ensure they thrive through their education and beyond

The Anti-Imperialist and Nationalist Struggle of Halide Edib Adivar and Lady Augusta Gregory Neslihan G.

Albay,2020-03-04 This book offers a comparative study on the literary configurations of nation state identity in the works of the contemporaneous Halide Edib Ad var and Lady Augusta Gregory specifically focusing on their roles as social reformists female activists and anti imperialists through the components of national identity such as gender language and transnational exchanges It exposes the critical stance adopted by Lady Gregory and Halide Edib against British imperialism and questions if these writers exhibit a local or international outlook of anti imperialism It is the first comparative study on Lady Gregory and Halide Edib and explores how their anti imperial stances shaped or influenced their sense of national identity It will allow the reader to reach a unique evaluation of the literary works of these two writers with different cultural backgrounds but similar national ideals Film Bulletin ,1969 Art, Education and Gender Gill Hopper,2015-10-05 Why do girls study art and why do girls become primary teachers This book examines and reveals the powerful influence of the family the school and the state in shaping female identity and constructing notions of gender appropriateness It also discusses the
