Guide To Geography Challenge 6 The Mayas:

Geography and Religious Knowledge in the Medieval World Christoph Mauntel, 2021-06-08 In the medieval world geographical knowledge was influenced by religious ideas and beliefs Whereas this point is well analysed for the Latin Christian world the religious character of the Arabic Islamic geographic tradition has not yet been scrutinised in detail This volume addresses this desideratum and combines case studies from both traditions of geographic thinking The contributions comprise in depth analyses of individual geographical works as for example those of al Idrisi or Lambert of Saint Omer different forms of presenting geographical knowledge such as TO diagrams or globes as well as performative aspects of studying and meditating geographical knowledge Focussing on texts as well as on maps the contributions open up a comparative perspective on how religious knowledge influenced the way the world and its geography were perceived and described in the medieval world

The Geography of Central America and Mexico Thomas A. Rumney, 2013-04-04 Connecting the massive landscapes of North and South America are Mexico and Central America An area of fascination and study for geographers and scholars from around the world for millennia these lands and people have played important roles in the discoveries and distributions of civilizations resources and nations These regions have stimulated a large amount of research and publications across the sub disciplines of geography The Geography of Central America and Mexico A Scholarly Guide and Bibliography by Thomas A Rumney collects organizes and presents as many of these publications as possible to encourage efforts in the teaching study and continuing scholarship of the geography of this area which includes Mexico Belize Guatemala Honduras El Salvador Nicaragua Costa Rica and Panama Beginning with the region as a whole each chapter that follows one per nation is divided by the specific sub disciplines of geography cultural social economic historical physical and environmental political and urban Each section is further divided by document type atlases books book chapters articles from scholarly journals master s theses and doctoral dissertations Although the majority of entries recorded focus on English language works selected entries written in Spanish as well as French German and other languages are included with entries titles translated into English and noted accordingly

Resources in Education , 1996-04 Geography , 1980 Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie, 2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa Rethinking Development Geographies Marcus

Power,2004-08-02 Development as a concept is notoriously imprecise vague and presumptuous Struggles over the meaning of this fiercely contested term have had profound implications on the destinies of people and places across the globe

Rethinking Development Geographies offers a stimulating and critical introduction to the study of geography and development In doing so it sets out to explore the spatiality of development thinking and practices The book highlights the geopolitical nature of development and its origins in Empire and the Cold War It also reflects critically on the historical engagement of geographers with the Tropics the Third World and the South The dominant economic and political philosophies that shape the policies and perspectives of major institutions are discussed The interconnections between globalization and development are highlighted through an examination of local national and transnational resistance to various forms of development The text provides an accessible introduction to the complex and confusing world of contemporary global development Informative diagrams cartoons and case studies are used throughout While exploring global geographies of economic and political change Rethinking Development Geographies is also grounded in a concern with people and places the view from below the views of women and the view from the South School Farms Alshimaa

Aboelmakarem Farag,Samaa Badawi,Gurpinder Lalli,Maya Kamareddine,2021-11-28 This book highlights the potential of school farms to fight hunger and malnutrition by providing access to locally produced fresh and healthy food as well as providing young students with educational opportunities to learn interact with nature and develop their skills Hunger is one of the most pressing concerns we face today and there is a clear need to provide alternative sources of food to feed a fast growing population School farms offer a sustainable opportunity to produce food locally in order to feed underprivileged students who rely on school meals as an integral part of their daily diet Approaching the concept of school farms through four themes Problem People Process and Place the book shows how they can play an essential role in providing sustainable and healthy food for students the critical role educational institutions can play in promoting this process and the positive impact hands on farming can have on students mental and physical wellbeing Utilizing the authors personal hands on experiences and drawing on global case studies the book provides a theoretical framework and practical guidance to help with the establishment of school farms and community based gardening projects and an education system which promotes a sustainable and healthy approach to food agriculture and the environment This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of food security agriculture healthy and sustainable diets education for sustainable development and urban studies It will also be of great interest to practitioners and policymakers involved in food policy developing school and community projects global health and international development as well as education professionals Savoring

Alternative Food Jessica Hayes-Conroy, 2014-09-19 Advocates of the alternative food movement often insist that food is our common ground that through the very basic human need to eat we all become entwined in a network of mutual solidarity In this challenging book the author explores the contradictions and shortcomings of alternative food activism by examining specific endeavours of the movement through various lenses of social difference including class race gender and age While the solidarity adage has inspired many it is shown that this has also had the unfortunate effect of promoting sameness over difference eschewing inequities in an effort to focus on being together at the table The author explores questions of who belongs at the table of alternative food and who gets to decide what is eaten there and what is at stake when alternative food practices become the model for what is right to eat Case studies are presented based on fieldwork in two distinct loci of alternative food organizing school gardens and slow food movements in Berkeley California and rural Nova Scotia The stories take social difference as a starting point but they also focus specifically on the complexities of sensory experience how material bodies take up social difference both confirming and disrupting it in the visceral processes of eating Overall the book demonstrates the importance of moving beyond a promotion of universal shoulds of eating and towards a practice of food activism that is more sensitive to issues of social and material difference Crossing Cultures with the Peace Corps, 2008-10
