Bilateral Ecopolitics Philippe Le Prestre,Peter Stoett,2017-05-15 The context in which environmental policy decision making occurs has changed resulting from widening environmental problems increased demands from groups and citizens continuing pressure on the continent s resources and normative shifts The complexity of current issues is related to an even broader contextual shift the globalization of environmental issues exacerbated by trade liberalization especially on a regional level and the potential contradictions between trade and the environmental international agenda that this implies This volume studies the new dimensions of resource conflict between Canada and the United States accounting for the emergence of new bilateral environmental issues and detailing how trade liberalization has fostered both disputes and policy convergence It also examines the recent shifts in America towards a unilateral foreign policy and how this affects active Canadian diplomacy Ideal as a resource tool for students and academics this book will be a key resource in the areas of global governance US Canadian foreign policy and environmental policy The Terrestrial Biosphere S.T.

Trudgill,2014-09-25 Terrestrial Biosphere tries to pose the questions which underlie the many sided debate of how to respond to and influence change How should we view nature What do we do for the best how should we act what are we trying to achieve and what should we be guided by In doing so the book introduces and attempts to analyse not only scientific aspects of the debate but also cultural attitudes and values the notions of ecosystem stability are now challenged and it is also clear that ecosystems are renewable but not repeatable It finds that prescriptive solutions based on current constructs may not be adequate Feeling that analysis should lead to advocacy the author believes that if we can t improve predictability we have to increase adaptability which means that ecological and social capacity building should be advocated This is seen in terms of concepts institutions attitudes and values which allow for a plurality of meanings and which can cope with surprise and unforeseen change and which also facilitates responses to change Holt Science and Technology Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff,2001 Climate Change 2014 - Impacts, Adaptation and Vulnerability: Part B: Regional Aspects:
