Lautréamont's Imagery Peter W. Nesselroth, 1969 Political Ecumenism Geoffrey Adams, 2006-11-06 Adams examines the contributions of such major French writers as René Cassin, Pierre Mendès France and Jacques Soustelle and explores de Gaulle's troubled relations with Churchill and Roosevelt. The opportunity for Gaullists to offer full membership to the fourth religious family, Algeria's Muslim majority following the liberation of French North Africa, is also considered. In an epilogue, Adams reflects on the impact of Free France's political ecumenism in the postwar era.

Propaganda and Persecution Renée Poznanski, 2024-01-23 Renée Poznanski's magisterial history of the French Resistance during World War II offers a comprehensive exploration of the most significant issue in that period: the social imaginary of the Jewish question. With extraordinary nuance, she analyzes the discourse around Jews and Judaism that pervaded the Resistance's propaganda and debates while closely examining the fate of Jews under Vichy and after. Poznanski argues that Jews in France suffered a double persecution: one led by the Vichy government, the other imposed by the Nazis. Marginalization and exclusion soon led to internment and deportation to terrifying places. Meanwhile, a propaganda war developed between the Resistance and the official voice of Vichy. Poznanski draws on a breathtaking array of sources, especially clandestine publications and French language BBC transmissions, to show how the Resistance both fought and accommodated the deeply entrenched antisemitism within French society. Her close readings of propaganda texts against public opinions probe ambiguities and silences in Resistance writing about the persecution of the Jews and, in parallel, the numerous and detailed denunciations that could be read in the Jewish clandestine press. This extensive synthesis extends to the post-Liberation period during which the ongoing persecution of Jews in Europe and North Africa would be portrayed as secondary to the suffering of the nation. The winner of the 2009 Henri Hertz Prize by the Chancellerie des Universités de Paris Sorbonne, Propaganda and Persecution makes major contributions to the study of the Resistance and of antisemitism. Lenn J. Schramm's English translation brings Poznanski's dynamic prose to life.

Body Psychotherapy Vassilis Christodoulou, 2018-10-01 In some cases, the traumas spring up in front of us like targets created long ago that cannot be ignored. In many cases, however, we will have to do some groundwork; we will have to clear the way to dislodge obstacles blocking our path or to build to create supports and bridges to open up the way to the trauma and to healing A balanced person is a healthy person and a state of dynamic equilibrium is a healthy state to be in Whatever upsets the balance however deep down in the darkness of the unconscious it may be will show signs of life The longer we turn down the invitation to confront the trauma the more formidable the challenge of taking a fresh look at a case we thought had closed will seem Once our tendency to flee as quickly as we could from the pain of the trauma was the right response and indeed may even have saved us Now however we have different capabilities and more choices We hang on like survivors of a shipwreck to the old rickety raft battered by the stormy seas of our childhood and fail to see the calm waters we are now heading towards The tried and tested for mula that once saved us is no longer essential or the right method to use when both we and the world around us have changed When we refuse to recognise a simple feeling of malaise as a harbinger of something else we can expect other less persistent but clearly more effective states to follow panic attacks with sudden bolts from the blue the depression that deprives us of the joy of living the phobias that restrict our living space and other physical illnesses that desperately try before the final embrace of death to let us know what is happening in the depths of our being These are the things that restrict us and inspire fear in us yet these are also the things that speak to us of new pathways and possibilities Will we remain in the familiar security that the child clings to or will we as adults take the frightened child by the hand and with the therapy we offer lead it out into the light of day
