Resources in Education, 1991 Awe Dacher Keltner, 2024-01-02 A National Bestseller Read this book to connect with your highest self Susan Cain 1 New York Times bestselling author of Bittersweet and Quiet We need more awe in our lives and Dacher Keltner has written the definitive book on where to find it Adam Grant 1 New York Times bestselling author of Think Again Awe is awesome in both senses a superb analysis of an emotion that is strongly felt but poorly understood with a showcase of examples that remind us of what is worthy of our awe Steven Pinker Johnstone Professor of Psychology Harvard University and author of How the Mind Works and Rationality From a foremost expert on the science of emotions a groundbreaking and essential exploration into the history science and greater understanding of awe Awe is mysterious How do we begin to quantify the goose bumps we feel when we see the Grand Canyon or our utter amazement when we watch a child walk for the first time Until recently there was no science of awe that feeling we experience when we encounter vast mysteries that transcend our understanding of the world Revolution ary thinking though has shown how humans have survived over the course of evolution thanks to our capacities to cooperate form communities and create culture all of which are spurred by awe In Awe Dacher Keltner presents a sweeping investigation and deeply personal inquiry into this elusive feeling Revealing new re search alongside an examination of awe across history culture and within his own life Keltner shows us how cultivating awe in our ev eryday lives leads us to appreciate what is most humane in our human nature At turns radical and profound brimming with enlightening and practical insights Awe is our field guide for how to place this emotion as a vital force within our lives The Terrestrial Biosphere S.T. Trudgill, 2014-09-25 Terrestrial Biosphere tries to pose the questions which underlie the many sided debate of how to respond to and influence change How should we view nature What do we do for the best how should we act what are we trying to achieve and what should we be guided by In doing so the book introduces and attempts to analyse not only scientific aspects of the debate but also cultural attitudes and values the notions of ecosystem stability are now challenged and it is also clear that ecosystems are renewable but not repeatable It finds that prescriptive solutions based on current constructs may not be adequate Feeling that analysis should lead to advocacy the author believes that if we can t improve predictability we have to increase adaptability which means that ecological and social capacity building should be advocated This is seen in terms of concepts institutions attitudes and values which allow for a plurality of meanings and which can cope with surprise and unforeseen change and which also facilitates responses to change Te HS&T J Holt Rinehart & Winston, Holt, Rinehart and Winston Staff, 2004-02 Saturday

Review of Literature, 1929 The Ecological Rift John Bellamy Foster, Brett Clark, Richard York, 2011-11-01 Humanity in the twenty first century is facing what might be described as its ultimate environmental catastrophe the destruction of the climate that has nurtured human civilization and with it the basis of life on earth as we know it All ecosystems on the planet are now in decline Enormous rifts have been driven through the delicate fabric of the biosphere The economy and the earth

are headed for a fateful collision if we don't alter course In The Ecological Rift Capitalism's War on the Earth environmental sociologists John Bellamy Foster Brett Clark and Richard York offer a radical assessment of both the problem and the solution They argue that the source of our ecological crisis lies in the paradox of wealth in capitalist society which expands individual riches at the expense of public wealth including the wealth of nature In the process a huge ecological rift is driven between human beings and nature undermining the conditions of sustainable existence a rift in the metabolic relation between humanity and nature that is irreparable within capitalist society since integral to its very laws of motion Critically examining the sanguine arguments of mainstream economists and technologists Foster Clark and York insist instead that fundamental changes in social relations must occur if the ecological and social problems presently facing us are to be transcended Their analysis relies on the development of a deep dialectical naturalism concerned with issues of ecology and evolution and their interaction with the economy Importantly they offer reasons for revolutionary hope in moving beyond the regime of capital and toward a society of sustainable human development Resources in Education ,1991
