Diffraction Reading Kai Merten, 2021-05-27 Putting the New Materialist figure of diffraction to use in a set of readings in which cultural texts are materially read against their contents and their themes against their readers or against other texts this volume proposes a critical intervention into the practice of reading itself In this book reading and reading methodology are probed for their materiality and re considered as being inevitably suspended between or diffracted with both matter and discourse The history of literary and cultural reading including poststructuralism and critical theory is revisited in a new light and opened up for a future in which the world and reading are no longer regarded as conveniently separate spheres but recognized as deeply entangled and intertwined Diffraction Reading ultimately represents a new reading of reading itself firstly by critiquing the distanced perspective of critical paradigms such as translation and intertextuality in which texts encountered processed or otherwise subdued secondly showing how all literary and cultural readings represent different agential cuts in the world text reader constellation which is always both discursive and material and thirdly the volume materializes dynamizes and politicizes the activity of reading by drawing attention to reading's intervention in and co creation of the world in which we live

Female Celebrity and Ageing Deborah Jermyn, 2016-04-29 Female Celebrity and Ageing Back in the Spotlight interrogates the myriad ways in which celebrity culture constructs highly visible ideologies of femininity and ageing and how ageing female celebrities have negotiated the media in a variety of industrial historical and national contexts In the era when the baby boomers have started drawing their pensions the boundaries of what constitutes old age have never seemed more fluid and ageing has never been presented by advertisers and marketers in a more dynamic fashion However the fact remains that ageing is still widely feared and growing old is an inherently gendered process in which ageing women are paradoxically both rendered invisible and subjected to damning scrutiny Nowhere is this conflicting state of affairs more evident than in celebrity culture where ageing female stars are praised for growing old gracefully one moment and condemned for letting themselves go the next when they fail to age appropriately Examining a variety of themes and ageing women in the spotlight from Barbara Stanwyck to Madonna to Charlotte Rampling the essays collected here forge new critical and conceptual insights into how women grow older in the media and the implications of this for what Susan Sontag memorably called the double standard of ageing This book is based on a special issue of Celebrity Studies Cross Generational Relationships and Cinema Joel Gwynne, Niall Richardson, 2020-07-21 Depictions of cross generational relationships have always been present in popular cinema While such relationships have historically operated within the framework of heteronormativity and have usually explored cross generational romance in the context of older men younger women contemporary depictions have expanded to focus also on taboo configurations of love between older women and younger men and cross generational LGBT coupledness Contemporary depictions have sought to complicate not only heteronormativity in cross generational relationships but also to navigate the differences between socially acceptable love and transgressive desire This collection focuses on the changing values and attitudes of cross generational relationships and addresses the often divisive relationship between the discourses of youth and ageing in popular culture
