Mathematics Education in Africa Brantina Chirinda, Kakoma Luneta, Alphonse Uworwabaye, 2022-11-28 This book is about mathematics teaching and learning in Africa during the Fourth Industrial Revolution. The Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR) has evolved to utilize new technologies in the teaching and learning of Mathematics. It is characterized by the fusion of the biological, physical, and digital worlds and embodies a new era of innovation in mathematics education leading to the rapid emergence of new technologies for mathematics teaching and learning. Because 4IR in mathematics education is happening differently in various parts of Africa, the authors of the various chapters in this volume have positioned their work in their respective local contexts. The chapters address a wide variety of interests, concerns, and implications regarding 4IR and Mathematics Education in Africa. Additionally, a number of chapters address teaching mathematics in the context of the COVID-19 pandemic that has gripped the world. Other chapters discuss the implications of inequalities in Africa that affect mathematics education during 4IR. Chapters also incorporate arguments, observations, and suggestions to improve and transform the teaching and learning of mathematics in Africa during the 4IR. This book highlights a new era of innovation in mathematics education in the context of the Fourth Industrial Revolution leading to the rapid emergence of new technologies in mathematics teaching and learning. It is a valuable resource for graduate students, people with research interests in the fourth industrial revolution, and mathematics educators at any level, including all mathematics teachers, mathematics education curriculum designers, and policymakers.

Elevating Clinical Practice in Mathematics Education Drew Polly, Christie S. Assessment Analytics in Education Muhittin Sahin, Dirk Ifenthaler, 2024-05-07 This book is about the current state of research in online assessment. The growth of this field is set to accelerate exponentially with emerging opportunities for automatic data collection and analysis. Yet the future of online assessment faces major challenges, including perhaps most importantly the extent to which assessments when enabled by technology can serve simultaneously the needs of learners, teachers, and those of the enterprise of education. This book details specifically the multiple ways in which online assessment can be utilized, such as providing virtual coaching or tutoring, offering appropriate scaffolding, allowing analysis of student decision making, providing the mechanism for students to review and comment on each other's digital creations, creating a space for online discussion, providing expert coaching for modeling and animation work. With the increased availability of vast and highly varied amounts of data from learners teachers learning environments and administrative systems within educational settings further opportunities arise for advancing pedagogical assessment practice Ifenthaler et al 2018 This book fully details these opportunities as well as privileges and constraints of analytics enhanced assessment harnessing formative as well as summative data from learners and their contexts in order to facilitate learning processes in near real time and help decisionmakers to improve learning environments
