Ski, 1997-06 Armor, 1993 Emotion, Social Theory, and Social Structure J. M. Barbalet, 2001-09-06 Emotion Social Theory and Social Structure takes sociology in a new direction It examines key aspects of social structure by using a fresh understanding of emotions categories Through that synthesis emerge new perspectives on rationality class structure social action conformity basic rights and social change As well as giving an innovative view of social processes J M Barbalet's study also reveals unappreciated aspects of emotions by considering fear resentment vengefulness shame and confidence in the context of social structure While much has been written on the social consequences of excessive or pathological emotions this book demonstrates the centrality of emotions to routine operations of social interaction Dr Barbalet also re evaluates the nature of social theory for once the importance of emotions to social processes becomes clear the intellectual constitution of sociology and therefore its history must be rethought

Flexible Test Automation Pasquale Arpaia, Vitaliano Inglese, 2014-12-31 In laboratory management of an industrial test division a test laboratory or a research center one of the main activities is producing suitable software for automatic benches by satisfying a given set of requirements This activity is particularly costly and burdensome when test requirements are variable over time If the batches of objects have small size and frequent occurrence the activity of measurement automation becomes predominating with respect to the test execution Flexible Test Automation shows the development of a software framework as a useful solution to satisfy this exigency The framework supports the user in producing measurement applications for a wide range of requirements with low effort and development time

The Service Bulletin, 1924 Comparative Patriarchy and American Institutions Francis Feeley, 2010-02-19 As Claude Lévi Strauss wrote in his book La pensée sauvage Paris 1960 biographical and anecdotal history is low powered history which is not intelligible in itself and only becomes so when it is transferred en bloc to a form of history of a higher power than itself The historian's relative choice is always confined to the choice between history which teaches more and explains less and history which explains more and teaches less This book oscillates between analysis which tries to explain what man is and anecdote which tries to teach what he is capable of becoming What better approach to understanding patriarchy beyond learning the formal dictionary definitions of this term than by examining the richly diverse descriptions of gender relationships found in the following chapters It is the hope of these authors that the recognition of national differences and gender differences will provide new vantage points from which we may gain wider perspectives on our own prejudices and thereby find fulfillment of our aspirations to become more fully human

Air Force Magazine, 1988 The Epworth Herald, 1911 Consumers' Selves and Marketing Daniela Herzog, 2019-01-14 Consumers self concept plays a key role in consumer behavior Against this background this doctoral thesis is dedicated to the examination of important aspects related to consumers self In three papers Daniela Herzog studies consumers self in the context of marketing from three different perspectives In Paper 1 she provides a better understanding of the two types of consumers self concepts actual and ideal self and how they are construed In Paper 2 she examines how an activated ideal self i.e. ideal self congruence and its different facets e.g. related to status or friendship influence the perceptions of brands and consumers emotions simultaneously Finally in Paper 3 she studies how advertising that promotes the beauty of normality and challenges unrealistic beauty ideals impacts females self discrepancy difference between the actual and ideal self emotions and brand perceptions Conclusively this dissertation highlights consumers self as a central multifaceted and complex phenomenon The three papers improve our understanding of consumers actual and ideal self and provide insights into how to target them The dissertation also shows that both aspirational branding communicating with ideals and therapeutic advertising promoting the beauty of normality and challenging unrealistic and unattainable beauty ideals can have positive and negative effects on a consumer simultaneously a dual effect These findings imply that managers and researchers need to be aware of such potential dual effects In sum this dissertation generates implications for research in the context of consumers self in marketing and consumer behavior Furthermore this dissertation generates important implications for managers on how brands can most effectively target and activate consumers selves on how to position brands which are congruent with consumers ideals and on how to implement advertising strategies challenging unrealistic beauty ideals Journal of the Royal United Service Institution Royal United Service Institution,1898
