

A historical painting depicting a scene from the Inca Empire. In the center, a figure, likely an Inca ruler or high priest, stands wearing a tall, ornate headdress with white feathers and a gold face mask. He has one arm raised in a gesture of blessing or command. He is surrounded by a large crowd of people in traditional Inca attire, including tunics and huancas. Some individuals are seated on the ground, while others stand. In the foreground, a person is prostrate on the ground, possibly in a ritual or act of submission. The background shows a landscape with hills and a building with a thatched roof. The overall style is that of a 19th-century historical painting.
