The Lognormality Principle And Its Applications In E-security, E-learning And E-health Rejean Plamondon, Angelo Marcelli, Miguel Angel Ferrer-ballester, 2020-11-17. This compendium provides a detailed account of the lognormality principle characterizing the human motor behavior by summarizing a sound theoretical framework for modeling such a behavior introducing the most recent algorithms for extracting the lognormal components of complex movements in 2, 2.5 and 3 dimensions. It also vividly reports the most advanced applications to handwriting analysis and recognition, signature and writer verification, gesture recognition and calligraphy generation, evaluation of motor skills improvement, degradation with aging, handwriting learning, education and developmental deficits, prescreening of children with ADHD (Attention Deficit and Hyperactivity Disorder), monitoring of concussion recovery, diagnosis and monitoring of Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases and aging effects in speech and handwriting. The volume provides a unique and useful source of references on the lognormality principle, an update on the most recent advances and an outlook at the most promising future developments in e-Security, e-Learning and e-Health.

ICEL2015-10th International Conference on e-Learning Dr Carlton Watson, 2015-06-12. These proceedings represent the work of researchers participating in the 10th International Conference on e-Learning ICEL 2015 which is being hosted this year by the College of the Bahamas, Nassau, on the 25-26 June 2015. ICEL is a recognised event on the International research conferences calendar and provides a valuable platform for individuals to present their research findings, display their work in progress and discuss conceptual advances in the area of e-Learning. It provides an important opportunity for researchers and managers to come together with peers to share their experiences of using the varied and expanding range of e-Learning available to them. With an initial submission of 91 abstracts, after the double blind peer review process, there are 41 academic Research papers and 2 PhD papers. Research papers published in these Conference Proceedings. These papers come from some many different countries including Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Germany, Greece, Hong Kong, Malaysia, Portugal, Republic of Macedonia, Romania, Slovakia, South Africa, Sweden, United Arab Emirates, UK and the USA. A selection of the best papers, those agreed by a panel of reviewers and the editor, will be published in a conference edition of EJEL, the Electronic Journal of e-Learning, www.ejel.com. These will be chosen for their quality of writing and relevance to the Journal's objective of publishing papers that offer new insights or practical help into the application of e-Learning.

How to Enhance Learning Efficiency When Online Learning is Popular and Indispensable: Theory, Research and Practice Rong Lian, Chang Liu , Juzhe Xi, 2024-07-17 Online learning has become more and more common globally whether for comfort adapting to work hours or just having the freedom to study from anywhere And now under the coronavirus pandemic as people are having to stay at home it has become more important than ever Although the popularity of wireless network and portable smart device makes it possible for people to acquire and learn knowledge anytime and anywhere it does not necessarily mean an increased learning performance Relevant research in cognitive science has revealed possible limitations in online learning For example the knowledge acquired through online learning tends to be fragmented and lacks guidance for integrated thinking among different subjects which makes it difficult for learners to form a systematic knowledge structure Learners may experience cognitive overload metacognitive illusion and low learning efficiency in self regulated learning It follows that in the post COVID 19 era online learning puts forward new requirements and challenges to the contemporary students not only to their learning strategies but positive character traits in learning Most of the current learning theories were developed in the early 20th century and may not fit in well with the current situation then possibly leading to inefficient learning and increased learning burden Therefore it is necessary and important to reexplore the influencing factors and mechanisms that affect the learning efficiency of students at all levels nowadays based on which we could construct a theoretical model of efficient learning model

The Gamification of Higher Education N. Niman, 2014-07-17 Instead of thinking about education as the mastery of a body of knowledge where the subject matter becomes the focus of our attention The Gamification of Higher Education encourages us to think of it as a process that draws out the best in individuals and prepares them for happy productive and successful lives School Libraries in a Time of Change Kathleen W. Craver, 2019-08-01 By becoming practical futurists school librarians can help their libraries not only to survive sweeping changes in education but to thrive This book shows how to spot technological trends and use them to your library's advantage During this time of rapid modernization of technology and educational reform this book is a must read for school librarians tasked with ensuring their libraries meet evolving standards This title provides the research and organizational techniques and skills they need to gain seats at the table of the three power committees technology curricula and strategic planning School librarians need to collect and publicize national and local school based evidence that shows the positive correlations between school librarians and student achievement Craver notes correlative sources and provides ideas to employ them to ensure that school librarians remain indispensable In addition acquiring technological skills and becoming expert at their application are paramount for librarians Even more important is the need for librarians to assume sole responsibility for designing and integrating information literacy and critical thinking skills throughout the curriculum Craver analyzes studies that show students inability to discern fact from fiction ads from news and information bias in electronic information sources and recommends six actions that school librarians take to ensure that they become active participants in their future rather than its victims Smart Education and e-Learning 2016 Vladimir L. Uskov, Robert J. Howlett, Lakhmi C.
