Romain Gary Ralph

Schoolcraft,2012-05-26 In this book Ralph Schoolcraft explores the extraordinary career of the modern French author film director and diplomat a romantic and tragic figure whose fictions extended well beyond his books Born Roman Kacew he overcame an impoverished boyhood to become a French Resistance hero and win the coveted Goncourt Prize under the pseudonym and largely invented persona Romain Gary Although he published such acclaimed works as The Roots of Heaven and Promise at Dawn the Gaullist traditions that he defended in the world of French letters fell from favor and his critical fortunes suffered at the hands of a hostile press Schoolcraft details Gary's frustrated struggle to evolve as a writer in the eye of a public that now considered him a known quantity Identifying the daring strategies used by this mysterious character as he undertook an elaborate scheme to reach a new readership Schoolcraft offers new insight into the dynamics of authorship and fame within the French literary institutions In the early 1970s Gary made his departure from the conservative literary establishment publishing works that boasted a quirky elliptical style under a variety of pseudonymous personae the most successful of which was that of an Algerian immigrant by the name of Emile Ajar Moving behind the mask of his new creation Gary was able to win critical and popular acclaim and a second Goncourt in 1975 But as Schoolcraft suggests Gary may have sold his shadow that is lost his authorial persona by marketing himself too effectively Going so far as to recruit a cousin to stand in as the public face of this phantom author Gary kept the secret of his true authorship until his violent death in 1980 from a self-inflicted gunshot wound The press reacted with resentment over the scheme and he was shunned into the ranks of literary oddities Schoolcraft draws from archives of the several thousand documents related to Gary housed at the French publishing firms of Gallimard and Mercure de France as well as the Butler Library at Columbia University Exploring the depths of a story that has long remained shrouded in mystery Romain Gary The Man Who Sold His Shadow is as much a fascinating biographical sketch as it is a thought-provoking reflection on the assumptions made about identities in the public sphere The Stranger in Early Modern and Modern Jewish Tradition Catherine Bartlett,Joachim Schlör,2021-07-15

Throughout history Jews have often been regarded and treated as strangers In The Stranger in Early Modern and Modern Jewish Tradition authors from a wide variety of disciplines discuss how the notion of the stranger can offer an integrative perspective on Jewish identities on the non-Jewish perceptions of Jews and on the relations between Jews and non-Jews in an innovative way Contributions from history philosophy religion sociology literature and the arts offer a new perspective on the Jewish experience in early modern and modern times in contact and conflict in processes of attribution and allegation but also self-reflection and negotiation focused on the figure of the stranger A Month by the Lake & Other Stories Herbert Ernest Bates,1987 If we set H.E. Bates's best tales against the best of Chekhov's Graham Greene declared I do not believe it would be possible with any conviction to argue that the Russian was the finer artist The sampler of H.E. Bates stories presented here shows the merit of that praise and displays the range and aspects of Bates's work from his first published story The Flame to one of his very last The Song of the Wren In his long and prolific literary career Bates 1905-1974 produced twenty five novels a three volume autobiography nine books of essays several plays and children s books as well as his important and perhaps most enduring achievement twenty three collections of short stories A Month by the Lake Other Stories displays Bates s extraordinary talent for concisely getting at the heart of the matter Whether he is dealing with romance in middle age the title story or the almost painful clarity of a child s world The Cowslip Field or encapsulating the disintegration and tragedy of a man and a house and the era and class they represent The Flag Bates s compassion for humanity remains constant As Anthony Burgess remarks in his introduction Bates achieved such sovereignty of what literary land he inherited that he deserves the homage of our uncomplicated enjoyment Bates s affection for ordinary people is one of his shining virtues But he himself as I knew and as this compilation should make clear was is far from ordinary Book jacket

On the Sovereignty of Mothers Gil Anidjar, 2024-11-19 Paternal patriarchal and fraternal concepts metaphors and images have long dominated thinking about politics But the political Gil Anidjar argues has always been maternal In a series of finely woven meditations on slavery sovereignty and the social contract this book places mothers and mothering at the crux of political thought Anidjar identifies a maternal sovereignty and a maternal contract showing that without motherhood there could be no constitution preservation or reproduction of collective existence in time And maternal power is also power over life and death as he reveals through a nuanced consideration of abortion Through the concept of the maternal Anidjar offers new insights into abiding sources from the Bible and ancient Greece to classical and modern political philosophy the story of Hagar and Sarah Oedipus and his two mothers Hegel s dialectic of master and slave reinterpreted in light of Black and feminist criticism psychoanalytic theory and autotheoretical reflection Elegantly written and provocative On the Sovereignty of Mothers offers the maternal as a new frame for understanding the political order

Impostors Christopher L. Miller, 2018-12-10 Miller takes us on an exciting tour of postcolonial and world literature guiding us through the literary maze of the real and the pretenders to the real Ngugi wa Thiong'o author of Wizard of the Crow Writing a new page in the surprisingly long history of literary deceit Impostors examines a series of literary hoaxes deceptions that involved flagrant acts of cultural appropriation This book looks at authors who posed as people they were not in order to claim a different ethnic class or other identity These writers were in other words literary usurpers and appropriators who trafficked in what Christopher L Miller terms the intercultural hoax In the United States such hoaxes are familiar Forrest Carter s The Education of Little Tree and JT LeRoy s Sarah are two infamous examples Miller s contribution is to study hoaxes beyond our borders employing a comparative framework and bringing French and African identity hoaxes into dialogue with some of their better known American counterparts In France multiculturalism is generally eschewed in favor of universalism and there should thus be no identities in the American sense to steal However as Miller demonstrates this too is a ruse French universalism can only go so far and do so much There is plenty of otherness to appropriate This French and Francophone tradition of imposture has never received the study it deserves Taking a novel approach to this understudied tradition Impostors examines hoaxes in both countries finding similar practices of deception and questions of harm In this fascinating study of intercultural literary hoaxes Christopher L Miller provides a useful brief history of American literary impostures as a backdrop for his investigation of France s literary history of ethnic usurpation Henry Louis Gates Jr New York Times bestselling author

Cultural Fusion of Sufi Islam Sarwar Alam, 2019-08-19 It has been argued that the mystical Sufi form of Islam is the most sensitive to other cultures being accommodative to other traditions and generally tolerant to peoples of other faiths It readily becomes integrated into local cultures and they are similarly often infused into Sufism Examples of this reciprocity are commonly reflected in Sufi poetry music hagiographic genres memoirs and in the ritualistic practices of Sufi traditions This volume shows how this often side lined tradition functions in the societies in which it is found and demonstrates how it relates to mainstream Islam The focus of this book ranges from reflecting Sufi themes in the Qur'anic calligraphy to movies from ideals to everyday practices from legends to actual history from gender segregation to gender transgression and from legalism to spiritualism. Consequently the international panel of contributors to this volume are trained in a range of disciplines that include religious studies, history, comparative literature, anthropology and ethnography. Covering Southeast Asia to West Africa as well as South Asia and the West, they address both historical and contemporary issues, shedding light on Sufism's adaptability. This book sets aside conventional methods of understanding Islam such as theological, juridical and philosophical in favour of analysing its cultural impact. As such, it will be of great interest to all scholars of Islamic Studies, the Sociology of Religion, Religion and Media as well as Religious Studies and Area Studies more generally.

Literature of the Holocaust Alan Rosen, 2013-11-14. During and in the aftermath of the dark period of the Holocaust, writers across Europe and America sought to express their feelings and experiences through their writings. This book provides a comprehensive account of these writings through essays from expert scholars covering a wide geographic, linguistic, thematic and generic range of materials. Such an overview is particularly appropriate at a time when the corpus of Holocaust literature has grown to immense proportions and when guidance is needed in determining a canon of essential readings, a context to interpret them and a paradigm for the evolution of writing on the Holocaust. The expert contributors to this volume, who negotiate the literature in the original languages, provide insight into the influence of national traditions and the importance of language, especially but not exclusively Yiddish and Hebrew, to the literary response arising from the Holocaust.
