General Principles and the Coherence of International Law Mads Andenas, Malgosia Fitzmaurice, Attila Tanzi, Jan Wouters, 2019-05-20 General Principles and the Coherence of International Law provides a collection of intellectually stimulating contributions from leading international lawyers to the discourse on the role of general principles in international law. Offering a comprehensive analysis of the doctrines, practices and debates on general principles of law, the volume assesses their role in safeguarding the coherence of the international legal system. This important book addresses the relationship between principles of law and the other sources of international law, explores the interplay between principles of law and domestic and regional legal systems, and the role of principles of law with regard to three specific regimes of international law: investment law, human rights law, and environmental law.

International Development Paul Battersby, Ravi Roy, 2017-04-24 How can we lay the foundation for a more just and peaceful world? How can we prevent communications from fracturing and societies from tearing themselves apart? How should we prioritise economic, social and cultural demands for resources and opportunities? This book answers these questions and presents a view of development in practice. Written by experts in the field, the book covers a range of contemporary developments as well as providing coverage of the theory and practice of international development. The book covers a range of contemporary topics such as global security, new technologies, ethics and learning, and participation. Has chapters on Global Health and Development in Practice, Environmentally Sustainable Development in Practice, and Corruption and Development. Features learning objectives, summaries, reading lists, and questions for discussion. Works as a practice-driven text packed with case studies. Global in perspective and full of everything you need to know, this is your go-to book for your studies in International Development.

Forming a Global Community Joseph de Rivera, 2022-10-18 To address global problems such as pandemics, warming, economic inequality, mass migration, and widespread terrorism, Joseph de Rivera argues that we must form a global community. A community of eight billion humans is difficult to conceive. However, it can be imagined and created if we transform our understanding of who humans are and what community entails. We can understand who persons are, how they are motivated, and how a community can be conceived in a way that offers an alternative to individualism and collectivism. The mutualism that is proposed provides a moral compass for navigating the challenges that confront us and encourages specific governing structures, political economies, and rituals that will further the formation of a global community. Based on the philosophical analysis of John Macmurray, the author's argument relies on an extensive review of the current literature on self-personhood, emotional motivation, social identity, forms of community, and religious and secular rituals. Interdisciplinary in nature, it aims to direct philosophy and the social sciences to the challenges of globalism and the creation of a global community.

Women's History in Russia Marianna Muravyeva, Natalia Novikova, 2014-11-19 This collection of essays, all by Russian scholars, is the first of its kind to address a broad English-speaking audience. It presents the theories and methodologies employed by Russian national historiography to make sense of Russian gender and women's history. The essays in this volume discuss women's and gender history in Russia, highlighting sensitive areas in the Russian academic community and in Russian society in general. The book appears in the context of an intense backlash against t
