School Science Practical Work in Africa Umesh Ramnarain, 2020-06-01 School Science Practical Work in Africa presents the scope of research and practice of science practical work in African schools. It brings together prominent science educators and researchers from Africa to share their experience and findings on pedagogical innovations and research informed practices on school science practical work. The book highlights trends and patterns in the enactment and role of practical work across African countries. Practical work is regarded as intrinsic to science teaching and learning and the form of practical work that is strongly advocated is inquiry based learning which signals a definite paradigm shift from the traditional teacher dominated to a learner centered approach. The book provides empirical research on approaches to practical work, contextual factors in the enactment of practical work and professional development in teaching practical work. This book will be of great interest to academics, researchers and post graduate students in the fields of science education and educational policy. International Handbook on Education in Southeast Asia Lorraine Pe Symaco, Martin

Hayden, 2021-12-23 This International Handbook provides a detailed account of the education systems of 11 Southeast Asian nations including Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao People's Democratic Republic, Malaysia, Myanmar, the Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Timor Leste and Vietnam. It presents a systematic sector by sector explanation of how these national education systems deliver educational services and respond to national and international issues and challenges. With 56 chapters, the International Handbook is the region's most comprehensive educational reference source. In the first of its chapters, the editors introduce the regional context and draw attention to the distinctive characteristics of each of the 11 systems. Southeast Asia, representing 8.5% of the world's population, is as dynamic as it is diverse. The International Handbook charts progress and establishes a benchmark for documenting future developments. It also provides a stepping off point for more detailed investigations of decision making processes and outcomes across the 11 national education systems.

Primary Science Learning for Children, Teachers, and Communities Sarah Earle, Serving Library Users from Asia John Hickok, 2019-06-12 Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US. While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published (e.g. disabled, Latino seniors etc), few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written. Thus, the timely need for this book. Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole, this book has 24 separate chapters, each on a specific Asian country's culture of East, Southeast and South Asia, with a wealth of resources for understanding, interacting with, and serving library users of each culture. Resources include cultural guides, both print and online, language helps with sample library vocabulary, Asian booksellers, nationwide cultural groups, professional literature and more. Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries: public, school and academic, making this book valuable for all librarians. The demographics of each Asian culture, numbers and distribution, plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured. As a bonus, each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author s 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians
